

Palmer Wins British Open by 6 Strokes

Keeps Title With Record-Shattering Performance

Tron, Scotland — (AP)—Arnold Palmer shot 12 birdies in two magnificent rounds of golf yesterday and retained his British Open Tourney championship with a record 36-hole score of 278—a whopping six shots in front of his nearest rival.

"I've never played four rounds of golf like this in my life," the U.S. Masters champion from Latrobe, Pa., said afterward.

Kel Nagle, 41-year-old Australian, who edged Palmer by one stroke in the 1960 British Open, was second yesterday with 283.

It was a case of records all day for Palmer. He had a record of 81 in the morning over the 7,045-yards, par-36-72 old Tron course. His total of 71-69-69-276 was two shots better than any previous total in this 102-year-old championship—and his winning margin of six shots equaled the previous record.

The last man to win the British title by six shots was Walter Hagen, who whipped Johnny Farrell by six shots in 1929 at Muirfield in Scotland.

The lowest score ever before Palmer's 278 was 283, made by him in 1960 at St. Andrews and Peter Thomson and Dave Thomas also called 278 in the U.S. Open at Lytham St. Anne's, which was 75-73-71-308.

Nagle, as rugged a scrapper as they come, finished with 71-70-70-283 yesterday. He came off the tee at the 18th hole with 75-70-72-289, Brian Huggitt of England shot 75-71-74-289.

Bob Charles, the left-handed hitter from New Zealand, was next with 75-70-73-290.

Sam Snead, the 50-year-old slammer from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Peter Thomson, Australia's four-time winner of this event, were tied with 282 in sixth place. Snead had rounds of 76-72-71 and Thomson shot 72 and 71 yesterday to go with his first two rounds of 70 and 71.

Jack Nicklaus, the U.S. Open champion from Columbus, Ohio, had 80-74-74-308 and Don Baisinger, former U.S. public link champion, from Indianapolis, was 76-73-79-308.

Palmer had to master a swarming crowd of 30,000 exultant Scots in addition to the tricky Tron links.

The fans swirled all over the links, moved at times when players lined up their putts, and talked at other vital shot-making times.

"Please stay still please," Palmer asked the fans on one hole.

"Please be quiet," requested Palmer on another as Palmer lined up a putt.

"I don't think I've ever experienced any crowd like this one today," Palmer said afterward.

"We had to wrestle with them the whole way."

Palmer successfully wrestled with them. They never disturbed his concentration. That's why he finished 12-under-par for the four rounds.

Palmer started the day two strokes ahead of Nagle. After going around in a two-under-par 60, trailed Palmer by five strokes.

The championship was as good as under Palmer's belt. But Palmer still hadn't finished tearing apart Tron. He was five holes into the afternoon as he had been in the morning.

He shot another six birdies that round for a three-under-par 69. That could have been six or seven shots less if one of two putts had dropped as they did in the morning.

Palmer was out in 33 and the Palmer-Nagle duel, one that looked promising early in the day, no longer could be described as a duel at all.

Palmer plugged away with his birdies—and he climaxed the day by playing the last hole a style worthy of his stature as a great champion.

The crowd packed the 18th fairway. There were people on the balcony of a nearby hotel and stools to see the master.

And Palmer didn't disappoint them. His 8-iron approach was at the back of the green and a big cut went up the hole. The American calmly walked, studied the line and then rained the ball home for a birdie 3.

A moment earlier Nagle sank a 35-foot putt, also for a 3. A big cut went up the hole. The American calmly walked, studied the line and then rained the ball home for a birdie 3.

Co-Medalist, 2 Former Titlists Bow Out of R.I. Amateur Golf

Quinn, Campanelli Only Ex-Champs Left

By BARNEY MADDEN
Journal-Bulletin Staff Writer

Hopes of established stars and new sensations alike were shattered at the Rhode Island Country Club yesterday as two former champions, including the defending titlist, and the co-medalists were eliminated from the Rhode Island Amateur Golf Championship Tourney.

First to go was Stan Abrams of Metacomb, who with Tony Lasa of Wauwatomoney had tied the qualifying Wednesday and Thursday in quick succession. Abrams was followed by Lasa and Bob Koster, three-time champion from Wauwatomoney and in the second round, by Angie Santilli of Potowomut, winner last year and in 1955.

