STATE CHAMPIONSHIP GOLF TOURNAMENT

Congdon Wins Qualifying Round with Score of 84.

DAVIS SECOND WITH AN 86

Some Surprise Shown at Large Number of High Scores—Players Do Well in Long Game, but Go to Pieces in Putting—Matches at Wannamoisett Club.

Many were the surprises at the Wannamoisett Country Club yesterday when the qualifying round of the championship tournament of the Rhode Island Golf Association under the auspices of the Rhode Island Golf Association. The surprises came in the high scores that were turned in, for there was hardly one of the first 20 players who should not have bettered his play by 10 strokes.

While the long game of most of the contestants was good, each was fell down on the short game, and appeared also to be decidedly putting. All of the same story on coming back to the club house with jagged blinks of putts that should Harold Congdon, whose short game is almost invariably perfect, missed putts, and he was not the only one. Ten feet, 12 feet, 15 feet, 20 feet, dropped into the cup and was dead sure that the ball made for it, when the ball popped out, hung on the lip, or else went a foot beyond the hole. This was a fair sample of the form of blinks which pursued some of the best men during the afternoon. Pope of Manhasset, who won the State championship last year, had a good long game, and had poor direction on a number of drives, barely missing being out of bounds.

H. Gardner, who should have been up in the first flight in the contest, lost to Fred Parker, who won against Gardner in 1904 and 1905. He will be good company, however, for Dave Fairchild or Metacomet, the new winner of the Silver Spoon for the first time this summer, is in his class this time. H. G. Mason of Metacomet, who could have qualified, for the consolation flight, and who gave W. Angell of Silver Spring and Dr. Matteson of Apawam a chance to get into the game, they were tied at 103 and were given the prize at sunrise for the last position in playing one hole. The latter end of the proposition was accepted, and while I was in bed the ball rounded the hole to rest, they proceeded to the first tee to grind out the prize, being followed by a large and enthusiastic gallery. Matteson lost his ball in the tall grass, but found it on the edge of the woods, and got into the game.

Congdon's social play was as follows:

Out.....4 5 4 5 4 4 3 5 4—38
In.....4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4—36

The first round, 18 holes, will be played this evening, beginning at 10 o'clock. The second round will be in order at 2 o'clock this afternoon and will also be 18 holes. The consolations, 18 holes for each round, will be on to-day and will follow immediately after the first 16 have teed off. The semi-finals, 18 holes, are scheduled for morrow afternoon and the finals, 36 holes, will be played Saturday morning. There will be no Middle-Handicap match, open to all participants in the tournament. Mr. Congdon holds the low medal score in yesterday's qualifying round, received a magnificent cup. # SECOND VICTORY BY VIM IN CUP RACE

Contest Third in Series Between American and German Boats.

AUK WITHDRAWS ON FOUL

Skipper Adams, in Shooting His Boat Across Vim's Stern, Swings New York Craft Around and Retires from Race—Tilly, VI. Finishes Second and Carambas Third.

Marblehead, Mass., Sept. 6.—To-day's race the third of the series between Germany's and American yachts for the Roosevelt cup was won by the Vim, owned by Commodore Rick of the American Yacht Club of New York. The Vim was the winner of yesterday's race, the second of the series. The victory of the New York boat to-day was made certain a mile and a half from the finish by the withdrawal of the Auk, owned by Clarence Rand Adams, and the winner of the first race of the series. The reason why the pilot withdrew his boat was she lost the Vim, and as Mr. Adams said, "he found the Vim, and there was nothing else to do." The Auk's withdrawal was the action of the owner of the Auk in voluntarily surrendering his opportunities of winning the cup, which is known in history as a small boat yachting in these waters is one of the most sportsmanlike acts ever seen.

The Tilly VI. (German) was the second boat to finish, but her victory was offset by her protest by the Westmoor (German) because of a foul, which took place on the last mile of the course. The protest of the Tilly was taken up for consideration by the racing committee after the crews had gone ashore, and it was generally understood that a decision would be made until Saturday morning.

