

83 STATE GOLFERS IN TITLE TOURNEY

Wannamoisett Championship
Event Calls Out Largest Number Ever Recorded.

OPENS AT 9 A. M. TUESDAY

M. H. Platt and W. L. Adams First
Pair to Tee Off, with R. A.
Morgan Ending First Flight
at 12:25 O'Clock

The complete entry list for the State golf tournament, which opens to-morrow, records the names of 83 golfers, the largest number that has ever entered for a similar event in this State. The event is to be held on the course of the Wannamoisett Country Club in Rumford and the first pair will tee off at 9 o'clock and the last pair at 12:25 o'clock in the afternoon. Thirty-six holes will be played in the qualifying round and the last pair to come in will hardly reach the home tee before 8 o'clock in the evening.

Because of the congested condition of the course when the 36-hole handicap is played next Saturday, the Metacomet Golf Club has requested Wannamoisett Country Club members not entered in the tournament to use the Metacomet course. The full courtesy of the club is extended to these members.

The players will pair off and start as follows:

9 a. m., M. H. Platt and W. L. Adams; 9:05, T. J. Moran and F. H. Wood; 9:10, C. H. Gardner and C. J. Cote; 9:15, W. M. P. Macdonald and J. A. Gammons; 9:20, A. M. Budlong and E. E. Wynne; 9:25, J. S. Kenyon and L. S. Newell; 9:30, M. A. De Wolf and H. A. Mackinney; 9:35, H. Rousseau and F. B. Read; 9:40, J. Linton and E. L. Lineberry; 9:45, W. B. Cady and R. D. Rooks; 9:50, H.

as Jones, 20 feet away on his third, required two more to go down.

ALL SQUARE ON 15TH

Hole 15, 425 yards, par 4—It was several minutes before the dense gallery, massed on both sides of the fairway, could be controlled and pushed back from the course. Cruickshank half topped his tee shot, the first bad mistake of the sort he had made, and landed in the rough behind a group of trees, his ball travelling but 150 yards. Jones was 100 yards longer, but in the rough to the right. Cruickshank's second shot through the leaves of a tree to the middle of the fairway, just ahead of Jones's ball. The Georgian, aided by a good lie, used his midiron for one of the most marvellous shots of the tournament, a whistling 200-yard wallop that went straight for the flag and landed about four feet beyond it. Cruickshank, carefully surveying his ground, took a mashie, but hooked slightly and landed his ball in a trap at the left of the green; the same one in which Jones found disaster yesterday. Cruickshank chipped out in four, but went 15 feet over the cup and when his next failed to drop for a five, he walked over to congratulate Jones. It was merely a formality as the latter holed in two for a par four and the championship by a margin of 76 to 78.

STAR BOAT RACE WON BY 12-YEAR-OLD CONNIE

Pegasus, Again Among Leaders,
Finishes in Third Place.

The old Connie won out yesterday in the Star boat race, leading Hope over the finish line by 17 seconds. Ibex, Saturday's winner, was fourth.

Seven boats started, Ibex getting over the line first, followed closely by Ariel, Connie, Ampere, Pegasus and Hope, while Wampus was caught way to windward of the line and crossed a full half minute after Hope.

The first leg of the course was out to the bell buoy off Patience Island, a beat. Ibex and Ariel and Connie, held their lead, footing fast, but Hope was headed higher and when the leaders put about on the port tack to work offshore, Hope crossed their bows and held to the starboard tack well in on the Warwick shore. The second leg from Patience bell buoy to the red spar off Hope Island, was also a beat and the three leaders kept well bunched, rounding the buoy almost together.

On the run home, it was nip and tuck between Connie and Hope, with Pegasus near enough to make if anybody's race into close to the finish line, where Connie held her lead and scored her first win of the season.

Ibex had a safe margin of time for fourth place, but Ariel and Ampere played a see-saw game as they approached the line. Ampere was leading when the boats were within 200 feet of the flag, but Ariel caught a little breeze first and walked through Ampere's lee and finished less than a boatlength ahead.

Boat.	Start.	Finish.	El. Time.
Connie	2:25:00	6:58:18	2:33:18
Hope	2:25:00	7:05:35	2:33:35
Pegasus	2:25:00	7:09:41	2:34:41
Ibex	2:25:00	7:02:47	2:37:47
Ariel	2:25:00	7:03:53	2:38:53
Ampere	2:25:00	7:03:56	2:38:56

SPEAKER FAILS TO HIT WAIT HOYT SAFELY

Cleveland Manager Goes
Hitless First Time in 20 Games.

