Field of 185 Starts Today In R.I. Golf

Pawtucket C. C. is the place, at least 185 is the number of players and the Rhode Island amateur golf championship is the dream of all today, with starting times stretching from 8:30 o'clock in the morning until 2:15 o'clock in the afternoon.

In this first round at least 185 aspirants were scheduled to compete and by dusk this evening only one third of that throng will have survived for match play. Sixty-two will survive the medal play test today and then swing into the match play phases of the tournament tomorrow.

They will reduce the field to two by Sunday and then the last of the survivors will meet in a 36-hole test for the title.

Each one in the field is hopeful and a sizable number of players have the same conviction — "I'm the one to dethrone McBride."

McBride is Pete McBride, Providence College golf captain and the defending state champion. He is the target for today, and tomorrow and so on.

Inasmuch as the starting number is so large, players will begin shooting from the first and 10th tees, thereby cutting the total elapsed time almost in half. Even if there are no added starters, the shadows will be getting long before the winners of match play berths will be determined.

Dick Riemer Wins State Medal With 69

By BARNEY MADDEN
Journal-Bulletin Sports Editor

Dick Riemer of the Rhode Island C.C., firing an even par 69, set the pace in the qualifying round of the State Amateur golf championship at Pawtucket C.C. yesterday and that wasn't all.

The May graduate of Bucknell University led the charge of the Riemer family against the throne now occupied by Pete McBride of Metacomet. Dick, his dad, Dr. Robert Riemer (RICC) and brother Jon Michael (Pawtucket) established a precedent when all three qualified for match play, which begins this morning at 8:30 o'clock.

The Amateur title chase in the state has been going on for a long time but never before did three from one family qualify. Dr. Riemer and Jon had 76 apiece, one under the qualifying deadline.

When the deadline fell at 77 it fell with a thud, 16 players deadlocking at that final match-play total. As a consequence, virtually a tournament within a tournament ensued when the 16 had to play off for the 14 places up for grabs. As a matter of fact the playoff wasn't completed when darkness descended upon the Pawtucket course so it will have to be continued this morning before the hand-to-hand struggles begin. All told, 64 will move into match play.

While Dick Riemer alone matched par, (made more difficult, by the way, by strong breezes that made the day comfortable if playing high irons tricky), Dr. Daniel Magiera of West Warwick was only a stroke away at 70. Then came Dave Adamonis of Winnesuket, Jack Smyth 3rd of Quidnesset, Joe Sprague of Wannamoisett and Ben DiCaprio of Valley at 71.

Bunched at 72 were Dick Gasciano of Wanumetonomy, Scott McConaghy of Pawtucket, Fred Schick Jr., of Alpine, Charlie Smith of Winnesuket and Ronnie Quinn of West Warwick.

Actually just about every hopeful expected to qualify did so with a couple of notable exceptions. Fred Campanelli and Brad Oxnard of Metacomet, former champions and perennial match play qualifiers, missed by two strokes.

Dick Riemer, in showing the way, missed ly two fairways with his tee shots throughout the round. He started on the back nine, as did approximately half of the record field of 190, and he started with a tremendous rush. He birdied the third, fifth and sixth holes (12th, 14th and 15th actually) by canning putts of 20, 25 and 18 feet. His bogies came on the fourth, ninth and 17th holes (as the course is normally played). At the fourth he missed the green, at the ninth he didn't get home in two shots and at the 17th he did the unusual with his driver — he hit one into the rough.

No. 2 man on the Bucknell golf team, Riemer went to the quarter-finals last year, where he lost to the eventual winner, McBride. Pete didn't have to qualify yesterday but played the course for fun and shot a 79.

There will be 32 matches today, cutting the qualifiers in half. There will be two 18-hole rounds tomorrow, two more Saturday and a 36-hole title duel on Sunday.

The makeup for match play can't be completed until the second phase of the playoff this morning, when three players — Joe Iaciofano and John Garde of Louisquissett and Steve Travis of Wanumetonomy resume their battle for the final qualifying place.