Those talented operatives were downed by Bruce Morin of New Canaan, Ed Mauro Jr. of Metacomb, Ed Whaley of Metacomb and Norm Lutz of Pawtucket.

It was a day of stirring matches, thrillers that kept the growing galleries scrambling from one scene of excitement to another. Four of the matches went overtime and from two of the extra-hole clashes Bob Coupe of Tuggs emerged triumphant.

Coupe, Guilbault Surprise
Coupe and Don Guilbault of Valley were the day's surprise packages, playing in a fashion that belied their infrequent appearances in competition of major importance.

Coupe won his first match in a 20-hole duel with Bobby Roy of Ledgemont and then waged a terrific scrap with Tony Amara of Wauwatomoney in the afternoon, finally gaining his victory at the 23rd hole. Guilbault, who has been playing very well, conquered Howard Dana of the home club and then defeated Bill McGuinness of Triggs, 7 and 6, by hewing close to par.

Consequently when the firing ceased, Ronnie Quinn and Fred Campanelli were the only former champions remaining in contention. Quinn advanced by winning from Alex Corvi of Wauwatomoney and Ed Hunt Jr. of Potowomut, each time 2 and 1, as his booming tee shots more than compensated for his occasional lack of precision with the club.

Campanelli didn't lose a single hole as he won his first match from Pete Erickson of Potowomut, 5 and 4, and then was only two over par in a 4 and 4 verdict over Ted Soto of Wauwatomet in the afternoon.

Coupe-Amara Struggle
It seemed that the shock of the elimination of Koster, Abrams, and Lasa hardly had been absorbed when Coupe and Amara were locked in their long, tense battle. Amara came to the 18th hole one down and his chances became dubious. But, when he hit his tee shot into the rough, but, by smacking a high wood shot to the green he was back in business, especially when Coupe didn't reach the green in two.

Coupe, however, putted from the edge so close that his putt was a formality. Amara curled in a five-footer for a birdie and that sent them into overtime.

At both the 19th and 20 holes Amara missed short putts and Coupe, scrambling magnificently, helped both. They were even on the next two but at the 23rd, a 135-yarder, Amara trapped his tee shot and the blaster over the green. Coupe, who has been playing golf only seven years, was home, 35 feet from the pin and easily got his par, thus winning the match.

Morin, whose fine morning play was highlighted by a 30-foot putt for a birdie at the 14th, was one down to Edno Gargano of Pawtucket after nine holes in the afternoon. Then Bruce covered the next six holes in one under par. Morin's victory, however, was by no means a rout, as he was, in Ron Quinn's nephew.

Frank McBride of the Rhode Island Country Club won from Bill Tracey of Metacomb in the first round, 2 up, taking the 18th hole when Tracey's bid for a birdie hit the attended flagstick and automatically cost him the hole. In the afternoon McBride won 3 and 2, from Dick Cappali of Metacomb.

Wholey, one down to Koster after 12 holes in the first round, erased the deficit and took the match by winning 14, 15, and 17. At 14 Koster hit his second putt of bounds and at 15 Wholey got a birdie.

Then Wholey and Mauro, clubmates, tangled in a duel that generated considerable excitement.

Wholey, out in 38 and 1 up, made it two at 39, lost the 11th to Mauro's par, won 13, lost 14, and then halved the next three, finally gaining his winning margin with a three at 16. Bill Traver of RICC caught Lutz at the 16th and they halved the next two. Lutz winning at the 20th hole. Mauro began the 15-footer for a birdie. Then Lutz got the jump on Santilli in the afternoon and, despite a late surge by the defending champion, who won 13, 14 and 16, Lutz came in again, recaptured his debt to the club and ended at the 18th with a four.

45-Foot Putt by Mauro
In winning his morning match at the 20th hole, Mauro began in a 45-foot putt for a birdie. The 11-year-old Morin, in eliminating the 20-year-old Abrams, never lost a hole turn in 36, and was one under coming back.

Abrams and Lasa, in their afternoon matches, played off for the medal, Lasa winning with a 9 to Stan's 8.

This morning's matches will be a 7 to Stan's 8.

McGuinness, starting at 8.30 o'clock. Tomorrow's 36-hole final will be played at 9 o'clock and 2.