Cleveland, July 15.—After hitting safely in 19 consecutive games for an average of .351, Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Indians, went hitless before Wait Hoyt, pitcher of the New York Yankees, to-day. During the 19 games, Speaker got 43 hits in 78 times at bat.

Eleven of the star centre fielder's hits were for two bases, three for triples and two for the circuit, one of the latter coming with the bases full, for a total of 66 bases. He made one hit in only three of the games, two in 19, three in four and four in two.

GAMMONS, WITH 152, LEADS STATE GOLFERS

Rooks and Fairchild Tie for Runner-up Position in Qualifying Round with 158.—Gartner Makes 159 and Sisson 161.—Two Rounds To-day.

J. A. (Duff) Gammons achieved one of the ambitions of his golfing career on the sports course of the Wannamoisett Country Club yesterday, when, in the qualifying round of the State golf championship, he came home with a splendid 152 for the 36 holes and led the largest field which has ever turned out for the tournament. His main ambition is to win the championship and he has scores of well wishers, who hope to see him accomplish the feat.

Ralph D. Rooks, another thorough sportsman, and a medal-winner for two years in succession, shared with Danny Fairchild, many times the State champion, the honor of making the second best score. Both turned in cards of 158. H. M. Gartner of the Metacomb Golf Club was but one stroke above those figures. R. E. Sisson followed with 161 and State Champion McBride and Harry Kenworthy came next with 162. Howard Tryon, the junior champion, made 166 with many opportunities for losing strokes off this score.

There were a few real surprises. Young P. H. Wray, who has been playing the Wannamoisett course as good as anyone in the club and who holds the club title, fell by the wayside and withdrew from the tournament. The link followed him from start to finish and he finished well up in the second 16. H. R. Root, Jr., was just outside the select circle, and Joe Linton, frequently a qualifier, was going so poorly he did not qualify. Earl D. Randall and E. E. Wynne also failed to qualify. L. R. Mordock of Wannamoisett came in with 169 to qualify and then was forced to withdraw, as he leaves tomorrow on an extended trip.

In many ways the first day of the state tournament was far above the ordinary. The weather was excellent and the management saw to it that the players were attended every course. William P. O'Leary as the head and George Gordon, the professional, as his chief assistant, kept things moving. There were pairs leaving the home tee continuously from 9 o'clock in the morning until 4:30 in the afternoon and it was just 7:20 o'clock in the evening when the last pair, Percy Moran and A. W. Rogers, came in with their caddies.

As the players started for the first tee they were presented with a card and pencil attached, a new feature for state tournaments. Thus at the eighth hole a supply of ginger ale on ice was on tap, with the club in the top of host. A sandwich was there if one wanted it also. At the unprotected fairways caddies were stationed so that no time would be lost in hunting for balls out of bounds. This accelerated the movements of the players and provided for their coming in on record time.

This morning, in the first round, Gammons will play A. M. Studling and the draw in the upper half will see some close matches. The second round, in the afternoon, will save the way for the semifinal on Thursday. It will be a head-to-head match play in the other four sixteen. More than 50 players participated in the tournament, which is a record in itself, but just as over the sixteenth were in the draw owing to withdrawals and no cards.

E. W. Lincoln of the Rhode Island Country Club, Dr. C. Clark of Pawtucket and Dr. McCourt of the Metacomb Golf Club found themselves tied at 170, high mark for qualifying and only one place for the three. They played it off and it was decided on the first hole, with Lincoln winning. Lincoln played off well down the course on his drive, Dr. McCourt sliced into the rough and Clark shot out his ball in the pond. He played

3 from the tee. McCourt got out well and was on the green in 3, with Lincoln nearer the hole in the same number of shots.

Clarkson played out of the rough on his fourth, but his fifth pitched beautifully to the green and he holed out in 6. McCourt was short on his putt and Lincoln had a sure 5 with him. McCourt missed a putt and was down in 6 and Lincoln holed down in 6 and won the right to compete in the championship flight.