Leftist Movement

Red Sox Bow In 9th, 3 to 2

Detroit —(AP)— Pinch-hitter Gates Brown's ninth - inning sacrifice fly scored pinch-runner Elliott Maddox and the Detroit Tigers beat the Boston Red Sox, 3-2 last night.

The Red Sox had tied the score, 2-2, in the top of the ninth on Billy Conigliaro's run-scoring single. In the Detroit half of the ninth, Norm Cash walked. He moved to second on Don Wert's walk and went to third on a wild pitch then was replaced by Elliott Maddox.

Vicente Romo, the third Boston pitcher, intentionally walked pinch-hitter Dalton Jones, loading the bases with one out and setting the stage for Brown's sacrifice.

Detroit shortstop Ken Szotkewiecz homered in the eighth, giving the Tigers a 2-1 lead.

Mickey Lolich snapped a five-game losing streak. The Detroit hurler, now 7-10, hadn't won in a month and a half.

Boston scored first when Carl Yastrzemski singled off Lolich in the fourth, stole second, and scored on a single by Tony Conigliaro.

Willie Horton's 16th homer of the year tied the score in the seventh off Sonny Siebert, 7-6, who scattered seven hits before giving way to Ed Phillips in the eighth.

Then Szotkiewicz, batting only .111 at game time, led off the eighth with a towering homer into the upper deck in right field, his third of the season.

Dodgers Win 7th Straight

Houston — (UPI) — Maury Wills who has been sidelined with a foot injury, cracked a two-out two-run pinch-hit double in sparking a five-run ninth-inning rally last night as the Los Angeles Dodgers came from behind and whipped Houston Astros, 6-5, for their seventh straight triumph.

Wills who hadn't batted since he was injured three weeks ago, came up with men on second and third and the Dodgers trailing 4-3. He lined the first pitch into the rightfield corner, half walked and half hobbled to first base and then trotted to second. Pinchrunner Claude Osteen scored the Dodgers final run on a single by Bill Brabarkewitz.

Orioles Catch Yanks, 9-8, On Buford's Single in 9th

Baltimore — (AP) — Don Buford's two-run single with the bases loaded in the ninth lifted the Baltimore Orioles to a 9-8 victory over the New York Yankees last night in a game that featured seven home runs.

Frank Robinson's ninth-inning lead-off homer, his second solo blast of the night set the stage for the Baltimore rally after eighth-inning homers by John Ellis and Curt Blefary had put New York ahead 8-6.

The homer by Ellis tied the score 6-6 and chased Baltimore starter Dave McNally. Thurman Munson then rapped his fourth hit, a single off Moe Drabowsky, and Blefary followed with his blast.

Munson earlier socked a three-run homer in the second inning to tie the score 3-3.

Six of Baltimore's first seven batters hit safely off Stan Bahnsen, including a lead-off homer by Don Buford, but the Orioles were held to just three runs when Robinson was thrown out at the plate.

Danny Cater's run-scoring double gave the Yanks a 4-3 edge in the third, but Baltimore forged ahead 6-4 in the fourth on Boog Powell's two-run homer and Robinson's first homer — both off Ron Klimkowski.

New York closed the gap to 6-5 in the seventh on singles by pinch-hitter Ron Hansen and Horace Clarke, and Roy White's sacrifice fly.

Phils Down Bucs, 2-0, on Homer in 9th

Philadelphia —(AP)— Deron Johnson walloped a ninth inning home run, breaking up a scoreless pitching duel between Philadelphia's Rick Wise and Pittsburgh's Steve Blass and giving the Phillies a 2-0 victory over the Pirates last night.

Don Money opened the bottom of the ninth with a walk and after Johnny Briggs popped up attempting to sacrifice, Johnson followed with his 16th homer of the year to break up the game.

Wise escaped three jams — all of them with two out — in the first seven innings. He got Roberto Clemente on a grounder, stranding two men in the second, made Willie Stargell pop up, leaving two on in the sixth and struck out Blass following Bill Mazeroski's two-out double in the seventh.

The loss dropped the second place Pirates 1½ games back of New York in the National League East.

Giants Win, 13-0

Would You Believe 11 Runs in 1 Inning?