The Carambas (American) was the third boat across the line 5 minutes and 40 seconds behind the Vim. The Vim came the Westmoor 10 seconds behind the Carambas, while the Dickerhof (German) brought up in the rear of nearly two minutes after the Westmoor.

The Jerome cup was entirely one between the American boats, Vim and Auk, as it has been today a day since the regatta started that the Vim and Auk were right a yacht race. On account of the weather of the Auk there was no way of ascertaining which of the two would give the race, but on account of the gameness of the Auk continuing after the Vim on the third leg of the course, the cup was awarded to it was generally conceded that the Auk would have been the winner.

The official finishing times follows:

| | Finish | Time. |
|---|---|---|
| Vim | 2:06:31 | 2:31:31 |
| Tilly VI. | 2:10:10 | 2:35:10 |
| Carambas | 2:08:50 | 2:35:50 |
| Westmoor | 2:08:40 | 2:35:40 |
| Dickerhof | 2:11:41 | 2:41:41 |

The finish of the Vim by the Auk occurred 5 minutes and 10 seconds. Both yachts were standing directly before the wind, with booms wide to starboard, and it looked as if the Auk would finish a mile from the finish line, but the set of the Vim's sails enough to take the Vim Mr. Adams suddenly hauled in the main sheet and shot his boat out across the line just skilful shown by the Vim and the Auk's foresail hooked into the outboard chain on the Vim's boom. The sheet of the Auk had been taken down almost double and swung her stern around, and caused her to lie over. The damage was not of any consequence, but in order to get back on the course Mr. Adams was obliged to go about and run away for the finish line. Mr. Adams was not at the wheel of the Auk at the time of the foul, and, trimming the sheets, said he "kept his mourning in the harbor."

Of the German challengers the best showing was made by the Westmoor, which, with another German boat, Wanty, and Quickpurt IV., were always in the lead. On Saturday the Westmoor was not till Vi held far off shore and defeated the Carambas for third place during the race. It was the generally opinion that the sailing of Tilly VI. to-day was the most skilful shown by the competitors since the series started.

The day was a most beautiful one for racing and a thrilled yachtsmen and enjoyed the contest. The two boats left the start of the course with board hauls as there was a fine breeze and fairly smooth sea, the conditions were ideal for the race. The course was a triangular one of seven and a half miles over the Marblehead Neck course, over Gov. Guild and staff witnessed the regatta from the bridge of the naval tender, which was the only one allowed to sail along the line. Upon the start the tide was in the harbor the yachts, officers of Boston Yacht Club made a formal call upon Gov. Guild and Lieutenant Governor Bachelder, after the Governor's flag had been hoisted at the mast of the flagship Constance when he was joined by Capt. Hebbing, Mr. Rand and Henry Howard, the German racing committee, went aboard the boat to inform the Governor.

CUP RACE FOR SMALL BOATS.

The Vim, Chewink VII. and Boniface Win Jerome Cup in Evening.

Marblehead, Mass., Sept. 6.—Major Charles Hayden of Boston, an old-time camp on the staff of Gov. Guild, announced yesterday that he would offer a trophy to be raced for by three of the little yachts which were built to meet the Herald Hayden.

Major Hayden selects the Chewink VII., formerly the Windram Kid, the Vim and the Boniface, as the yachts to sail for the cup. If the owners of the yachts named accept Major Hayden's offer the Chewink will be the defender after the Roosevelt cup races as possible.

The Vim is the only boat named by Major Hayden which is competing against the German boats. The Chewink VII. and the Boniface having been nominated defenders during the preliminary races here.

The Sterling trotter came home in the final heat and went beaten under the wire, Ethel Green finishing a good third. # MANY UPSETS IN STATE GOLF TOURNEY

Defeat of Congdon by Pope One of the Biggest Jolts.

RUST BEATEN BY DAY

Another Surprise Crops Out in History of Hancock Over Comstock, the Match Being the Sensational One in the Day's Play at Wannamoisett Club.