First Round
Bruce Morin, West Weymouth, 4 and 3, over Watson, 4 and 2. Ed Mauro Jr., Metacomb, 4 and 2, over Bill Tracey, 4 and 2. Ed Whaley, Metacomb, 4 and 2, over Bill Tracey, 4 and 2. Ed Whaley, Metacomb, 4 and 2, over Bill Tracey, 4 and 2.

Palmer's Victory Brings Him Prize of $3,920
Tron, Scotland — (AP)—Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., won $3,920 by retaining his British Open golf title yesterday with his record-shattering 278 for 72 holes. The prize money totalled $22,400.

Kel Nagle of Australia, won $2,800 for second place and Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., and Brian Huggitt of England, who tied for third, each collected $1,800.

Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, West Va., and Peter Thomson of Australia, who shared third place, took home $840 each.

16th for Drysdale as Dodgers Win

New York — (AP)—Ron Mantilla hit a homer with two outs in the fifth inning to lead the Dodgers to a 4-1 victory over the New York Mets yesterday at Shea Stadium.

The Dodgers, who have now won 11 of 12 games with the Mets this season, picked up a full game over second-place San Francisco, which lost to Philadelphia, 3-2, last night.

The Dodgers victory went to right-fielder Don Drysdale, the major league pitcher, who allowed only three hits in going the distance for his 15th victory against four losses.

Fairly's eighth homer, into the upper right-field stands of the stadium, defeated the San Francisco Giants, 3-2, before 18,693 spectators.

Bennett, a 22-year-old left-hander, pitched a masterful five innings for the Philadelphia Phillies, who defeated the San Francisco Giants, 3-2, before 18,693 spectators.

Maury Wills' third homer—his eighth—was almost as efficient for the Giants in his eighth inning. All O'Dell's troubles cropped up in one big cluster. Sammy White left off the third for the Phillies with a scratch hit down the third base line. Bob Wine singled to right and Bennett beat out a bunt, loading the bases with nobody out.

Tony Taylor hit to Orlando Cepeda who threw the plate full of White. Then John Callison popped out. But Ted Savage smashed a single through the middle, scoring two runs. Roy Sievers then hit another single, bringing in the third score.

The Giants stirred up a rally at the end. Harvey Kuenn tripled to right and scored as Jim Davenport beat out a bunt, but Willie Mays hit into a double play and Bob Nieman's pinch single went to waste.

For Woodling was thrown out at the plate after a soft tap by Mantilla.

LOS ANGELES NEW YORK
With a 4-1 victory over the Mets yesterday, the Dodgers moved into first place in the National League West division. The Dodgers' record now stands at 21-10, while the Mets' record is 10-21.

Uncle to Meet Nephew for R.I. Golf Title

Young Lady With a Problem

Dramatic Links Final Pairs Quinn, Morin

By MICHAEL J. THOMAS

Uncle will oppose nephew at the Rhode Island Country Club today in the dramatic final of the 60-year-old history of the State Amateur Golf Championship.

Matching shots for the crown at 36 holes will be Ronnie Quinn, seeking the title a second time, and his 17-year-old nephew, Bruce Morin — new prodigy of the R.I. links.

Both are from the West Warwick Country Club and are son and grandson of former Gov. Robert E. Quinn, now chief judge of the U.S. Court of Military Appeals, who was a proud member of the semifinals gallery yesterday as Ronnie and Bruce turned the championship into a family affair.

First 18 holes of the title match will start at 9:30 a.m. and the second 18 holes at 1:30 p.m.

In the semis, Quinn and Morin, in halcyon of the stirring adventures of the tournament's discovery, Don Gullbault of Valley and Ed Wholey of Melrose.

Quinn, 36, and Morin, 17, were hailed by the famed Bobby Jones as one of the top prospects in the nation, played superb golf in outsting Gullbault, 5 and 4. In what was expected to be a closer match, Gullbault had come to be regarded as the player to beat for the crown as a result of his spectacular firing on the first three days of competition.

But his game fell apart in his duel with Quinn, probably as a consequence of his taxing role of working nights and golfing days during the championship.

Morin, who had won his first three matches handsily and appeared headed toward another decisive victory when he had Wholey dormie four at the 14th, had a real fight on his hands in the end.

The doughty Wholey, in a sudden resurgence, starting at the 15th, won three holes in a row and carried the issue to the final hole where, dropping a cup decision in a match that had high excitement for the tense spectators.

The tall, slender Morin, who had toured the first nine in remarkable two-under-par 34, acknowledged that he was "a little shaky" on the final hole, particularly after he had pulled his second shot into the same trap into which Wholey had hit.