Atlanta — (AP) — Jim Ray Hart tied a National League record by driving in six runs in an 11-run fifth inning last night as the San Francisco Giants routed the Atlanta Braves, 13-0.

Hart was recalled from Phoenix earlier in the week by the Giants.

Hart doubled in the second inning and drove in a run in the third with a single. He batted in three runs on his first trip to the plate in the fifth with his first home run of the season. When he came to bat again later in the inning, he slammed a bases-loaded triple.

Hart's six runs batted in for an inning tied a National League record set by Fred Merkle of the New York Giants in 1911.

The Giants sent 15 batters to the plate in the inning, and the 11 runs they scored set an Atlanta Stadium record for one inning.

Gaylord Perry was already well on the way to his 13th victory when the explosion occurred. He retired the first nine batters he faced and wound up with a five-hitter.

The Giants had scored two runs on four hits in the third inning without getting the ball out of the infield. Phil Niekro, 7-11, the starter and loser, was lifted in the fifth when Frank Johnson followed Hart's home run with a single, the fourth hit of the inning.

Reliever Aubrey Gatewood walked two, hit a batter and allowed two hits, including Hart's base-cleaning triple before being removed for Rick Kester, who finally got the side out.

Close Matches Mark First Round in R.I. Amateur Golf

Titlist Pete McBride Wins on 18th

By BARNEY MADDEN
Journal-Bulletin Sports Editor

The defending champion had to prove his worth all over again, the medalist advanced, two matches went overtime and many of the duels were close as match play began yesterday in the Rhode Island Amateur Golf Championship Tourney at the Pawtucket Country Club.

Pete McBride of Lincoln, the 1969 winner, almost hooked himself out of the competition on the front nine but, five down after six holes, he corrected his mistakes, put on a blistering rally and ultimately defeated Pete Sozek of Winnesuket, one up, in as exciting a match as the day produced.

Meanwhile Richard Riemer of the Rhode Island Country Club, Wednesday's medalist, continued his low-scoring exploits and advanced to the second round by topping Bob Carr of Wannamoisett, 3 and 2.

Five of the duels went to the 18th hole before winners could be determined and Oresto Conti of Louisquissett had to battle through 19 holes before outlasting Alex Corvi of Wanumetonomy in the second longest tilt of the day.

The longest match involved Ron Raposa of Green Valley and Jack Smyth 3rd of Quidnessett. Raposa, a sophomore at University of Rhode Island, won it with a par at the 20th as Smyth missed the green with his approach. It had been a tight struggle all the way, Smyth forcing the extra holes when he canned a 20-foot putt for a winning birdie at the 18th.

Pete McBride started well enough with a par at the first hole, but he hooked tee shots out of bounds at the second and third and hit a tree with an approach to the ninth green, among other miscues. Meanwhile, the 19-year-old Sozek, a Roger Williams College student, was sticking close to par through deft chipping and excellent putting and pulling away.

Sozek was four up on the champion after nine holes, but McBride now was hitting the ball well and putting with confidence. Pete cut his deficit to three holes at the 10th with a par, hen won the 13th, 15th and 16th, dropping a 15-footer for a birdie at the 15th. They reached the 18th tee all square, but there Sozek's luck ran out. He pushed his tee shot into the rough and from a dubious lie hit his second shot far short of the green. He put his third 20 feet from the cup. McBride was comfortably home in two and when Sozek's bid from 20 feet hit the cup and rolled on, the title-holder was home free.

Frank McBride Gets Scare

Frank McBride of RICC, a former champion, was given a big scare by Ben DeCaprio of Valley before winning one up. McBride, two up after nine, apparently was breezing when he went three up at the 15th, but DiCaprio had a lot left. He won the 16th with a par and the 17th with a birdie, but his rally ended when each parred the 18th.

The Riemer family's unprecedented title-attacking force of three was reduced to one in something of an inter-family bit of skirmishing. Dr. Robert Reimer lost to Ronnie Quinn, oft-times champion from West Warwick, 2 and 1, and Mike Riemer dropped a 2 and 1 verdict to Quinn's nephew, Bruce Morin, also of West Warwick. In both instances the scoring was good. Now, only one of the qualifying Riemers, Richard, will be on hand for the resumption of the title chase this morning.