Many and hard were the falls experienced in the State golf tournament at the Wannamoisett Country Club yesterday. The end is with which some of the local cracks were put out of the running surprised everybody. Congdon, of the Agawam Hunt, was looked upon as sure to be in the finals, but he ran up against a hard proposition when he encountered Pope of Misquamicut and was outplayed at every point. Rust of Wannamoisett, who also has aspirations, went down before the ever-ready Day, who has done, but little golfing for the last two years, devoting himself almost exclusively to tennis. Rust felt so confident, it is rightly anticipated that he would have no difficulty in beating his opponent, Comstock, another promising candidate for the big cup, was tripped by Hancock in the sensational match of the day. It has been necessary to decide it.

The morning matches started at 10 o'clock for the first 16. Congdon had no difficulty in defeating Devlin of Pawtucket, but Pope had a little more work in disposing of Weeks, their match resulting 3 up and 1 to go. Day literally walked away with Short with the score of 6 up and 5 to go, and Rust did up the Watch Hill player, 3 up and 2 to go. The feature of the match between Clarke of Misquamicut and Vennerbeck of Montecrest was that of the first nine holes, but one was won, the other eight being halved in succession, the old hole going to Clarke. The next pair to tee off were Hancock and Comstock. The latter put up a working good game and Hancock was in fine fettle. The match was won on the 16th hole, the next four were halved 4, 4, 5 and 4 respectively. On the 21st hole Comstock pulled his drive into the tall grass, thereby losing a stroke and the match. The cards for this match were as follows:

| Hancock | | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Out | 4 | 5 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 5 | 5 | 6 | 2 | —43 |
| In | 5 | 4 | 5 | 4 | 4 | 5 | 4 | 5 | 3 | —39 |
| Extra | | 3 | 7 | 3 | | | | | | 17—106 |
| Comstock | | | | | | | | | | |
| Out | 4 | 5 | 4 | 4 | 4 | 5 | 7 | 5 | 5 | —43 |
| In | 5 | 5 | 4 | 5 | 4 | 5 | 4 | 5 | 4 | —42 |
| Extra | | | 7 | 3 | | | | | | 15—106 |

Pope and Congdon tied off first on the second round, and had not gone far before it was seen that the Misquamicut player was in for a hard fight. Pope, he played like a machine, driving hard and with precision, his short game being something heart-breaking, for his opponent Congdon drove well, but lost on his short game. He was two down on the first half. The 10th was halved in 5. Pope won the 11th, 12th and 14th in 5 to Congdon's 6 on each. The 16th and 18th were halved in 4 each and the 19th in 5, which gave the match to Pope 3 up and 2 to play. The cards for this match were:

| Pope | | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Out | 5 | 5 | 6 | 4 | 4 | 5 | 4 | 4 | 4 | —41 |
| In | 5 | 5 | 4 | 5 | 4 | 5 | 4 | 5 | 3 | —40—81 |
| Congdon | | | | | | | | | | |
| Out | 5 | 6 | 5 | 4 | 4 | 5 | 4 | 4 | 4 | —42 |
| In | 5 | 6 | 4 | 5 | 4 | 5 | 4 | 5 | 4 | —43—85 |

Day followed up this defeat of Congdon by worsting Rust. Clarke beat Brock Smith 3 up and 1 to go, and Hancock beat Kenworthy, the Metacomet crack, by the score of 2 up and 1 to go.

In the second round Fairchild, Gardner Parker and Kenyon played down through the first round of finals, which led to the conviction that Fairchild and Parker will be in the finals. The beaten eight in the first round of finals, which well known as reliable shots, Lieut. Benwell and Capt. Lemon, failed to hit the target at bow. Davis, Rhode Island, had one man, Lindbloh, who had a similar experience.

The results in the individual matches were posted this afternoon. The rapid-fire match was won by F. E. Tupperwin of Texas, who made 47. J. S. Roa was second, with 46.

The Hayes match was tied by Maj. A. Rowland of New Jersey and W. H. Hurlbut of Oakland, Cal., respectively. The Kuser rapid-fire match was won by A. F. Lauenstein.

The annual National Rifle Association match was won by Sergt H. Baptist of Massachusetts, with 48.