But Bruce had the shot he needed out of the sand and he sealed his triumph with it.

Spectacular Advance
Morin's advance to the final is one of the most spectacular developments in the annals of the tournament. Except for the late Don Fairchild of Wampanoag, who won the first of Kansas City — (AP) — Arnold Earley, normally a relief specialist, made the first start of his major league career a good one here yesterday as he pitched the red-hot Boston Red Sox to a 4-2 triumph over the Kansas City Athletics.

Sikes Retains Public Links Golf Crown

Buffalo, N.Y. — (AP) — Dick Sikes tore into par yesterday and won his second straight U.S. Golf Association Public Links championship with a 4-and-1 victory over tiny but tenacious Hung Sue Ahn of Hawaii. Sikes was Sunday-par for the 35 holes.

Sikes, a dead-serious 22-year-old from Springfield, Ark., broke Ahn's spirit when he belled in a 38-fogger from the back edge of the green for a birdie three on the 32nd hole. It put the champion 2-up.

Ahn, a 32-year-old draftsman making his sixth run for the title, popped his tee shot five feet from the pin on the short 34th, but missed the putt. On the 35th, the slender, muscular Sikes batted a long iron to the green while Ahn was short and took a five.

Sikes became the third man in history to win more than two National Public Links titles. It was a come-from-behind victory for Sikes, a University of Arkansas senior.

He came from three down after 10 holes of the morning round over suburban Tona-wanda's 6,697-yard, par-71 course.

Then he ran down a 13-foot putt for an eagle three on the 306-yard 11th and an 18-footer for a duce on the short 16th.

On the 18th, Ahn had to waste a stroke recovering from behind a tree in the rough while Sikes pitched the ball clean from a trap and dropped the putt for a par 4.

Ahn, the second Hawaiian ever to reach the finals of the tourney, fell behind at the outset this morning when his out-

U.S. Netmen Win Again

Cleveland, (AP) — The United States yesterday defeated Canada in a doubles match and clinched their best-of-five match series in the first round of American Zone Davis Cup tennis competition.

Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston posted yesterday's doubles victory over Canada's Francois Goutbault and Don Fortna, 11-9, 7-5, 6-1. The U.S. had won two singles matches Friday.

Capt. Bob Kelleher of the U.S. team called the doubles "a good light match." He said the Canadians "played awfully well throughout." He said his own boys "need some more hard work and they're going to get it before the U.S. team plays its next Davis Cup round against Mexico in Mexico City Aug. 4-5-6.

Fortna, 32-year-old Canadian captain and veteran of seven Davis Cup matches, said it was "pretty close for the first two sets. We certainly had a chance at 4-1, but couldn't capitalize on our advantages."

The U.S. team went to yesterday's play leading 2-0, on singles victories Friday by McKinley over Goutbault, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2, and by Ralston over Fortna, 6-4, 6-2, 5-7, 6-4.

Two singles matches today will wind up the best-of-five match competition.

McKinley, 21, and Ralston, 20, are national doubles champions and entered the matches as heavy favorites over Fortna and Goutbault, a 24-year-old southpaw.

McKinley dropped his service in the fourth game of the first set — he and his partner missing key attempts after the score was 4-2 deuce. Goutbault was forced into a deuce game before the Canadians went ahead on his service, 4-1.

But two games later, Fortna, 24, broke through on his service, 4-1.

Nefertiti, Columbia Prevail As Observation Trials End

By DAVE PHILLIPS

Nefertiti's stock took a sharp rise yesterday when the team from the 20th-century, led by Weatherly on the final windward leg and defeated Henry Mendez, who was 54 seconds in the 32-meter observation trial.

This was Nefertiti's final race of the series and it left her with a record of 10 victories and two defeats. She broke even in four races with Weatherly, which wound up second in the standings with seven victories and four losses.

Columbia, at her best in the stiff 20-knot breeze which blew up late yesterday, afternoon, whipped Easterner by one minute and 35 seconds. Columbia limited the series with four victories and six losses.

Easterner could take only one of her 11 races. Her lone victory was over Weatherly in last Monday's rain and wind storm.

Nefertiti has had more than her share of luck in this series but luck played no part in yesterday's victory, which was solidly earned.