Angie Santilli of West Warwick, like Quinn and the two McBrides, a former winner of this event, moved to the second round by topping Alex Mansour of Valley, 2 and 1, going one up in their private duel in their championship rivalry.

Aime Smith Wins

Another veteran of these little wars who had to show his finishing qualities was Aime Smith of the host club. Smith was four up on Bob Cipolla of Triggs after nine and, after winning one and losing one, he still held a four-up edge after 11. Cipolla, giving it the big try, won the 12th, halved the 13th and then won four in a row, cutting his deficit to one hole. At the 18th, however, Cipolla went one over par while Smith was playing the hole perfectly, thus gaining a 2-up triumph.

Among those generally expected to advance — and did—were Scott McConaghy of the host club, Joe Sprague of Wannamoisett, Steve Cole of Triggs, Norm Lutz of Pawtucket, Ed Corveno of Metacomet and Dana Quigley of Alpine. Lutz was only one in this group over par, in his 3 and 2 victory over Joe Cole of West Warwick; Corveno prevailed by playing the inward holes in even par against Dick Stevens of Louisquisett and Quigley, beating par by two strokes on the back nine, won from John Garde of Wanumetonomy, 4 and 2.

Fred Schick Jr., of Alpine, Marc St. Martin of Kirkbrae and Larry Kish of Metacomet were low-scoring winners.

The second round of match play will start at 8:30 o'clock this morning, the third round beginning shortly after noon.

Yankees Defeat Baltimore, 7-5, in Rain-Shortened Tilt

Baltimore—(AP)—The New York Yankees scored three unearned runs in the sixth inning, two on a tie-breaking bases-loaded single by Jerry Kenney, and edged the Baltimore Orioles 7-5 last night in a game halted by rain in the eighth.

The victory, only the third for the Yanks in their last 13 games, salvaged the finale of the three-game series and left them 6½ games behind front-running Baltimore in the American League's Eastern Division.

Kenney's winning hit came on a 3-2 pitch from Dave Leonhard, who replaced Marcelino Lopez with a 2-0 count on Kenney. New York had tied the score, 5-5, when Lopez issued a bases-loaded walk to Horace Clarke on a 3-2 pitch.

A one-out throwing error by shortstop Bobby Grich, subbing for injured Mark Belanger, led to New York's three runs. Right-fielder Frank Robinson set the rally in motion when he slipped on the wet grass, allowing Danny Cater's inning-opening fly to fall for a double.

Kenney also singled home a run in the second inning after Jake Gibbs had slammed a two-run homer off Baltimore starter Jim Hardin in the first prior to Bobby Murcer's sacrifice fly.

Grich, who had three hits, tripled home a run in the third and scored on Boog Powell's single. Powell singled home another run in the fifth, giving him 69 RBI for the season, and Brooks Robinson followed with a two-run double, putting the Orioles ahead, 5-4.

The start of the game was delayed 27 minutes by rain. It sprinkled throughout, and was finally called after a wait of 34 minutes with Baltimore at bat in the eighth.

The Yanks staged a mini-mutiny in the sixth when Umpire Hank Soar called for the tarpaulin with two outs and a 1-1 count on Baltimore's Don Buford.

If the game had ended at that point, New York's three-run rally would have been wiped out and the score would have reverted to a 5-4 Baltimore victory. The Yanks delayed leaving the field, the sudden shower ended, and play resumed after what was listed as a 40-second rain delay.

Giants Defeat Braves After Blowing Lead

Atlanta — (AP) — Willie Mays scored on Dick Dietz' ground out in the 11th inning, giving the San Francisco Giants a 7-6 victory over the Atlanta Braves last night.

Mays singled with one out in the 11th, raced to third as Willie McCovey walked on a wild pitch by Bob Priddy and tallied the tie-breaking run as Priddy threw out Dietz.

Don McMahon pitched out of a bases-loaded jam in the bottom of the inning, nailing down the victory.

Clete Boyer's three-run homer in the eighth climaxed a six-run rally that lifted the Braves into a 6-6 deadlock.

