

FAIRCHILD MEDALIST

IN STATE GOLF MEET

Champion Leads Record Field in Qualification Test at R. I. Country Club With 152.—Rooks

His Nearest Competitor

BY HAROLD P. FARRINGTON.
An interesting chapter was added to the annals of Rhode Island golf history yesterday when Dan Fairchild, the present amateur champion of the State, from Wansanisset, romped around the Rhode Island Country Club course in the 152-stroke, which won the low score medal.

This is not the best part of it, for Dan broke the amateur record for the whole second round with a card of 71 in one of the most brilliant exhibitions of golf ever seen in this State. A glance at Fairchild's afternoon round, which is shown at the top of the summary, needs little elaboration. It was a perfect golf on four holes and nearly perfect on the two remaining holes. From the time he left the first tee up to the 14th green he had a string of 41 in 41 strokes, which is a record for the whole second round.

At the end of the morning round, Teddy Hancock and Ralph Rooks of Wansanisset, tied for second place at 153. Hancock, Agawam, and Arthur Bullock, Wansanisset, tied for third place at 154. H. E. Kenworthy, Pawtucket, and G. H. Collett, Mettenet, were tied for fourth place at 155. The scores scored upward to over 190 marks.

Fairchild came from behind and wound up six strokes ahead of his nearest opponent, H. D. Haines, the recent Newport champion. Hancock slipped a few pegs with poor putting in the main reason, and failed to finish his round with a card of 71. Hancock held the third place, with totals of 154, while Bullock added into a tie for ninth place. Collett had two 7s for his inward halves, which were the best for this half of the course for anyone except the leader.

Dr. C. H. Gardner's total of 84 for the morning round tells little of what he went through. He had a 10 at the fourth hole, being out of bounds in an unplayable lie, in a trap, in the pond, barely over the pond on his next and finally dropping in. He was not all for the fifth hole he required eight.

With two such terrible holes in a round it was remarkable that he should not be out, but he did so at the 25th, 34th, 35th and 36th, which took considerable time.

REFEREE QUESTION SET BY YET

Admission of Deadlock Reached After Conference.

RICKARD WILLARD'S CHOICE

Another Report Has It That Dempsey's Manager Would Insist on Either Welch or Brown—Challenger Works Hard, but Champion Takes It Easy.

Tonight, June 23, Rickard, promoter of the heavyweight championship contest between Jack Willard and Jack Dempsey here July 4, tonight held a meeting with Jack Willard, his manager, and officials of the Army, Navy and Civilian Board of Boxing Control in an effort to solve the problem of selecting a referee to judge the contest. It was admitted that a deadlock had been reached.

W. A. Gavin, a member of the executive committee of the board, and a former secretary, profess to believe that the situation is not a serious one, and believe that the question will be settled within two or possibly three days. They attribute the difficulty in naming the referee to the fact that the natural irritability which is always characteristic of athletes before an important contest.

Reports were current tonight that Willard had declared that he would accept Rickard as referee and no one else. Another report was to the effect that Rickard would insist upon either Welch or Brown. Rickard is a resident of New York. Willard is expected to be here in a few days. Rickard is a resident of New York. Willard is expected to be here in a few days.

of the course of the two holes of high figures. Gardner, qualified in a tie for sixth place with a 78 in the afternoon. This was the best single round of the day outside of Fairchild's record-breaking card, and showed a 3 at the 5th, 5 at the 10th, a 2 at the 12th, and another 2 at the 15th.

Marshall Macdonald, who tied with the doctor with 82-73, was one of the few to get under 80 in either round. He had a 2 on the fifth and 11th to help his afternoon total.

Players with scores of 171 and better qualified for this year's championship with E. L. Crabfall and H. R. Newell tied at this figure for the 14th place. They will have to play off at 150 this morning for this position with the winner playing Ted Hancock in the championship, and the loser dropping into the second figure "next" round.

Some of the players blamed their downfall to the green while the putting surfaces were slippery, they were true, and it was the player's fault and not the green that were to blame when three or more putts were required.