The all-comers military revolver match had three men tied for the winner, Maj. Bidwell of Connecticut, Lieut. Bidwell and J. A. Dietz of New York. Four men tied for the Second Regiment revolver match, J. C. Bunn, J. Rebouellet, Maj. Isbell of Connecticut, and N. S. Pehring of Brooklyn, with 72 each. Maj. A. A. Dietz won the Army revolver match, with 46, and Sergt. Anderton, formerly of Massachusetts, 1903 winner, Sergt. Anderton won the Hobbs revolver match. J. Dietz won the total match and the disappearing revolver match. In the skirmish, Sergt. Davison of the cavalry had 72 hits on the firing scores and 8 on the kneeling, making a total of 97.

C. H. Cordingley, Aquidneck, took 1st, J. Tuck, Pawtucket, 4 up, 3 to go.

J. S. Morten, Newport, beat H. Kendall, Metacomet, 2 up, 1 to go.

J. F. Parker, Silver Spring, beat W. Angell, Silver Spring, 3 up, 2 to go.

B. Weller, Wannamoisett, beat C. Langdon, Agawam, 3 up, 2 to go.

J. E. Reynolds, Metacomet, beat F. H. Hill Wannamoisett, 4 up, 3 to go.

Second Round

Fairchild beat Cady, 1 up, 1 to go.

Gardner beat Eyer, 2 up, 2 to go.

Parker beat Morten, 3 up, 2 to go.

Kenyon beat McKee, 1 up, 1 to go.

Beaten Eights, First Round.

Davis beat Vennerbeck, 1 up, 19 holes.

Sayles beat Burlbut, 3 up, 2 to go.

Hopkins beat Rhodes, 1 up, 42 to go.

Devlin beat Weeks, 5 up, 4 to go.

NICKALLS PICKS HARVARD.

Noted Oarsman Says Americans Show More Speed and Staying Powers.

Putney, Sept. 6.—The principal feature of the practice to-day was the disclosure of the fact that the Harvard crew evidently intended to employ in the race Saturday. Harvard this afternoon showed signs of to get away, at a 41 clip, and her supporters have no doubt that she will be in the race. A feature which is causing comment is the apathy the Oxonians are showing in the contest. Not a single member of the Oxford crew has visited the Cambridge headquarters. On the other hand, two members of the Yale crew made a special trip to Europe in order to be with their colleagues every success in their coming effort.

Vivian Nickalls, the well-known oarsman, who has critically watched the practice throughout and who has hitherto made no prophecy as to the result, to-days fulfils his promise to forecast the winner on the eve of the race. He declares whole-heartedly for Harvard, giving as the reason that the Americans, in his opinion, have shown more speed and staying power than their rivals in nearly all the trials.

NELSON OFF ON FISHING TRIP.

No Truth in Report That Dane Was Dangerously Ill.

Goldfield, Nev., Sept. 6.—The report that battling Nelson was dangerously ill and was likely to die as result of beating received at the hands of Gans Monday is so far from true that Nelson left Goldfield this morning for Truckee on a fishing trip. Aside from some nasal and internal hemorrhages Nelson was not severely hurt. He was beaten up, as natural consequences of frequent collisions with Gans' fists, but nothing more serious.

Nolan and his wife left for Chicago.

ENTREE WINS CRAPEHS STAKES, Hot Favorite Wins Feature Event After Rough Journey.

Special to The Journal.

New York, Sept. 6.—There was more good racing at the Bay to-day and a crowd of 15,000 turf enthusiasts turned out to enjoy a healthful outing. But the picking of winners was not an easy task by any means, the books breaking more than ever on the six results.

Frederick Johnstone's Entree, a receding favorite won the Crapehs stakes for 3-year-olds after a rough journey. He was knocked back at the start when Garner cut across the field with California King, but when the far turn Radtke saw a chance to get the rail by driving his horse 3 front of Ironsides, 11 to 5, and Maxie Witt, 4 to 1, both of whom were interfered with. Then Radtke went on with Entree and won the race by three parts of a length from Ironsides, with Moonshine, 15 to 1, a poor third. The summary:

First race, 6 furlongs—Goschen, 12 (Shaw), 7 to 1, 2 to 1, 1 to 1. Rust, 115 (Cicoli), 12 to 1, second. Pretestine, 110 (Sperling), 30 to 1, third. Time 1:14 1-5. Clare Russell, Frank Gill, Havana, Penny's and Breen also ran.

