TEXTILE WINS 1-0 BEFORE 3000 FANS

Finishing Team Spoils Hopes of Tate-Cranston of Taking Lead in Race

TWO HITS OFF LATRAVERSE

Big Left-Hander in Excellent Form, Shading Fallon by Slight Margin—Cole's Hit Wins Game

Textile Finishing won from Tate-Cranston at Kinsley Park yesterday afternoon before a crowd of 3000 in one of the best games played in the Manufacturers' League this year, by the score of 1 to 0.

Cole's single to left centre scored Ricci, who had singled and was advanced to second when Beauregard walked.

La Traverse connected for only two hits off La Traverse while Tittle got to Fallon for five bingles. A victory for Tate-Cranston would have anchored them in first place. La Traverse was master of the situation throughout, allowing only one man to reach second, Swanson hitting a two-base hit to deep centre. The seventh was the only inning where the victors got two hits in one inning, which spelled defeat for the Tate-Cranston bunch. Cole and Brown, the catchers on each team, did not allow a man to steal second, both holding men very close to the bases and playing their positions creditably. Heaney robbed McKitchen of a two-base hit in the eighth inning when he made a running catch of his fly.

JAPAN ADOPTS BASEBALL AND TENNIS NATIONAL GAMES

Both sports extensively and skillfully played by natives. (Correspondence of the Associated Press) Tokyo, June 22.—Baseball and lawn tennis have been adopted as national sports by new Japan. The former has long been popular at the university, and American colleges sending teams over have now to choose of their best to stand any chance of winning against the stars of Waseda, Kelo and other universities, as was proved by the failure of Indiana University to win more than one match on its recent tour. Other schools are taking up the game, while every vacant lot and wide street has its quota of coming stars of the diamond.

Lawn tennis is becoming equally popular and whereas a few years ago the cups and prizes went to foreign players living in Japan, now they are won by Japanese. In this year's tournament of the Tokyo Club most of the foreigners, and there are many good players among them, were eliminated in the early stages. The interest taken in the game is

Signor Haugdahl Makes New Record

Edmonton, Alta. July 10.—Sig Haugdahl, broke his own world's record for a mile and a half on a dirt track here Saturday. His time was 1:01 1/4, a fifth of a second better than the mark he made at Calgary and also on a Nebraska track.

The crankshaft of Haugdahl's machine broke as he was drawing into the pits, just after crossing the finish line.

at its second national tournament to be held in the fall of 1923. A large number of girls' schools are taking up the sport, and since his return, Mr. Kunagae, the international player, and Mr. Nomura, the national champion, have played exhibition games at these schools to give the girls an insight into the game.

To a lesser extent Japanese girls have taken up athletic sports, 200 of them competing in a recent meet in Tokio.

CUP TRUSTEES TO PASS ON MAYFLOWER'S ELIGIBILITY

Boston Schooner Has Had Successful Fishing Season.

Portland, Me., July 10.—A meeting between the Canadian trustees of the International Fishermen's Trophy and the American race committee will be held here July 22. A conference arranged for yesterday was postponed because of the inability of the Canadians to attend.

One of the matters to come before this meeting, it was stated, was the eligibility of the American schooner Mayflower to take part in elimination trials for the choice of a challenger for the trophy, which was won last year by the Canadian schooner Bluenose. The Mayflower, ruled out last season on the ground that she was not a bona-fide fisherman, claims a highly successful fishing record on the Banks this year.

NEWPORT INVITATION TENNIS ON TO-DAY

Four Matches in Singles and Doubles Carded for First Round

Late yesterday afternoon the draw for the invitation women's tennis tournament that begins at the Newport Casino court to-day was made. In this first round Miss Rosamond Newton of Boston meets Mrs. Benjamin Briggs, Mrs. Harger Wallach meets Mrs. Culver McWilliams, Mrs. N. W. Niles meets Miss Helen Willis and Miss Leslie Bancroft, winner of the State title last week, will play the winner of the latter match.

In the doubles Mrs. Lewis G. Morris and Mrs. George D. Wildener are paired against Mrs. Briggs and Mrs. Arthur Scott Burden, Mrs. Niles and Mrs. Henry Grey are paired against Miss Bancroft and Miss Florence Loew. Mrs. Wallach and Mrs. William Goodby Loew meet the winners of the first match and Miss Newton and Mrs. McWilliams, the winners of the second match.

MOUGIER WINS GRAND PRIX FOR PASSENGER AUTOMOBILES

Covers 441 Miles in Little More Than 6 1/2 Hours at Strasbourg.

Strasbourg, July 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Mougier won the Grand Prix for passenger automobiles today, covering the course of a little less than 441 miles in six hours 35 minutes 9 2/4 seconds, or an average of nearly 67 miles an hour. Duray finished second and Gauderman third, respectively two and seven minutes behind the winner.

Conditions for the race, the first of the kind to be held in France, provided that the cars should weigh 3000 pounds, be equipped with four seats and carry three passengers with a dead weight of 80 pounds each, in lieu of passengers. The driver had no mechanic and had to carry a full supply of gasoline and oil for the entire trip when he started.