Mobacher Wins Start
Weatherly's skipper, Emil "Bus" Mobacher, won the start from Nefertiti's Don McManis. He forced the latter to go up on the wrong side of the line, then jibed his boat, went back across the line and won his way back before Nefertiti could sharpen up on another start.

McManis kept Weatherly well to windward of Nefertiti until the two boats got close to the Point Judith shore. Then Mobacher let Nefertiti split her sails with him for a while, evidently believing the wind would swing farther west and enable him to fight the Point Judith whistler, first mark of the course.

As it turned out, however, Weatherly couldn't quite make it. Mobacher had to tack about 100 yards short of the mark and when he tacked again to fetch the mark, Nefertiti had established an overgap.

However, Weatherly was moving a little faster. She caught up to Nefertiti as the two boats rounded the mark and pulled away from the Boston light as they started the 13-mile leeward leg down to the Schuylter Ledge buoy.

At this point in the race Weatherly's chances looked good and then suddenly she was in trouble.

Hole in Spinnaker
Observers watching Weatherly from a distance, suddenly noticed that a huge hole had formed in her spinnaker up near the shoulder. Evidently the big nylon sail had fouled on a spreader during a jibe.

Weatherly lost way after the mishap and Ted Hood, who was now at Nefertiti's helm, was finally able to cut off Weatherly's wind and sail through her.

North South Gal Beats Cicada And Bramalea

Stanton, Del. — (AP) — Those who braved pregame showers to see Chris Cheney's Cicada and John W. Gallows' Bramalea battle it out for the three-year-old fly-crown in yesterday's $57,762 Oaks at Delaware Park saw instead an amazing rout of the favorites by an upstart named North South Gal.

Purchased as a yearling in Kentucky for $600 by Alfred G. Grouse of Springfield, Mass., North South Gal wore down the celebrated leaders with an astounding stretch surge and took the $40,262 first money by a length and a half.

The victory was the New England filly's second in a major race within two weeks. Saturday she won the Constitution Handicap at Suffolk Downs in Boston.

Tresh's Blast In 10th Wins For Yankees

Los Angeles — (AP) — The league-leading New York Yankees blew a four-run lead in the late innings but regained command on a two-run homer by Tom Tresh in the 10th and defeated the Los Angeles Angels, 9-8, Saturday.

The Angels slammed five homers a one-run record for the season, all of them in Dodger Stadium — all of them in the last five innings.

Fire Destroys Box Factory At Dighton

A roaring fire demolished the main building of the D. E. Edgerly Co. on Williams Street in Dighton early today.
At 11:15 a.m. only the charred framework of the walls of the building remained upright. The intense heat had melted aluminum siding on the walls of the big building.
The structure, situated in a sparsely settled wooded section of the town, was about 250 feet long, 60 feet wide and 25 feet high. It was open at both ends, forming a natural fire trap.
More than 100 firemen battled the blaze, which was discovered at 11:45 p.m. Fire teams were sent from Swansea, Seekonk and Rehoboth to assist the Dighton volunteers.
Firemen said the building was packed with newly manufactured produce boxes. Another building nearby, about half the size of the destroyed building, was undamaged.
The cause of the blaze could not be determined immediately. There was no one in the building when the fire started. The nearest fire hydrant is about 2 1/2 miles from the plant. Firemen searched through the woods for water holes and finally found one. In the meantime, pumps were used to play water on the flames.
Only last Monday night Dighton taxpayers defeated a proposal to extend water mains into the area near the plant.
Firemen said the building is owned by Louis Rotenburg of Providence.

Report Urges That 2 Million Quit Farming

Agricultural Price Levels Should Be Slashed, Group Says
Washington (UPI) — About two million farmers should go into some other line of work and farm price levels should be cut sharply, the Committee for Economic Development recommended yesterday.
It said such a program would help the government have its spending for agriculture without hardship to farmers.
The recommended exodus of farmers would remove about one in every three workers in the present farm labor force.
The committee said this "massive adjustment" of human resources, if carried out over a period of years, would help reduce government farm subsidies by 3 billion dollars a year — about half the current yearly spending.
The committee for economic development identified itself as a nonprofit, nonpartisan group of 200 leading businessmen and educators. Its work is supported by contributions from business and industry.
The committee's research and policy group issued a statement called "An Adaptive Program for Agriculture."
In addition, to a big reduction in farm manpower, the statement called for:
Ending of all government controls on agriculture within five years.
Immediate reduction of price supports on wheat, cotton, rice and feed grains, so that farmers will not be misled by high price supports into retaining excessive resources in agriculture.
Temporary income protection for farmers to prevent the impact of price cuts from "bearing excessively on the farm community."
A five-year shift bank to hold down output of feed grains.
A cropland adjustment program.
Summing up the farm program, the statement said that in recent years "the total amount of resources — land, labor, and capital — available for agriculture has become efficient to use less labor and more capital in farming."
"At the same time the total demand for agricultural products has been declining in price, and farm products bring about only a small increase in their consumption."
"Resources, especially labor, do not flow freely out of agriculture at the high rate necessary to avoid falling incomes."
The statement said government measures since 1947 have been "inadequate."