Second race, steeplechase, about 2 miles—Expansionist, 135 (Burlison), 10 to 1, 3 to 5, 1 to 5, 1 to 1, 1 to 1, 1 to 1

Jersey City 11, Providence 2.

From a Staff Correspondent of the Journal.

Jersey City, Sept. 7.—Manager Dunn to-day tried on another new pitcher, by the name of Beisel, who had been highly recommended as a phenom, but he was badly "busted" one at the end of the eighth inning. He had poor control, and when he got the ball over it was generally biffed to some far corner of the field. 14 Jersey binges being corralled off his delivery, including a double, by Cassidy, and three baggers by Clements and Grant. He walked five men and hit one during the melee. Dunn chased him to the bench in the eighth and pitched the game out himself. Disposing of the Skeeters on six pitched balls. Rode throwing Keister out at first. Selbach getting Halligan and Poland taking Vandegrift's fly. The champions were slaughtered by a score of 11 to 2.

The new man came from Plainfield and he went back again after the game. He said he had no idea the Eastern League was so fast. He was given great support in the field, the only slips being two wide throws to second by Barton in trying for base stealers who got a long start on the pitcher. The Grays started in on Moskiman like a battery of heavy artillery, the first three men up bunging him for safe hits, landing one run over the pan. A fast play by Cassidy, in which he got Harley at the plate after grounding Selbach at third, cut the batting test in two. After that the Jersey twirler was an Hittite, a single by Dunn and two by Storke being the sum total of the attack.

The Grays had no chance to play the points of the game, the home team going so fast with the wagon tongue as to force the visitors to slam the ball with might and main and trust to the guardian spirit of the team to guide it safely. The Skeeters were after hits and runs, forgetting at Beisel just as viciously in the seventh inning as they did in the first. It was the desire of Manager Dunn to get the game over with and get home that prompted him to send the aspirant for Eastern League pitching honors to the tall grass and finish the game himself. There was nothing to it all in the first inning, the only question being how many runs the Jersey City team would score. The Grays made two runs during the game. Poland started it off with a single, followed by Clements and Keister. He annexed second and took third on Harley's single to the infield, awaited the play to right for a single. Poland scoring. Selbach hit to Bean and was thrown out at first. Cassidy returned the ball to Vandergrift and Harley was nailed at the plate. Storke was thrown out by Rice.

The second run was landed in the sixth. With Clarke safe, Dunn hit a fine one to Bean and had the throw. Selbach grounded to Cassidy, Dunn landing safe and Clarke scampered home on Storke's long single to right.

Three singles and a Sacrifice counted for two runs in the second for the Skeeters, and three runs, a base on balls and a putout counted for three in the third. One more went up in the fourth on Clements's single, his steal of Second, Barton's wild throw and Cassidy's sacrifice to Selbach. With two down in the fifth, Vandergrift, Moskiman and Clements singled in succession, standing for a run. Grant's triple and Keister's single sent the former over in the sixth, and a base on balls, Clements's hook and attempted putout at the plate and Cassidy's double sent the three runs in that were made in the seventh.

Manager Dunn to-day ordered Old Brown to report at once and received an answer to-night that he would report in Providence Saturday. Brown has been pitching pretty fast ball during the past fortnight and it is Manager Dunn's intention to use him in one of the games against Baltimore, probably in one of the contests in the double-header Saturday at Melrose Park. # WANNSEE WINNER IN 4TH CUP RACE

German Challenger Defeats Auk and Caramba—Defenders.

VIM WITHDRAWS ON FOUL

Favorite in Series Collides with Caramba at Starting Line—Race a Two-Boat One, Between Winner and Auk Albatr All the Way—Light Breeze.