To-day's race closed the Strasbourg meet.

KALAMAZOO GRAND CIRCUIT OPENS TO-DAY; 20 ENTRIES

Indications Point to Best Meeting Ever Held on Track.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 10.—Trotters and pacers of the Grand Circuit open a five-day meeting here to-morrow with every indication pointing to the most successful programme ever held here. All the chief stakes are represented and each of the week's 20 events is well filled.

The richest stake is scheduled for Wednesday, when the Paper Mills purse of $3000 for the 2:08 trot is to be staged. The following day will bring the Columbia Hotel purse of $3000, offered for the 2:13 trot. In addition there are four events worth $2000.

The early closing events this season brought the largest entry lists in the 14 years of Grand Circuit meetings here and in addition to the better-known horses of the circuit several new ones are slated to appear.

A perfect track holds out the promise of rare speed.

Sarazen to Play in Montreal.

Montreal, July 10.—Gene Sarazen of Pittsburgh, new open golf champion of the United States, will compete in the Canadian open championship over the links of the Mount Bruno Club, beginning July 28, it was announced to-night. Sarazen's entry was received last week.

72 GOLFERS NAMED IN STATE TOURNEY

Cream of Rhode Island Players Start Championship Drive To-morrow.

ON COUNTRY CLUB LINKS

First Pair to Tee Off at 9 with Contestants Following Each Five Minutes Until 12 at Noon.

The cream of Rhode Island golfers will compete on the course of the Rhode Island Country Club at Nayatt to-morrow in the State Championship tourney. The entry list includes 72 of the best golfers in the State and compares favorably with last year's list of any Rhode Island tournaments. The course is in first-class condition and every effort has been made to have the greens as fast as at any time in the past. The fairway has been cut short and several improvements made since the last championship tournament was played there.

The players will drive from the back of the tee at each hole, which lengthens out the course and adds a difficult angle to the tourney.

ROOKS TURNS IN 164; LEADS IN STATE GOLF

Kenworthy, with 167, Stands Second in Qualifying Round at R. J. Country Club.—Many Top Notchers Fall by Wayside.

R. D. Rooks of the Metacomet Golf Club led the field home in the qualifying round of the State golf championship play on the links of the Rhode Island Country Club, overlooking Narragansett bay, yesterday. His total for the day, 164, was just three strokes lower than that of Harry Kenworthy of the same club. High scores were the rule rather than the exception, a stiff wind sweeping from the bay across the course, keeping down the driving average. Setting back the tees also had a great deal to do with the scoring. The course was in the best shape possible, however, and there is little excuse for those who failed to qualify.

An 181 or better was needed to qualify, and such strong golfers as J. A. Gammmons, Jesse Linton, Earl Crandall, H. F. MacColl and Dr. C. H. Gardner fell by the wayside. The large number of top notchers in Rhode Island golf who failed to qualify was one of the marked features of the opening day of play.

The field was started away early, the arrangements being perfect. They played in pairs, and the last to come in presented their cards for tabulation just before 7 o'clock. So far as Rooks and Kenworthy were concerned, the predictions did not go astray.

The latter took an 81 in the morning to an 84 for Rooks, but in the afternoon the Metacomet champion evened matters by registering an 80, the best round of the day, and Kenworthy had an 86. Just one stroke above Kenworthy was Bobby Beekman of the Metacomet Golf Club and Vincent Eldred was just a stroke more than his classmate.

H. W. Davenport of the Silver Spring Club, who has been out of tournament golf for seven years, turned in a card of 170. In view of the fact that he has only been playing since spring his performance was one of the most creditable of the day. His driving with or against the wind was terrific. On the hard seventh hole he drove the bunkers and had but a chip shot to the green. At the same figure was Marshall MacDonald of the Metacomet Golf Club, who had a fine 81 in the morning's play, only to run into hard luck in the afternoon and get an 89.

It was clearly Metacomet's day, so far as the qualifying round was concerned. Ten members of the club landed in the select 16. Silver Spring has two in the qualifying list, Wampanoag two, Pawtucket one and the Rhode Island Country Club one. Agawam Hunt had fewer entries, and it failed to land a man in the first 16.

To-day the first round and the second round matches will be played. Rooks and Kenworthy are in opposite brackets in the draw and are picked to meet in the final. There are some splendid golfers in the select 16, however, who will have to be met and conquered, and there have been upsets in the championship right in years gone by and history may repeat itself. Rooks, Kenworthy and Beekman have been the ones to shine in the invitation matches and have shown by far the best form of any of the golfers this season.

The semi-finals will be played on Thursday and the finals Friday, with the big 36-hole handicap on Saturday. In this match players may select their partners and also their starting times, provided the committee is notified and their selection goes on the board.

There will be four flights engaged in match play with a limited number in the fifth. The finals in all of the flights will be 36 holes and will be played on the same day. The entry list of 73 compares favorably with the biggest State tournaments ever held and is considerably larger than the number engaged in the play last season.