Quinn Defeats Nephew for R.I. Golf Title

By BARNEY MADDOX
Journal-Bulletin Staff Editor
Maturity prevailed, but irrepressible courage — youth gave it the big try yesterday as Ronnie Quinn rescheduled the Rhode Island amateur golf throne by defeating his nephew, Bruce Morin, one up, in a thrilling 36-hole final at the Rhode Island Country Club.
This title match, which at its climax was witnessed by a gallery of approximately 5,000 persons, brought to a brilliant conclusion a tournament that had been producing exciting golf since its start on Wednesday.
But even the 20 and 22-hole matches that were played in the earlier rounds paled by comparison with the tense, splendidly played and enthusiastically received final duel.
Shot-making was superb and the play was especially good. Actually, over the 36-hole round, only two holes were halved in bogies — one over par. At every other hole it was par, or birdie, or trouble.
Quinn, regaining the title he lost in 1956, fired a 72 in the final round.

Medicare, Aid Top Congress Schedule

Washington — Congress will begin a week of full activity today with the fate of much important legislation in the balance.
Medical care for the elderly, the authorization of funds for foreign aid and the agenda of the House and Senate.
A matter of protocol, however, rather than legislation, will pre-empt much of Congress' attention. This is the dispute between the House and Senate appropriations committees and their veteran chairman — over precedence in the handling of money bills.
All major appropriations are being held up by this quarrel.
A crucial vote on medical care is scheduled for tomorrow in the Senate. This is on the Anderson-Jarvis plan for "old age" insurance, which provides for a 65-year-old age limit. The administration has just accepted the plan as a substitute for its original proposal.
Observers believe the measure has a good chance of passing in the Senate, but that the outlook for comparable action in the House is dim.
The administration's tax revision bill also of high priority, will continue to receive the generally hostile attention of the Senate finance committee. It is strongly opposed by the chairman, Sen. Frank B. Byrd, D-W.Va.
On Wednesday, the committee will begin hearings on the foreign trade bill, which has passed the House.
However, Senator Byrd has said that he will oppose the trade bill, instead of the administration's request for its continuation.
The administration might well decide to set aside the tax bill.

West Would Accept A-Test Cutoff Date

Geneva — The United States and its allies in the disarmament conference resuming here today are willing to agree to a cutoff date for nuclear weapons tests that would allow the Russians to conduct the last series.
The date being discussed informally among Western delegates is Jan. 1, 1963. The idea of a fixed cutoff and the date were first suggested to the conference before it adjourned a month ago in the Palais National in Mexico.
In discussions since the conference recessed the allies have accepted the idea. It is, in essence, acceptance of the inevitable. Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has made it clear that the Russians would match any U.S. series of underground and high altitude tests.
U.S. and British officials now are comparing data on the continued on Page 2, Col. 3

Peru Military Coup Seen Near

Armed Forces Make New Demands for Crisis Solution
Lima — The feeling that a military coup is imminent in Peru heightened yesterday with reports that the army and air force have presented new demands for the solution of the presidential crisis.
The new demands are that by today the Apra Party agree to withdraw its presidential and first vice presidential candidates, Victor Raúl Haya de la Torre and Manuel Soto, as a basis for reaching a coalition with other political parties.
High Apra sources said there was "military interference" in the negotiations that are still under way between Apra and General Mariano A. Odría, a candidate who finished third in the presidential popular vote.
These negotiations between Apra and General Odría have held in check the process of a military coup for several days.
The acute danger of a military takeover to annul the results of the June 10 national elections made by the breakdown of Apra negotiations with the other major presidential candidate, Fernando Belaunde Terry, of the Popular Action Party, could last night.
The opposition of the armed forces leadership to the presidential aspirations of Mr. Haya de la Torre was reportedly continued on Page 5, Col. 1