Felix Millan singled and Orlando Cepeda belted his 18th homer of the season, launching the comeback. Hal King's single, a walk and Mike Lum's double produced another run and Boyer tied the score with his eighth homer of the year.

Dietz sent the Giants ahead in the first with a two-run single and Hal Lanier singled home two more in a three-run third. A walk, a single by Dietz and Frank Johnson's second run-scoring single gave San Francisco a 6-0 margin in the seventh.

Dalton Jones' Three-Run 'Slam' Helps Tigers Down Bosox, 7-3

Detroit—(UPI)—Dalton Jones hit a "grand-slam" three-run single into the upper deck in right in the seventh inning last night as the Detroit Tigers scored a 7-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox in an unusual game in which three Boston players were ejected and the bench cleared for protesting a pitch.

Rookie Elliott Maddox, who came in when Jim Northrup pulled a leg muscle running out his two-run double in the third inning, singled off loser Gary Wagner opening the seventh. Norm Cash and Don Wert then drew one-out walks, loading the bases.

Jones batted for Jim Price and slammed a 2-2 changeup from Vicente Romo into the upper deck in right for what appeared to be a grand-slam home run. But Jones passed Wert between first and second and was declared out and credited with a three-run single.

Daryl Patterson, who relieved Denny McLain in the seventh inning, picked up his second victory in three decisions for three innings of shutout relief.

Gerry Moses, starter Mike Nagy and utility man George Thomas were all ejected in the sixth inning for protesting a fourth ball to Dick McAuliffe which forced in the run which tied the score, 3-3. Nagy had walked three batters, in loading the bases as Detroit picked up nine walks in the game.

Dick Schofield led off the game with his first home run of the year and McLain was touched for single runs in the fifth and sixth. The fifth-inning run was let in when Norm Cash muffed an easy grounder with a man on third and the next tally was driven in by Rico Petrocelli, whose sacrifice fly to left scored Reggie Smith.

Maddox doubled home Mickey Stanley in the eighth for the final Detroit run.

The Red Sox now head for Cleveland and open a four-game series tonight. Gary Peters is down to pitch for Boston. There is a single game carded tomorrow afternoon and a twin bill on Sunday before the teams take off for the All-Star break. Boston then is off until Thursday afternoon when it entertains the Milwaukee Brewers.

3 HRs Help Nats Defeat Tribe, 9-3

Cleveland — (UPI) — Home runs by Paul Casanova, Tom Grieve and Rick Reichardt backed the five-hit pitching of Casey Cox last night and enabled the Washington Senators to snap a four-game losing streak with a 9-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Cox, who now has a 5-1 lifetime record against Cleveland, went the route for the first time this season in posting his fifth victory against five losses. The 6-foot-5 right-hander struck out five and walked one.

PawSox Triumph, 7-5

Pittsfield, Mass. — (AP) — Steve Kolinsky banged out two home runs as the Pawtucket Red Sox built up an early lead and defeated Pittsfield, 7-5, in an Eastern League game last night.

Kolinsky hit his first homer in the third with a man on and then hit his 11th of the year in the fifth, also with a man on.

Pawtucket gradually built up a 7-2 lead over the first six innings and only a homer by Thompson with two on in the seventh enabled the second-place Senators to make a game of it.

The young Sox return home and open an eight-game stand against Reading tonight at McCoy Stadium. Rogelio Moret (2-4) is slated to hurl for Pawtucket against Wes Holland (2-3) of the Phillies.

The Sox have announced that the game originally scheduled for next Tuesday, against Waterbury, has been postponed and the teams will play a doubleheader instead next Wednesday night.

The Pawtucket management gave the All-Star game on radio and television competing with the PawSox Tuesday night as the reason for putting the game back a day.

Pawtucket has a doubleheader listed against Reading on Saturday night and a single game on Sunday and then face Waterbury on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday nights.

The game lasted three hours and 31 minutes, because of the wildness of five Pittsfield pitchers, who between them walked 16 batters, and frequent arguments.

Two Pittsfield players, shortstop Toby Harrah and catcher Dick Stelmaszek were ejected by the umpires.