One of the most interesting features of the day was the play-off for the 16th place in the qualifying round. Vennorbeck of Metacomet, Cady of Silver Spring and Clarkson were tied at 181. They played one hole and Vennorbeck won. Cady placed his drive in the rough, stroked out on the fairway, made the trap on his next stroke, was considerably over the cup on his next and took seven to go down.

Clarkson started off with a drive straight down the course, but sliced his second into the rough. He was bunkered also, but chipped out on to the green and did well to go down in six, his ball passing over the cup for a five.

Vennorbeck had the best luck. His drive was a beauty and his second shot took him on to the green. His putt rolled some distance away from the cup, but he was down in a four and also in the first 16.

YALE INVADERS WEST FOR ROWING COACH

Leader, Washington University
Mentor, Gets Post as Head of New Haven Crews.

TAKES UP DUTIES IN FALL

Malnstay of Eight, Third at Poughkeepsie in 1913; Turned Out Crew That Was Second to Navy Past June

Seattle, Wash., July 15. — Edward Leader, coach of the University of Washington crew, for several years, will become head coach of the Yale crews at a salary approximately double that he is receiving at Washington, according to an announcement made to-day by Graduate Manager Melanet. Leader will take up his duties in the fall.

University of Washington alumni will initiate a movement to retain Leader, A. R. Hilden, President of the Alumni Association, said after hearing of Leader's resignation. Hilden said he was confident Leader would be willing to reconsider his decision to go to Yale.

Leader, a member of the famous University of Washington crews of 1913 and 1914, was graduated in 1915, closing a brilliant athletic career in which he starred in three sports—crew, football and baseball. He was a mainstay of the crew that invaded the East in 1913, taking third place in the Poughkeepsie regatta.

In 1914, upon the death of Coach Hiram Conboar, Leader was elected head rowing coach at the university. The crew which he tutored this year defeated the University of California, eight on Lake Washington by nearly 10 lengths over a three-mile course, later won from the University of Wisconsin eight on Lake Menominee and placed second to the powerful Navy machine in the Poughkeepsie intercollegiate regatta last June.

Cuba vs. Hudsons.

The Cubs will play the Hudsons on Dexter Training Grounds Saturday afternoon at 2:30. The Cubs players will meet at 1:30 in front of the Journal.

SEMI-FINALS REACHED IN STATE GOLF MEET

Rooks, Who Beats Davenport in Second Round Match, Feature of Day.—Wynne, Eldred and McBride
Remain in Play

Out of a day crowded with features emerged the semi-finals yesterday in the tournament for the Rhode Island State golf championship, being staged on the links of the Rhode Island Country Club at Narragansett. Ralph D. Rooks, E. E. Wynne and Vincent Eldred, representing the Metacomet Golf Club, and Frank E. McBride of Silver Spring came through the first two rounds of play with real credit to themselves. To-day Rooks plays his clubmate, Wynne, in the upper bracket and Eldred meets McBride in the lower. The matches are for 36 holes and the afternoon play will be at 2:35 o'clock to enable golfers who desire to watch the play to attend.

Naturally the chief interest in the afternoon play was in the Rooks-Davenport combat, and the gallery was rewarded with a close and (most of the time) well-played match. Playing a 38 to the turn the chief gunner of the driving brigade, Davenport, was 2 up on his clever opponent. Rooks was but two strokes higher.

Then the wheel of fortune turned against Davenport. His drive from the 11th tee was in the rough, his second shot, a short chip, also went in the rough and his third landed on the green. Rooks was at the edge of the green on his drive, near the cup on his approach and was down in a 3. Davenport took two putts for a 5.

Rooks then won the next three holes, giving him the advantage, 2 up. The elbow hole went to him when Davenport after playing his drive and iron perfectly sliced to the edge of the peat bog. His approach was good, but he took a 6 to a 5 for Rooks at the hole.

The 12th hole showed the vagaries of golf. Davenport was in the rough, but not badly off on his drive, and Rooks also sliced into it. Rooks had difficulty in finding his ball, but when he did he played it cleanly into the fairway. Davenport played his second into a spot near where Rooks's ball had been lying. He played out and into a trap and conceded the hole to Rooks.

Davenport was still finding the going rough on the 13th hole. He barely missed halving the hole, but Rooks was down in 3 to his 6. Rooks was now 2 up with but four holes to play. From the next tee Davenport drove a long ball which was lucky to kick back on to the fairway. Rooks was on the fairway, but his approach was short of the green, while Davenport played his nicely on to the green only to overrun on his putt. He was down in a 5 and Rooks, who had just missed the cup for a 4 on a long putt failed to negotiate a 12-inch putt. It was Davenport's hole and he was now but one down and three to play.

The 16th was halved and Rooks had a little bit of luck. His drive sliced to the right and, hitting an embankment, rolled into bounds. Davenport had a fine drive and magnificent approach. Rooks was playing 3 from the edge of the green and he was down in 4. Davenport's putt dithered around the cup, but failed to drop and the hole was halved.