Marblehead, Mass., Sept. 8.—In a hard-fought contest over a windward and leeward course, the German yacht Wannsee, representing the Wannsee Sailing Club of Kiel, Germany, won to-day a race, the fourth of the series for the Roosevelt cup.

It was a glorious contest between the victor and the American yacht Auk, but the latter was beaten out for second place on the final run to the finish line by the Caramba. The honors won by the Wannsee were lessened only by the fact that the Vim, twice a victor in three races, withdrew from to-day's contest because she fouled the Caramba on the starting line. Nevertheless, the Wannsee was afraid of the Vim, she was a very fast boat in the conditions which prevailed to-day over a windward and leeward course. Her victory over the Auk was not in any way due to a fluke. Twice going to the windward marks she sailed a trim-and-tuck battle with the Auk and twice she was second and third on the outer mark, she reached, but on the second leg of the course, which was practically a usual run, she did down this much faster than any of the other contestants.

The choppy sea and light air which prevailed to-day were conditions which frequently exist at Kiel, where the Wannsee demonstrated that she was the best of the German-sender klasse boats and on this account she was sent to Marblehead to compete for the Roosevelt cup.

The Wannsee was better handled by Herr Frutzen than in any race she has sailed in here. She held closer to the wind than any of the fast contests for the cup, and perhaps the only mistake made by the German skipper to-day was when the Wannsee was about a mile from the weather mark, the second time the boats beat out to windward. Time and again on this leg the Wannsee crossed the bow of the Auk, and always tacked to weather in such a position as to break up the American boats wind. The mistake made by Herr Frutzen was his failure to follow the ancient rule of keeping between the second boat and the windward mark. He had the lead, after crossing the Auk's bow a half-mile from the turn, he held along on the port tack for quite a distance, instead on tacking, ship on the American boats weather bow. This put him in the lead to the windward mark. The Auk held along on the starboard tack with wind unhampered until she could almost fetch the turning mark, when she came about on the port tack. The Wannsee tacked to starboard, and barely crossed the Auk's bow, but this time Herr Frutzen fung his cutter about on the Auk's weather side by side the two yachts sailed along until 100 yards from the turning mark, when the Wannsee tacked ship for the mark. The German boat failed to make it, and the Auk, standing along on the port tack, still further, came about, and fetched the mark so closely that Mr. Adams was able to luff around 10 seconds ahead of the Wannsee. When the Wannsee once got headed for the finish line, however, she ran past the Auk.

The foling of the Caramba by the Vim was due to a general desire on the part of all the skippers except the one in charge of the Vim, to get a start on a leeward end of the line. Clustered around the starboard end of the starting line, some very close work was necessary to prevent any fouls taking place, and it was because the Caramba, Capt. Crosby, lifted the flag staff and the Caramba when one foot was in the Vim's lee, the Caramba's starboard tack with right of way, hit the Vim a light blow on the counter. The foul was reported by Capt. Clifford Buckman, skipper of the Vim, and, recognizing that he had been at fault, he withdrew from the race, if he won it, and withdrew from the contest and sent the boat back to her moorings.

There was little wind when the yachts were started, the afternoon breeze had windward, and, after a short time prevailing The Auk speedily bested the Tilly, sailing on the port tack. The Wannsee was given a magnificent ovation when she crossed the finish line.

Monday's race will be between the Vim, Auk and Wannsee, because, by the conditions of the contest, Capt. Crosby, of the Glucekauf, not having won a race in the first four, are eliminated. The race will be over a triangular course.

The official time of the race follows:

| | Finish. | Time. | Elpd. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Wannsee | 2:44:40 | 3:44:40 | |
| Caramba | 2:45:10 | 3:45:10 | |
| Auk | 2:47:20 | 3:47:20 | |
| Tilly VI | 2:50:10 | 3:50:10 | |
| Glueckauf IV | 2:50:10 | 3:50:10 | |
| Vim withdrew. | | | |

The umpires, who have been sailing during the last two days on the protest of the Wannsee against the Vim, for alleged foul at the start of Thursday's race, decided late to-night that the Wannsee's protest was not sustained, and that the Tilly is entitled to second prize in that contest.