In an eighth inning incident near the Pawtucket bench, youths showered ice cubes and water on several Pawtucket players who raised their fists in defense. The youths were banished and after leaving the field started to engage in fights not far from the Pawtucket dugout.

Charley Prediger, who started and lasted six full innings, received credit for the victory. He was followed by Jim Thomas and Doug Beckett. The latter came in and retired designated pinch-hitter Al Thompson on a foul pop to catcher Dick Jackson with two out and runners on first and second in the ninth inning.

Starter Jeff Terpko took the loss for Pittsfield. He was followed by Mike Whitson, Ed Szado, the former Providence College star, Jeff Janek and Bob Shutts, all of whom were guilty of shoddy control.

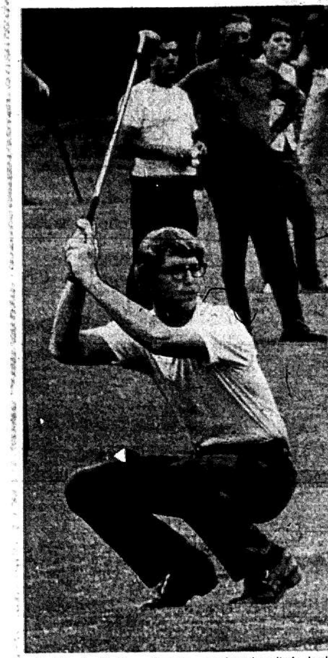
Reimer, Quinn, Both McBrides Advance in R.I. Golf

Adamonis, Sprague, Lutz, Charlie Smith Keep Pace



To No Avail: Dana Quigley employed a little body English in attempt to get putt to drop on the 12th green in match against Norm Lutz but the ball refused.

By BARNEY MADDEN
Journal-Bulletin Sports Editor

The field in the Rhode Island Amateur Golf Championship Tourney was whittled down to eight players yesterday at the Pawtucket Country Club and those eight survivors played well enough to indicate stirring duels in quarterfinal and semifinal matches today.

Rich Reimer of the Rhode Island Country Club, the medalist moved ahead impressively and Pete McBride of Metacomet, the defending champion, also advanced after turning back a strong third-round threat.

Keeping pace with this pair were two former champions, Ronnie Quinn of West Warwick and Frank McBride of RICC. Dave Adamonis of Winnesuket, Joe Sprague of Wannamoisett, Norm Lutz of Pawtucket and Charlie Smith of Winnesuket, the scoring star of the day.

The third round produced three matches that went to the 18th for decision and one that extended to the 19th, but they paled before the thriller waged by Fred Schick of Alpine and Angie Santilli of West Warwick in the morning round. That one set the endurance record for the state amateur, going 26 holes before Schick prevailed.

Riemer scored a 6-and-5 victory in the morning round over Pete Koch of Potowomut and then, continuing his par golf, won from the morning's marathon winner, Schick, 4 and 3. Riemer gained the advantage by playing the front nine in 35 and went three up with a birdie on the 11th hole. Schick, however, took the 12th, but then Riemer fired three straight threes for his 4-and-3 decision.

In the Schick-Santilli duel, Fred fought an uphill fight. He went out in 37 and was one down, but squared the match with a birdie at the 10th. Santilli regained the lead at the 14th, but three-putted the 16th and the match was even again. They were even with par and each other in the extra holes except at the 21st where, believe it or not, each went two over the card. At the 26th, Schick unloaded two tremendous shots and reached the green on that 530-yard hole in two while Santilli was on in four. Schick easily got his winning birdie.

Adamonis and Oresto Conti (morning winners over Walter Tansey of Pawtucket and Bruce Morin of West Warwick) reached the 18th tee with Adamonis one up, but he three putted that green and Conti got his par and deadlocked things. At the 19th, however, Conti hooked his tee shot out of bounds and lost to Adamonis' par. Over the 18-hole route, each shot 74.

Quinn, hitting his tee shots as well as he ever did, turned back the bid of Dave Thurrott of Wannamoisett in the afternoon, going one over par for the 14 holes played in his 5-and-4 victory.

A highlight of that match was Quinn's 300-yard drive on the 12th hole and wedge shot to the green. Ronnie went out in 36, one over, and matched the card coming back. He had only one poor drive, at the 10th, but he compensated by sinking a 30-foot putt.