Davenport sliced his drive well to the left from the 16th tee. His iron shot carried well, but dropped into the trap. Rooks played his drive well and his approach was a beauty. He was 4 to Davenport's 5. The short 17th island hole was won by Davenport. His drive found a nice place on the green and rested there, while Rooks was short and in the rough. Davenport's 3 was one better than Rook's 4.

Rooks had to halve the 18th hole to win. His drive was into the rough, while Davenport carried his straight down the green to a point beyond the cherry tree. It was the longest drive in the tournament. Rook's second was hooked into the trap while Davenport essayed to use his masher and drop dead. His direction was wrong and it went into a vegetable garden. He carried out but over the green and into the rough. Rooks failed in his first attempt to dislodge the ball in the trap and carried beyond the hole on his next. Davenport now had a chance to hole down for a win, as Rooks missed his putt. The ball hung on the edge of the cup and the match went to Rooks.

Their cards follow:
Rooks ..... 5 4 4 3 4 5 6 5—40
Davenport ..... 5 5 4 5 4 4 4 5—40—80
..... 5 5 6 6 5 4 3 6—46—81
(11th hole estimated.)

Perhaps the stellar performance of the day was provided by Frank McBride of the Silver Spring Club. Defeating two such experienced golfers as Kenworthy and Marshall Macdonald in the same day is a feat worth noting. His defeat of Kenworthy, 2 up, in the first round was one of the real upsets of the tournament. He was not believed to have a look-in, but after he had finished all even at the turn things began to go his way. He won the 12th, 13th and 14th holes, laying a dead styne at one of them, halved the 15th and lost the 16th. He halved the 17th and won the match 5 up. In accomplishing the downfall of the former champion McBride played wise and prudent golf.

Then he matched up with Marshall Macdonald in the afternoon and soon had that good sportsman gasping for breath. At the 11th hole McBride was 7 up. At this hole Macdonald was on the green in three strokes and McBride was playing from a bad footprint in the trap. He got to the edge of the rough and laid down a long putt for a 3. Macdonald tried for a 4 and ran over the cup, lost his putt and the hole.

Then came an unusual comeback as was ever recorded in Rhode Island golf. Playing the next seven holes in one under par, Macdonald reversed the match. His brand of the game was good enough to match with the best and McBride was now on the defensive.

An extra hole was played. Macdonald laced a dandy straight down the course, while McBride's ball edged off into the rough. Macdonald's next stroke was to the left of the green. McBride took an iron, landed on the side of the green and the ball kicked back to within a foot of the hole. It was an easy putt for a birdie 3 and McBride made it. Macdonald took a 4. In his march for seven straight holes Macdonald scored no less than three birdies.

Vincent Eldred was recorded a winner at the 16th hole in his match with James S. Kenyon. In his match in the first round Eldred had a light squeeze in subduing T. J. Moran of the Pawtucket Golf Club, winning 1 up.

E. E. Wynne, the other semi-finalist showed a sterling brand of golf in his game against George Collett in the morning. Playing close to 80 and winning 5-1. Then in the afternoon he defeated Gartner, who had severely trounced Bobby Beckman in the morning's play 4 up and 2 to play. There was a time before the turn was reached when Wynne was 2 down. He was 1 up at the ninth and 2 up at the 11th. His driving throughout the day was perfect and his approach strong. He had a 45 going out and a 32 up to the completion of the match at the 18th hole.

First round matches found Davenport defeating McCourt 5-4, McDonald beating Codman 5-4, and Kenyon beating his old pal Vennerbeck 2 up.

Matches in the other flight were also productive of some interesting golf. J. A. Gammons playing far better than on the qualifying day found the youthful C. A. McBride of Silver Spring a hard nut to crack, the match going to the 18th green and Gammons jumping his ball over McBride's which was a dead styne and into the cup. At the fourth hole going out McBride played a buried ball behind a trap to a foot or so from the cup.

Weybossett Mills Wins, 4-3.

The Weybossett Mills team of the American Woollen Company Twilight League defeated the National and Providence team at Martins Plains yesterday, 4 to 3. The game was exceptionally clean and free from misplays, and only the superior work of the Weybossett team in the pinches won.

Jack Mackay, on the mound for the winners, pitched a great game, yesterday's victory being his fifth straight. Curran caught like a big leaguer and the work of St. Jacques at second was excellent.

For the losers Curley and Gillfillen were the best.

ROOKS AND McBRIDE IN STATE GOLF FINAL

Veteran Scores Comparatively Easy 6-5 Victory Over Wynne—Young Silver Spring Star Eliminates Eldred by Similar Score

A new State golf champion is in the making. It will be either R. D. Rooks of the Metacommet Golf Club or Frank E. McBride of the Silver Spring Country Club. Opinions vary greatly as to the respective merits of the pair, based on their present form, but all are agreed that unless one or the other breaks, the 18-hole match today, never the link of the Rhode Island Country Club, will be well worth witnessing.

Both Rooks and McBride came through their matches yesterday in comparatively easy fashion. Rooks defeated E. J. Wynne of the Metacommet Golf Club, 4 up and 5 to play, and McBride won from Vincent Eldred by a similar score. There were brilliant streaks of play in each match, but both lacked the closeness of the combats in the second round of Wednesday.