Viet Cong Down Copter Holding 5 Americans

One U.S. Officer Found Unhurt; No Word of Others
Saigon, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist guerrilla fighters "knocked down a U.S. Army helicopter with five Americans aboard in mountainous jungle near the Laos border yesterday. U.S. authorities said one U.S. officer was found by a government search party about eight miles from the crash.
The officer, whose name was not disclosed, was found walking in the heavily red-infested area. There was no word of the four other Americans and two South Vietnamese Army men aboard the helicopter.
The U.S. authorities said the officer was unhurt except for bruises.
The government search party worked into the night in search of the others.
The helicopter was shot down by a heavy anti-aircraft gun. The 1921 helicopter was engaged in a routine supply mission in Kontum Province, about 20 miles from the Laos border in the northern part of South Viet Nam. American sources said, with it ran into heavy ground fire.
This was the first helicopter reported actually shot down by Communist guerrillas since the United States began its massive training and support assistance to South Viet Nam last December.
Helicopters, which frequently fly Vietnamese troops into battle positions, are hit almost daily, however, and several have been forced down by mechanical or other trouble while on missions. In nearly all cases the crew has been able to make repairs and fly back to base. Personnel aboard the missing helicopter are believed to include military advisers as well as crew members.
The report came only a day after U.S. Army Capt. Don J. Augustus was established last night. Continued on Page 2, Col. 5

Her Obstacity Saved Many From Birth Defect Tragedy

Washington — (UPI) — A woman who, in her first pregnancy, refused to take a drug named thalidomide and a rare type of birth defect known as phocomelia.
Thalidomide was developed by a West German firm eight years ago, and discarded because it showed no effect on test animals. In 1958 another German firm found that thalidomide promised to be the best sleep-inducer ever — no hangover, no danger in overdose.
Sales boomed in West Germany under the trade name Contergan. It was advertised and it was sold in Britain as Distal.

U.N. to Close Refugee Post For Balubas

Elisabethville — (UPI) — The Baluba refugee camp, long a thorn in the side of the United Nations, will close at the end of this month, the U.N. announced today.
Officials here once feared that the camp, overcrowded with hungry, overworked tribesmen, might start a war in Katanga. They announced the day with some relief that food distribution to the refugees would end on July 24.
Since early May, the U.N. has been evacuating Africans from the camp to their "villages of origin" in Kasai and South Kasai Provinces.
The camp on the outskirts of Elisabethville once held nearly 80,000 refugees. Today only about 15,000 remain and the U.N. plans to evacuate about 10,000 of them by plane and train within the next week.
The camp was established last August by packing Balubas into a small area. Continued on Page 5, Col. 3

Beach Crowds Small; Sharks Appear Again

Rhode Island beaches, apparently suffering from anticipated poor weather, recorded scanty crowds in most areas yesterday as compared to the busy turnouts a week ago.
But the weather, though it was a bit on the cool side, actually was fine for bathing and boating. The sun broke through the clouds of the afternoon, and the temperature reached a high of 74 at 2 p.m.
The day's most serious incident came at about 3 p.m. when Lawrence Rieg, 13-year-old son of J. J. Rieg, and Mrs. D. C. Rieg of Melville, fell about 45 feet from rocks below Cliff Walk in Newport.
The boy suffered a skull fracture. His name was placed on the critical list at Newport Naval Hospital.
In Warwick there were reports of shark sightings off Buttonwood Park for the second time this summer.
Two 6-to-8-foot sharks first were sighted by boaters and swimmers at Buttonwood Park at about 3 p.m. The fish then were spotted by Patrolman James Spencer of Warwick police and by Christopher Foreney, an auxiliary police captain, from the police patrol boat.
An unidentified man fired a shot at one of the fish, but the shark, the 200-pounder, hit his gun quickly and disappeared.
The two sharks next were spotted off Buttonwood Park, where policemen saw a man in another boat shoot at them with a rifle, hitting one of them three times. The fish thrashed around in the water and both ended for open water in the bay, with the police boat in pursuit.
During the shark-chasing episode, about 200 persons dived for quahogs in shallow water were warned by police to leave the water. But most of them refused to move.
The Warwick police head of the Warwick police traffic division and in charge of the police boat, expressed confidence that the sharks would be landed on the moon for moon exploration.