FIRPO BOKES NO-DECISION EXHIBITION AT OGDENSBURG

South American Takes on Sparring Partner for Six Rounds.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., July 17.—Luis Angel Firpo, conqueror of Jess Willard, and aspirant for Jack Dempsey's heavyweight crown, lumbered through a lethargic six-round exhibition no-decision bout with his sparring partner, Natalie Pera, at the fair grounds here to-day. Firpo, who weighed in at 166, appeared to take the offensive throughout and won what few plaudits the audience of 800 had to give. Firpo planned to leave for New York to-night, en route to Boston, where he is to appear in an exhibition bout to-morrow night.

LYNCH DETHRONED AS BANTAM CHAMP

New York Commission Elevates Burman of Chicago to Seat on Throne.

Board Suspends Siegel for Boxing Walker in Newark.—Stamp of Approval Placed on Wilson.

Greb Contest

New York, July 17.—Following its policy of holding ring champions to the letter of the New York boxing laws, the State Athletic Commission today dethroned Joe Lynch of New York, as bantamweight titleholder, for failure to accept within six months the challenge of Ego Burman of Chicago. Simultaneously, Burman was elevated to recognition as 116-pound champion in this State.

The decision came on the heels of an announcement that Lynch and Burman had been matched tentatively for a title bout in Madison Square Garden in September. Eddie Mead, Lynch's manager, also was placed under official ban.

Lynch was the second champion within a few weeks to be deprived of title recognition here. Mickey Walker of Ellizabeth, N. J., the welterweight titleholder, was ousted recently for failure to accept a challenge from Dave Sibade of California, who also was awarded championship recognition as a solace for failure to obtain his title match.

An echo of Walker's disbarment to-day was the indefinite suspension of Nate Siegel for boxing Walker last night at Newark, N. J., while the latter was under official ban. Siegel was knocked out by Walker.

The commission put its stamp of approval upon the world's middleweight title match scheduled at the Polo Grounds Aug. 1 between Johnny Wilson of Boston, the champion, and Harry Gach of Pittsburgh. This was brought about by Gach's formal acceptance of the former light heavy weight champion's challenge.

ROOKS LANDS STATE GOLF TITLE, 3 AND 2

Metacomets Veteran Defeats Fairchild After Great Battle in Final Round at Wannamoisett.

Victor 2 Up at End of 18 Holes

Ralph D. Rooks, representing the Metacomets Golf Club, is the New State golf champion. He won the title at the 16th green, 3 up and 2 to play, after practically an all-day battle with Dan Fairchild of the Wannamoisett Country Club, which was all even at the end of 27 holes and came to a conclusion after Fairchild had knocked his second into a clump of trees from which play was practically impossible.

Defying all earlier predictions and playing the best golf he has exhibited this season Rooks scored a clean-cut victory, and but for the marvellous recoveries and putting of Fairchild, the match would have ended much sooner. It does not detract from Rooks's victory, in the least, to say that Fairchild showed a reversal of the form which he has exhibited throughout every round up to the final. Yesterday he was a golfer with a driver and a putter. His drives were unusually good, his approaches only average in most instances, but his putts kept him going.

On the other hand Rooks shot a consistently fine game with none of the breaks coming his way to any extent. Time after time he was down in par, only to have Fairchild hole a putt from 20 to 30 feet in the morning and eight to ten feet in the afternoon. A player with a different temperament and less experience would have broken under this kind of play.

When after nine holes of the play in the afternoon he had lost his advantage of two holes gained in the morning's play, there were few who believed Rooks would win, basing their opinions on Fairchild's play during the week. But he kept going and never again did Fairchild have the advantage. A large part of the time Fairchild was playing his approaches into the traps and making marvellous recoveries.

The decisive hole came at the 16th. Both were off the tee with long drives. Rooks received a real break of the game here when his ball struck a tree and bounded back into the fairway, almost on even terms with Fairchild. Rooks's second struck the green and then rolled into the trap, but a bad one to negotiate. Fairchild hooked his into a clump of bushes and took a lot of time figuring how to get out. His ball went a short distance and his next stroke carried him over the hole. Rooks came on to the green and played safe and was down in 4 to 6 for Fairchild.

Fairchild extended his congratulations and acted as if he was not extremely sorry over the result. He had played his best which yesterday was not good enough to beat Rooks. The victory was a popular one with the golfers in general. Just seven times Fairchild had come down the course to victory and twice before Rooks had threatened and had then been disposed of in the final, taking his defeats like a real sportsman and coming back to try again.

His victory this time, however, was widely unexpected. In other years he has been at the top of his form but this season he has been shooting poorly in comparison, and yet yesterday he came back to defeat what most golfers will admit, the greatest player ever developed in the State.