The outstanding achievement in the play of yesterday was the round of 76 recorded by McBride. This is by far the best round recorded in the tournament up to date. There was a time when McBride was 8 up on his opponent, showing the standard of his play, for Eldred has great capabilities as a golfer. It was a coincidence that these two boys, who live within a stone's throw of each other and who attended the East Providence high school at one time should be pitted against each other in the semi-finals.

All interest will focus on the final in the championship play today. Rooks, who had the best medal in the qualifying round, has been playing as steady as a clock. He has been down a number of times in his matches and at one time was 2 down with but 9 to play in his contest against Davenport yesterday. He was many times in trouble, but with the swing of a real golfer he kept plunging along and came out on top.

If Rooks wins today the honor will come to him after many tries. Luck has played him poorly in many of the matches in former years when he looked to be a sure winner. His golf this season has stood out on the whole above any player of the State. He swamped Kenworthy in the Metacommet championship and his golf throughout the spring season has been of high caliber.

McBride received his early instructions as a sore-headed youngster on the old six-hole course of the Silver Spring Country Club. In those days the course was nothing to brag about, but it afforded fine training for a youngster, as he had to play straight. Many times McBride has been on the edge of the first 10 and once or twice within the select circle, but he has never reached the point of eminence that he has gained in this tournament. In his match against Rooks today he will be up against an experienced campaigner, but there are many golfers who know what they are talking about who look to him to win.

Rooks had his ups and downs in his match against Wynne until he reached the ninth hole in the afternoon. In the morning he was 3 up on Wynne, but this advantage was swept away on the first three holes of the afternoon. Just after lunch Wynne, who had been hooking his tee shots and missing short putts fairly regularly, took on a new lease of life. He played the finest sort of golf for the first three holes in the afternoon and tied the match.

At the completion of the play at the eighth hole, however, he was 3 down again. He topped his drive from the ninth tee into the rough, played his second into the trap and then missed an easy putt which might have halved the hole as Rooks overran, and was 4 down.

He played the 10th hole beautifully, his long low ball from the tee rolling to the edge of the green. His approach went to within a foot of the cup and he was down in 11. Rooks sliced to the right of the hole, but in good territory. His second stroke was too strong and he missed his putt for a 3 by a substantial margin.

Golfing to the 11th, the elbow hole, Wynne was 2 down. Here again he missed a short putt and was 4 down. He was in trouble on the 12th hole and Rooks, playing straight down the course, annexed another hole and 5 up.

Rooks drove a splendid ball on the next hole and used his iron to get over on to the green. Wynne wasted a perfectly good drive by going into the trap on his second ball. The match ended at the 15th hole with Rooks 6 up and 5 to play.

In the morning's play Rooks scored a 41 for the first nine and a 38 for the second, or a total of 82 for the first 18. He averaged a 4.5 for his first round in the afternoon.

McBride's wonderful play in the first 18 had Eldred at a marked disadvantage. At lunch time McBride was 4 up and by the time the 15th hole was reached in the afternoon he was down 8. McBride took this hole, reducing the advantage to 7. Eldred played his strokes well, while McBride played somewhat carelessly.

At the 12th hole McBride missed a short putt for a half, which would have given him the match at this point. But he was carried to the 13th before he was declared the winner. Eldred failed to hole down a comparatively short putt for a win.

McBride showed his capabilities as a golfer when in approaching the elbow hole he was in the rough at the edge of the woods with but a half-view of the hole. He played the ball cleanly on to the green.

McBride's card:
Morning ..... 4 4 4 4 4 5 5 5 5 39
Afternoon ..... 3 3 3 4 4 4 4 3 6 37—76
Total ..... 4 4 6 3 5

The semi-finals and finals were played in the order 16. In the best of eight, first 16, Bobby Beckman of the Metacommet Country Club defeated Elson of the Wannamoisett Country Club 2 up and 1 to play. This was a hard-fought match, which was not ended until Beckman, who led down a 3 on the 15th hole. H. Kenworthy took a default from A. S. Bennett in the other half of the semi-finals and in the final won decisively from Beckman, 4 up and 3 to play.

Howard Tryon, the most youthful golfer in the tournament, who has been playing splendid golf, defeated L. M. Tetreau in the upper half of the semi-finals in the second 16. He won at the last hole after playing his more experienced opponent evenly throughout. J. A. Gammons of the Wannamoisett Country Club defeated P. H. Wray of the same club 3 up and 2 to play in a well-played match, and in the final beat H. Tryon 4 up and 3 to play.

In the semi-finals of the best of eight, second 16, Earl Crandall drew a bye and W. B. Cady of the Silver Spring Country Club defeated G. McBride, a clubmate, 1 up. This was one of the closest matches of the day. In the final Cady carried Earl Crandall to the 17th hole before the latter won 2 up and 1 to play.