Moon Explorers to Find Caches

New York — When the first Americans set foot on the moon, one or more caches of emergency supplies are to be here waiting for them, it has been decided.
If the capsule that lands them from a moon-orbiting vehicle should be unable to take off, the caches could help the explorers survive until rescued.
The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) has decided to go ahead with the development of such caches, to be made in the form of vehicles known as lunar logistics vehicles. They probably will be capable of crawling across the lunar surface, radio-controlled from the earth. A radio beacon, probably activated by the command, would indicate their location.
These lunar vehicles in effect replace the unmannedrovers that originally were to be landed on the moon for moon exploration. The prospect plan has been shelved.
This appears that no scientific robots will roam the moon's surface, men do, unless they are of Soviet origin.
Instead, capsules far heavier than the prospect, laden with spare oxygen, food, water and perhaps scientific instruments, are to be landed by advanced Saturn rockets on direct flights from the earth.
If they are mobile, they can be commanded to move toward astronauts who have landed, or to return to the earth, or to put the men in a small "bug" or ferry capsule from a moon-orbiting vehicle, instead of in a vehicle large enough to return to the earth and re-enter its atmosphere.
The capsule is to be jettisoned once the men have reached the parent vehicle that carried them from earth and was "parked" in its orbit around the moon. Hence the bug requires no heavy shielding for re-entry through the earth's atmosphere. It will be too small, however, to carry a large load of supplies or instruments.
While the first moon visitors may stay only a few hours, plans are already being made for "sojourns of many days on later flights. The lunar logistics carriers, laden with extra equipment, are expected to play a key role in normal, as well as emergency, operations.
Their usefulness and mobility will depend, in part, on the nature of the moon's surface. There is at present a great deal of uncertainty as to its roughness, its depth of dust, or the extent to which it is covered by crevasses. However, this should be fairly well known from orbiting and mapping television cameras before the first lunar carrier lands.

So well matched were the 30-year-old Quinn and his nephew that never more than two holes separated them and never was either in danger of being routed.

One down in the morning with only five holes remaining, Quinn surged in brilliant fashion, getting birdies on three of the next four holes and going to lunch with a 120 margin.

Quinn's nephew refused to let that onslaught rattle him and, when play resumed, he parred the first two holes, won both.

However his relentless relative squared the match at the fourth hole, where Morin had to play a nervy shot out of a bunker on the left side of the fairway.

Then, at the sixth, Quinn knocked in a 30-foot putt for a birdie, gaining a lead he never relinquished.

Quinn made it two up at the 10th with a par while Morin took a 35-foot putt for a birdie, leveling the score.

At the 17th, a tricky 138-yarder surrounded by trouble Morin had to win to keep the match alive. Defeat seemed inevitable when he reached the green, or the apron, with three shots, but the youngster still was full of fight. He delivered a 35-foot putt for a birdie, leveling the score.

Frank Sullivan Helps Twins Tip Sox, 5-3; 2nd Game Rained Out

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Harmon Killebrew drove in four runs with a pair of doubles and Frank Sullivan excelled in three innings of relief pitching as the Minnesota Twins defeated the Boston Red Sox, 5-3, yesterday.

The game was the first of a series of three scheduled doubleheaders. The second was postponed because of rain and wet grounds.

Killebrew's second double in the sixth inning with two out drove in three runs that gave the Twins a 5-0 lead.

He had a second double in the seventh inning with two out to drive in a run in the second inning with his first double hit.

Twins pitcher, Sullivan, pitched the last three innings, protecting the lead by retiring nine men in four at-bats.

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Valeriy Brumel, Russian high jumper, easily cleared 7 feet 3 inches yesterday in preparation for the U.S.-U.S.S.R. track meet and immediately predicted a world record is possible in the July 21-22 competition.

A sun-drenched crowd of about 3,000 watched the Soviet world-record-holder begin his workout at 7 a.m. He moved on with higher with each jump, then quit at 7:25.

Brumel said Stanford Stadium's grassy "back area" was all right for me. I jumped from 11 feet the very first time (again) and he will not jump again until the competition Sunday.

John Kramer, high jumper, worked out early arriving Americans with a 15-ft pole vault, Kramer, who still uses a metal pole, narrowly missed at 15-10.