To show just what some of the players did on each of the holes, the best ball and the worst ball for the round is summarized.

There was a difference of 10 strokes between the best and the worst of the players scored on the various holes, and still there were birdies missing in six holes.

The drawing for match play is a very even one with the low scores of yesterday well divided. Two rounds will be completed today and then a double semi-final and final matches on Thursday and Friday. The players who are beaten this morning will drop into beaten eight flights and continue Thursday.

The matches will start promptly as scheduled and in the event of a default the committee should be an information as early as possible. Two players failed to show up for the play yesterday, one of whom was disqualified himself, and one returned a no card. This was an exceptional showing in such a large field.

The scores starting lines and drawings for match-play follow. It will be noted that the second division is the first to play, followed by the third, then the third and fourth flights.

A second shot that was hit upon the green, shook the other players out of the hole, and the winner, Daniel Fairchild, was able to get the hole in one. The runner-up, J. A. Gammons, was defeated by C. C. H. Gardner 8-7 in the semi-final round of the state tourney at Rhode Island C. C.

RED SOX PLAYERS TRADED TO ATHLETICS

Wins Free-For-All Pace

Roan Hal, 1894, a fast-footed son of Hal de Facto, and owned by W. B. Eckert of Reading, Pa., a millionaire sportsman, who races for fun and glory, and who has been a member of the Red Sox track in record time yesterday in the first heat of the free-for-all race. No new park was established, but the winning equalled the record set for the same several years ago by Alton Wills and Major Brino and tied in 1910 by Jennie W.

Under the skillful rearmament of Kline the race opened the decision in which the only serious opposition coming in the opening round was when Plummer, who had the mount on Oro Fino, 1924, made a charge that was the best, and forced the Pennsylvania pacer to stop the quarter in 2:08, the half 1:10, the mile 2:20 and the two miles 4:40. The race was won by the Red Sox.

Not once in the race was Roan Hal seen. He was the pole in the first mile and he never lost it. Don Earl, driven by Coakley, and May Bird, with Fox up, were the other mainstays, but they lacked the speed yesterday to give Roan Hal.

The best racing of the card dropped out in the 2:15 trot, in which Harry Brown, who was the pole, was the best but it was anything but a satisfactory win for him. With nothing really worth to fight for, Brown gave up the race to a war son of Mellick's a winning record of 2:15, the mark being hung up in the second heat. Although it was a fact that the gelding was pulled almost to the finish, the race was won by the Red Sox.

Although Parion came through with another decision in the third heat, Chester, who was the pole, was the best in the fourth and then showed a clean pulling in the fifth and sixth. Another was added in the second on two hits and a steal, a double play ending the inning. Newport went into the fifth with four runs needed to tie and circumstances should consist of free-lancing, with Newport going to bat first. Puffer was too much of the victors and, aided by Cardwell, held them without a hit until the fourth inning, when a series of errors and a putout save a run. A double, followed by a single, gave another in the fourth.

In the meantime the Providence team had tried to run, scoring two runs in the fourth. Another was added in the second on two hits and a steal, a double play ending the inning. Athletics Draw Barry and Strunk in Deal—No Money Involved

New York, June 26.—Jack Barry and Al Strunk, of the Boston American League team, were today traded to the Philadelphia Athletics in exchange for Bobby Roth and Maurice Shannon. Owner Harry Frazee, of the world champion Athletics, announced the deal, stating that the two new players would be in the lineup when the team made its debut on absolutely even terms.

Both Barry and Strunk were members of Connie Mack's famous baseball machine several years ago and their return to the Athletics is a tribute to the nature of a reconstruction, in part, of the combination which was considered one of the best in the history of professional game. Barry plays either first or second, while Strunk is an outfielder.

Roth is an outfielder and Shannon a second baseman. The batting averages of the new players are as follows: Barry, .25; Shannon, .27; Strunk, .26, and Barry, .25.