The semi-finals in the third 16 found Dr. M. H. Platt of the Wannamoisett Country Club pitted against Tom Howick of the Metacommet Golf Club and he won 6-4. H. Bassett of the Metacommet Golf Club defeated J. Roach of the R. I. Country Club 3 up and 2 to play. In the final Platt defeated Bassett 2 up. In the best of eight of this division C. A. Cate of Pawtucket defeated M. A. De Wolf 1 up and R. Moran, Metacommet, defeated J. Lewis, Jr., 2 up. Moran won from Cate in the final, 1 up.

In the semi-finals for the fourth 16 C. A. Bassett of the Silver Spring Country Club defeated H. Waldron 4-3, and F. W. Grim defeated N. M. MacLeod 1 up. In the final Bassett beat Grim 2 up. In the best of eight C. F. Burt, defeated Dr. Devine 2-1 and T. Taylor took a default from Bennett. T. Taylor of the Metacommet Golf Club won the final from Burt.

E. Dixon, Jr., defeated C. R. Giddings 5 up and 3 to play in the very last division, and George W. Jones, the veteran of the tournament, whose one on the 17th hole at the Rhode Island Country Club several years ago is still remembered, defeated W. C. Russell of Silver Spring 1 up on the 18th hole.

MADONNA ON LOSING END IN MATCH RACE

*Bows to Clarence Carman
In Great Contest at Philadelphia*

Special to the Journal.
Philadelphia, July 20.—Making his first appearance in Philadelphia since recovering from a fractured collarbone, sustained in a spill a month ago at Providence, Vincent Madonna, Italian champion, was unable to keep up the terrific pace set by Clarence Carman, the American, in their match race at the Point Breeze Velodrome to-night, and the Jamaica fyer was a winner in straight heats.

The first heat was a 10-mile race. Paced by "Dare Devil Jimmy" Hunter of Philadelphia, Carman set out after Madonna, who was leading, just as the fifth mile was finished, and by the greatest sprint seen on the local saucer this season, the American came from a quarter of a lap behind and, after riding less than half a mile, took the lead.

Francesco Verri of Italy was entirely too fast for Bobby Walthour, Jr., American, in their one-mile match race, the former winning in straight heats.

Providence Junior League.
Four good games are on the Providence Junior League card for to-morrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The Carleton A. C. will entertain the Amherst at Roger Williams Park diamond No. 1. St. Anna Seconds and T. H. Harley Juniors will clash at the State Pier. Samosets and Troys will play at the Hartford avenue grounds, and the Braytons and Fairmounts will fight it out for first place at Dexter Training Grounds.

Rough Seeks Reinstatement.
Chicago, July 20.—Eddie Roush, Cincinnati National outfielder, who held out for an $18,000 annual salary and a three-year contract, has opened negotiations with Commissioner Landis for reinstatement. It became known today.

McBRIDE WINS STATE GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Silver Spring Star Beats Rooks, 4-3, in Gruelling Match, Playing a Consistently Better Game.

36-Hole Handicap To-day

Frank E. McBride of the Silver Spring Country Club fulfilled a long cherished ambition yesterday afternoon when he putted for a win on the 15th green, leaving him 4 up and 3 to play, in his match against R. D. Rooks of the Metacomb Golf Club. The State golf championship was at stake and the younger man won because he played a consistently better game, a game which he has maintained throughout the tournament at the Rhode Island Country Club, which was concluded yesterday.

Seldom has there been a greater outward show of enthusiasm than was manifested when Rooks conceded the 15th hole to his opponent. A score or more of enthusiasts, who had been following play by play with the gallery of 200 or more, rushed forward and lifting McBride on their shoulders carried him to the clubhouse.

Not since Danny Fairchild won the championship at the Agawam Hunt for the first time has there been any greater interest manifested in the outcome of a State golf tournament. Throughout the morning and afternoon the gallery was impartial, applauding the players as they made a good stroke.

A week or so ago the golfer who had reckoned McBride as even a contender for the championship would have been scoffed at, but his play from day to day was of a grade that deserved victory. No player in the tournament established a pace and maintained it so well as did the New State champion.

First it was H. K. Kenworthy, a former State champion, and by many picked for the final honors, that McBride eliminated. Then, on the same afternoon, he showed he was a real golfer by winning an extra hole from Marshall Macdonald, a hard player to beat under any circumstances, and going up into the semi-finals. Against Eldred he played up to his game and was recorded an easy winner. It seems the irony of fate that in working his way to the championship he should eliminate four of Metacomb's best golfers.

Like the small boy who picked up his baseball experience on the sand lots McBride first became acquainted with a golf stick in his father's cow pasture on the East Providence side of Narragansett Bay. There will be some who will say he has not real golfing form, who will criticize his use of the brassy under certain conditions, but none who will deny that he shot real golf this week.

For Rooks the match was a great disappointment. Showing without doubt the best tournament golf form of the spring season, he was picked to win this year's classic. Twice before he has marched through the play to the finals only to lose in the crucial match. But he is a thoughtful sportsman and he took his defeat gracefully. Stroke for stroke he had an edge on the championship, but he was laboring under a heavy handicap of playing 4 down at the start of the afternoon's play.