In gaining his way to the final Rooks defeated P. C. Lestrade, State champion, McBrine and H. M. Gartner, while Fairchild beat Marshall, Macdonald, H. E. Kenworthy and J. A. Gammons. The final brought to a conclusion one of the most successful tournaments from all standpoints which have ever been held. The playing has been uniformly good, the playing conditions excellent, the new green-keeper of the Wannamoisett, Green, also by name, coming in for many compliments, and the tournament committee headed by W. F. Ode, performing most creditably under such conditions. The 36-hole handicap to-day will bring together most of the players who have participated in the tournament.

The gallery was the largest which has ever witnessed a State tournament, and it was rewarded by seeing one of the finest matches in a decade in Rhode Island. Rooks got an advantage at the very first hole. Away from the tee in the style, Fairchild reached the trap on his second, while Rooks was at the edge of the green. Fairchild's putt failed to go down and he was in 5, while Rooks had a par four.

Again on the second both men had good tee shots. Rooks played his wood to the green. Fairchild crept into the ditch on his second stroke, and Rooks, playing a par 4, was 2 up. Fairchild's drive on the third was out of bounds, while Rooks was on the green. He played a par 3 to 4 for Fairchild, and was 3 up.

The next two holes were halved, the fifth being played in par 4. The sixth hole found Fairchild sinking one of his long putts for a 4, while Rooks was down in 5. It was Fairchild's first hole. On the seventh Fairchild fubbed his drive, took his driving iron, half topped it and it went to the top of the green. Rooks was on in 5 and down in a war.

Fairchild putted 50 feet from the edge of the green to the cup and was now but one down. The eighth hole was halved, Fairchild laid Rooks a stymie at this hole. The ninth hole brought Fairchild all even when Rooks overapproached. They started the 10th all even. The 10th and 11th were halved in par 4. Then on the quarry hole Rooks played his drive perfectly and was down in 3. Fairchild just miss the cup for a half. Rooks was now 1 up. He won the 13th when Fairchild's second went into the trap. The 14th was halved and then at the 15th Rooks made another par 3 to 4 for Fairchild and again was 3 up.

The 16th went to Fairchild, who holed a putt from the edge of the green for a 3, one under par. The 17th and 18th holes were halved, leaving Rooks 2 up at lunch time.

In the afternoon Rooks missed a short putt for a half at the first hole, and Fairchild was but two down. The second hole was halved, Fairchild playing nicely out of the trap to get on even terms with Rooks.

Rooks made a splendid two at the third hole. His approach was right to the pin and he putted in nicely. Fairchild's drive was short, and he got a three. The fourth went to Fairchild, Rooks playing his hole in 4, the poorest form he showed during the afternoon. Fairchild was now two down.

The fifth and sixth holes were halved in fours and Rooks took the seventh, playing a remarkable second to a foot or so away from the pin. Fairchild's putt came close to making it a three. It was Rooks's hole.

Fairchild's drive on the eighth was true to the green, while Rooks play from a bank in back of the trap. He conceded the hole. On the ninth Fairchild again managed to putt in for a considerable distance, while Rooks just came to the edge of the cup.

With 27 holes played all was even, Fairchild was again in trouble, going to the 10th, and Rooks's drive and second carried him to the green. He putted down in a par four to five for Fairchild. The 11th was halved in four, Fairchild coming out of the trap to the edge of the green and then putting down to steal a sure victory hole for Rooks.

Again on the quarry hole, the 12th, Fairchild overdrove the green and then laid Rooks a half stymie which enabled him to halve the hole. The 13th and 14th holes were halved in par fours, Rooks playing like clockwork. Rooks drove the 15th green, rolled down near the pin and was in for a par three. Fairchild was in the trap and he took a four.

Rooks was 2 up and 3 to play. Fairchild's hook gave him a chance to halve the hole and prolong the match. It would have taken a birdie to win the hole and Rooks simply played for his par four and got it and the match was over. Rooks won, 3 up and 2 to play.

In the second division H. B. Rust, Jr., won from H. Rousseau, the Yale golfer, entered from the Middletown Club. Rust played with an eight handicap and Rousseau had an 11. The Yale player was down three when Rust started to do some great putting, and when the home green was reached the match was all even.

The 19th hole was halved and then Rust played two perfect strokes to a point near the pin where he was able to putt down for a birdie three. This won the match, one of the closest of the day. The final in all of the other divisions were also played.
