

STATE GOLF CROWN GOES TO FAIRCHILD

Deciding Round Finds Linton In Poor Form.—Score 9 and 8.

VICTOR'S WORK IMPRESSIVE

Play During Tournament Very Steady and of Highest Order. Schwarz Beats Collett 1 Up, 19 Holes, in Final of Sixteen Eight (Second Sixteen).

Denny Fairchild is the State champion in golf for the season of 1924. Paying in the final over the links of the Wampanoag Country Club yesterday Fairchild defeated Jesse Linton of the Pawtucket Golf Club, 9 up and 8 to play in anything but an interesting contest. Linton played far below form and was almost always in trouble. It was his weakness in the short game, however, that contributed largely to his defeat.

Fairchild's game in the morning was also the poorest he has shown during the tournament. He was 6 going out and 40 coming in, with a total of 46. Linton made a 6 on the first nine holes and 48 coming in, with a total of 54. In the afternoon, however, the Wampanoag golfer played an entirely different brand of golf and registered a 3 for nine holes. Linton picked up and conceding the contest to Fairchild when he slammed into the bunker guarding the green of the 10th hole. Linton played better than in the morning and scored a 4 for the nine holes, a brilliant two on the eighth hole helping to keep his score down. His drive was the prettiest stroke of the match. Putting from the edge of the green, he sent the ball into the cup.

The State tournament, so far as setting the championship and leadership in the various 18, concluded yesterday afternoon. A 36-hole handicap will be played to-day, only those entered in the championship tournament being eligible to compete. The weather has been all that could be desired and Elery L. Wilson and Herbert A. Rose, representing the Rhode Island State Golf Association, are entitled to a word of credit for the smooth way in which the tournament has been run.

Fairchild in his match against Linton started out a big favorite. All through the week his playing has been of the highest order. Winning the prize for the best qualifying score, he went out day after day turning in cards under 40 for the 18 holes, and one of the days tying the record of Francis Outmat. Playing the afternoon round against Linton yesterday he had a chance to smash the record until the match was brought to a close at the 10th hole.

There was nothing to feature the morning's play, with the exception that Linton finished the first nine holes even. He was 2 up on Fairchild at one point. But in the last nine holes he fell even badly and Fairchild finished 8 up for the morning round.

Fairchild's card:

Morning—
Out 6 6 4 7 4 6 4 4 5-45
In 5 4 5 4 4 2 5 5 4-40-45
Afternoon—

One of the best matches of the day was that between George H. Collett and H. P. Schwarz in the finals for the second sixteen. The latter won, but only after 19 holes had been played. Collett led 1 up at the 12th hole, but a couple of fluffs put him in a bad position and Schwarz tied the match at the 13th hole. He also won the 19th by clever playing, added to Collett's poor work.

It was nip and tuck all through the match, however, and both men obtained good medal scores.

H. B. Rust, Jr., and H. Bramham also had a battle royal in the finals for the third sixteen. Rust won 2 up after Bramham had led him the greater part of the match. At the 16th hole Bramham was 2 up and only 4 to go. Rust then started to play and scoring close to par on each of the other holes, he finished 1 up.

The summary:

CHAMPIONSHIP ROUND—
D. Fairchild beat J. Linton, 8-4.

HALL DEFEATS KASHIRO IN FINAL OF TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Victor Plays Well in Middle States Challenge Match To-day. Walter Merrill Hall of New York defeated Kashiro of Japan, three sets out of five, in the final round of the Middle States championship singles on the courts of the Orange Lawn Tennis Club here to-day.

The Japanese player was twice within a point of winning in the fifth set, when the American fought him with slashing fore-court drives and Amateurs. Reserves: Smith, Shaw and Hilder. Score: C. Walker. This game will commence at 2:30 p. m. and is free to the public. Take Arlington cars to the grounds.

The good old brass band will give you a line on what blend means

EVERYBODY pricks up his ears when the band begins to play. Whether Mr. Berlin or John W. Mozart is your favorite composer, we've all got to hand it to the brass band for real music.

Whether it's John Philip Sousa's trained troupe of performing music, bounds, or Alexander's ragtime bunch, whether it's Signor Vermicelli who does a war-dance at every concert, or the little bunch of enemy aliens playing in front of Casey's at the corner—

We're all strong for the brass band. And the better they blend together, the better you like them. Isn't that so?

Get that word blend.

It's the real inside stuff about more things than band music.

The blend idea has made Mecca the favorite cigarette with over a million smokers.

There are twelve mighty choice tobaccos used in Mecca cigarettes—five Turkish and seven American—but you don't taste the flavor of any one of them separately when you take a deep drag. The only flavor you get is the good old Mecca flavor.

No one tobacco has everything you want in a cigarette.

Each of the twelve tobaccos in Mecca cigarettes is picked for a special purpose. One for fragrance, another for smoothness, still another, for body—to let you know you're really smoking—and so on down the line.

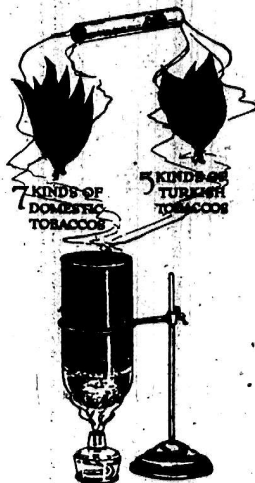

Here's how the still-blending process works. The different tobaccos are not just mixed, but are placed together in the blending still. Then most heat is passed through until all the different flavors are drawn into one—the flavor that has made Mecca cigarettes the favorite with over a million smokers.

MECCA

FROM NEW YORK TO SAN FRANCISCO
IS 3200 MILES

Every week enough Mecca cigarettes are made to reach from New York to San Francisco. 750,000,000 Mecca cigarettes in 3200 miles.

Still-Blended

By the Mecca still-blending process, moist heat is passed through these twelve selected tobaccos. The full rich flavor of each is drawn out and merged into one, much as the full flavor of tea is drawn out by steeping. Only in this way can be obtained the Mecca flavor.

Full, the champion, in the challenge match to-morrow.