Starting out in the morning, Rooks annexed the first hole by playing a par 4, while McBride was in the trap and took a 5. They halved the second hole in 4.

both playing perfect strokes from the tee and pitches to the green. The next hole proved a Waterloo for Rooks. His drive found a rough spot among the rocks and he picked up finally, his score being estimated at 7, while McBride played it safe and took a 5, one above par. The match was now all even.

The fourth hole was halved in par 4 and on the next hole McBride was up for the first time in the match. McBride's ball from the tee went into the trap, but he chipped out nicely to within a foot of the cup and was down in par 3. Rooks took a 4 for the hole. The sixth and seventh holes were halved and then Rooks evened up the match on the eighth. Both players were in trouble in this hole but Rooks got a 6 to a 7 for McBride.

The ninth went to McBride, who was down in 5 to a 6 for Rooks. At this point McBride was 1 up, making the nine holes 10 strokes, while Rooks showed a 44 for the same distance. McBride played the next nine holes in 37, the best score for the hole in the tournament. He was but 2 above par, playing seven holes in par figure.

Rooks won the 10th hole, evening up the match, making a splendid 3 and just missing a 2. McBride had a 4 for the hole. McBride was again 1 up on the 11th hole, scoring a par 5 to 1 for Rooks. On the next hole Rooks laid McBride a dead stroke and was down in 4 to 1 for McBride, the match again being all even.

The 13th hole Rooks played a second ball and McBride playing a par 4 was again 1 up. McBride won the 14th and was 2 up; the 15th was halved and the 16th went to McBride on a par 4. Rooks missing a putt for a half. He was now 3 up. The 17th was halved in 3, both playing the hole perfectly. The 18th went to McBride and he was 4 up at the end of the morning's play.

Davenport caddied for McBride and J. S. Kenyon for Rooks. In the afternoon the first hole was halved in par 4 and the second hole in 5 apiece. Rooks's drive went into the rough, but he played his second stroke well. On the third hole McBride found the going as hard as at any time during the day. His drive went into a clump of underbrush and after struggling to get out he conceded the hole to Rooks, who had approached to the green on his second stroke. McBride was now 3 up.

The fourth hole found Rooks driving into a sand trap, but getting out of it very nicely and on to the green. McBride's drive had a great carry and he had but short pitch to the green. The hole was halved.

Both drives on the fifth were clear of obstructions but Rooks missed a 3 and putted for a 3, while McBride was down in that number of strokes and he was 4 up again. The sixth hole was halved in par 4, but McBride won the next with a hokey 5 to a 6 for Rooks, who again missed a short putt. McBride was now 5 up with 11 holes to play. Rooks did some nice shooting on the next hole and was down in a par 5, while McBride overran the cup and was down in 6.

McBride also into the trap near the overhang and after wasting a couple of strokes he came out. Rooks's drive was a beauty shot and his next went to the edge of the bunker. He was down in 5 to 7 for McBride, and McBride was now but 3 up and 9 to play.

Rooks made a perfect shot from the tee on the 10th hole, his ball running on to the green. McBride approached over the cup and took a 4 to a par 3 for Rooks. Rooks had now won three straight holes and was but 2 down.

Going to the 11th hole, however, he encountered the overhang to the trap and while after making one little swing at the ball he made a good recovery. McBride, who approached gently, was down in a par 5 to his 6. McBride was now 5 up and 7 to play. The 12th hole was halved in 4, both playing well to the green.

The 13th hole went to Rooks. His drive was good and his approach shot and he was down in a par 4. McBride's brassy hook to the left of the green in back of the trap and his chip shot over too far beyond the cup to get back easily. With McBride 2 up and 5 to play the situation became tense. McBride drove a good ball and Rooks also. McBride's brassy approach was to the edge of the green, while Rooks hooked his approach out of bounds and was penalized two strokes and a disqualification.

McBride was now 3 up and 4 to play. McBride drove a nice ball and which caused some to believe his right was not in shape. Whatever the reason for its comparative idleness, Frusetti was quick to discover it was not effective, and made the most of the opportunity. All he had to guard against practically was Clinton's left.

William Harmon of New York won over Frankie Quill, Brockton, in another 10-rounder, while Tony Julian of Brockton outfought Irish Kid Williams of Worcester.

Is Never Really in Fight After First Frame and Fails to Score with Any Effect—Harmon Beats Quill—Julian Wins

Special to the Journal.

Brockton, July 21.—Jimmy Frusetti of Brockton regained his title of New England lightweight champion to-night at the council meeting of the Walk Over A. C. Club here, when he decisively defeated Johnny Clinton, titleholder, in 10 fast rounds. Clinton's showing was a decided disappointment to his admirers, while that of Frusetti exceeded all expectations.

The Brockton lad was here, there and everywhere, using left and right hooks and jabs most effectively. Clinton tried repeatedly to counter Frusetti at close quarters for fighting, the New York lad's specialty, but the Brockton boxer was too clever for him and kept Johnny at a distance.

Barring the first round, Clinton was never really in the fight. He was taking punishment all the time without being able to return in anything of good measure. Try as he would, he was unable to score effectively on Frusetti. Those who looked for Clinton's far-famed ring generalship looked in vain. He was out-generaled from the start.

The Gothen boxer would now and then get in a left jab that counted, but invariably got lost in the confusion of close quarters for fighting, the New York lad's specialty, but the Brockton boxer was too clever for him and kept Johnny at a distance.

U. S. WOMEN ATHLETES SAIL FOR PARIS MEET AUGUST 1

Two Withdrawals Affect Make-up of Team Announced June 20.

New Haven, Conn., July 21.—The team of women athletes representing the United States in the international women's track and field meet at Paris, next month, will sail on Aug. 1, as originally planned. Dr. H. E. Stewart of the executive committee of the National Women's Athletic Association said this afternoon. The only changes in the team as announced on June 20, are that Miss Fletcher of Greensboro high school, Florida, and Miss Helen Kreis of Ohio State University have withdrawn. Miss Fletcher is a broad jumper, and her place will be taken by Miss Green of the Canal Zone group.

While Challenger Winner of Big Fight. New York, July 21.—Charlie White, Chicago lightweight, has posted a $2500 forfeit and challenge with the Boxing Commission for a meeting with the winner of the Benny Leonard-Lew Teller championship fight in Jersey City next week.

Seine Department to Furnish Large Sum, Remainder, Aside from National Fund, to Be Subscribed

Paris, July 21.—[By the Associated Press].—French athletic authorities are already planning for the necessary financial funds to develop representative teams for the Olympic games to be held in 1924. Initial estimates had placed the total sum necessary at about 8,000,000 francs but the French Olympic committee estimates that fully 6,000,000 of the 10,000,000 francs voted by Parliament will be absorbed in the preparation of the track, swimming pool, tennis grounds, stands and expenses of administration offices. With other incidental charges and expenses it is believed that none of the 10,000,000 francs grant will be available for the development of the French teams.

While the French Athletic Federation has made demand for 8,000,000 francs for this purpose, it is believed, says L'Autorité, that these demands can be reduced to 3,000,000 francs. The Paris Municipal Council expects to vote 1,000,000 francs toward the athletic fund; the Seine Departmental Council, it is understood, will vote a substantial sum for similar purposes and the balance will be raised by public subscription, including a special Olympic Day stamp to those who donate large sums were raised during the war.

JOE JACKSON SEEKS 2,000,000 NAMES

Former White Sox Player to Petition Landis to Releat

New York, July 21.—Joe Jackson, former White Sox star, decided to-night at a meeting of the New York Semi-Professional Baseball Association, which is seeking his reinstatement to good standing, that he had no part in the "fixing" of the 1919 World Series. Jackson now is a member of a local semi-pro team. An official of the association announced that 500 petitions for Jackson's reinstatement had been circulated and that when 2,000,000 names were on them they would be sent to Commissioner Landis.

GLENNA COLLETT BETTERS OWN MARK

Providence Girl Circles Course at Shennossett in 78, Two Better Than Last Year.

BUT ONE STROKE ABOVE PAR

Record Made in Match with Cook of Hartford Whom She Beat 5 and 3—Scores 42 Out and 36 in

Special to the Journal.

Eastern Point, July 21.—Miss Glenna Collett of Providence again lowered the Shennossett course record for women this afternoon, getting a 78, two strokes better than the 80 set by her here last year. Miss Collett was home in but one stroke above par, a remarkable feat.

One of the features of the round was that Miss Collett was playing a match with Robinson Cook of Hartford, who defaulted his championship division match this morning to Alex Armour of Westchester Hills. Miss Collett defeated Cook by 5 and 3 to play, ending 7 up for the full 18 holes.

Miss Collett's card was as follows:

Out . . . . 5 4 5 4 4 5 4 5—42

In . . . . 4 3 5 4 4 5 4 4—36—78

Tommy Armour, amateur champion of Westchester-Biltmore, defeated Henry J. Topping of Greenwich, 2 and 1, in the morning match. Alex Armour, Tommy's brother, took his match with Robert Cook of Hartford by default. Gil Tinnary of Mohawk won from E. L. Beard, Jr., of Oakland, 3 and 2.

The afternoon matches were between Tommy Armour and Tinnary, and Alex Armour and Ned Sawyer of Swaney.

MATINEE RACING TO-DAY AT SOUTH ATTLEBORO

Three Classes of Well-Known Horses to Start

Horse racing will be held this afternoon at the South Attleboro race track, under the auspices of the Interstate Driving Association.

Three classes, in which well known horses from Pawtucket, Central Falls, Attleboro and this city are entered, are on the programme. The different classes have been carefully arranged with the view of giving the patrons first-class sport.

Today there will be a 36-hole handicap open to all players who were entered in the State tournament. The play will start early and will be in twosomes, with the players privileged to pick their playing companions. The match will be for the president's trophy and already over 45 players have entered.

The pairings and time of starting follow: H. M. Gertner and E. E. Wynne, 9:00; A. M. J. Joseph and H. H. Perkins, 9:05; H. W. Boynton and H. A. Tryon, 9:10; H. E. Kenworthy and H. S. Newell, 9:20; A.