In the morning Ronnie outlasted tenacious Dennis Read of Crestwood, 3 and 2, while Dave was winning, 2 up, from Jim McCullough of Wannamoisett.

Frank McBride's Progress

Frank McBride, out in 37, came back even par, won the 10th, 13th and 15th holes in building the margin that gave him a five-and-3 victory over Norm Auger of Pawtucket. McBride was one over par for that match and one under in the morning while defeating Marc St. Martin of Kirkbrae, 3 and 2. Auger won, 2 up, from Larry Kish of Metacomet in the morning.

Pete McBride, seeking a second title in a row, got all he could handle from Paul Petrarca of West Warwick yesterday afternoon after Petrarca had erased a two-hole deficit by winning the 16th and 17th. At the 16th, they both drove into the trees but Petrarca offset his error by canning a 40-foot putt. At the 17th, McBride drove poorly and took a five. Petrarca hit his approach over the green but chipped four feet from the cup and sank the putt that put them back where they started.

At the 18th Petrarca trapped his approach, came out 12 feet from the cup but missed his putt, barely. McBride's par sufficed for the hole and the match.

McBride had won, 3 and 2, from Aime Smith of Pawtucket in the morning while Petrarca was topping Scott McConaghy, also Pawtucket, 4 and 3.

Sprague needed a late surge in winning from Craig Gardner of Wannumetonomy in their third-round battle. Sprague was one down after nine but, playing the back nine in one under par, made it to the quarterfinals. He caught Gardner at the 12th, winning it with a par, but Gardner pulled ahead again at the 15th with a par. Sprague parred the next two and won both and headed for home one up.

Sprague Wins on Birdie

At the 18th a fine approach from the rough set up a 10-foot putt, which Joe sank for a birdie. Gardner, also on in two, actually had a shorter putt, but even a birdie couldn't do him any good just then.

Sprague had won from Leo Marcotte of Triggs, 3 and 1, in the second round while Gardner was outlasting Steve Cole of Triggs, 1 up.

Lutz and Dana Quigley of Alpine engaged in a tense third-round battle, going out in 36 apiece. Each won one hole on the front nine, but Quigley edged ahead at the 12th with a par. He was still one up at the 15th, but then Lutz' putter began performing heroics. He sank a 40-footer for a deuce at the 15th and a 30-footer for another birdie at the 16th. Lutz won the 17th, where Quigley three-putted, and the match went to Lutz, 2 and 1.

Norm won, 1 up, in the morning from John McDermott of Pawtucket and Dana edged Ed Corveno of Metacomet, 2 and 1.

The best scoring of the day was done by Charlie Smith as he won, 8 and 7, from John Ritocco of Quidnesset in the afternoon. Smith birdied the first, second, third and fourth holes en route to an outgoing 31. The match went 11 holes and Smith hit nine of the greens in the accepted manner. He missed two of them, but that did him no harm because, in each instance, he chipped into the cup — from afar. He had six threes on the front nine.

In the morning Smith won, 4 and 2, from Gary Reynolds of Quidnesset while Ritocco was edging Ron Raposa of Green Valley, 1 up.

The matches will start this morning at 9 o'clock and the semi-finals will be played this afternoon, the 36-hole final tomorrow.

A Real Crowd-Pleaser: Galleryites respond with gusto as Norm Lutz sinks 40-foot putt on the 15th green.

Stroud, Hit by Pitch, Suffers Broken Jaw

Washington — (AP) — Outfielder Ed Stroud of the Washington Senators suffered a broken jaw when he was hit by a pitched ball and will be out for a minimum of three weeks, the club announced yesterday.

Stroud was hit by a pitch thrown by Fred Lasher in the third inning of Washington's 9-3 victory over Cleveland Thursday night.

Bosox Halt Skid, Belting Indians With Help of Yaz' 21st Homer

Cleveland — (AP) — Carl Yastrzemski drove in two runs with his 21st homer and a single and Gary Peters scattered seven hits as the Boston Red Sox hammered the Cleveland Indians 7-1 Friday night. The victory, which snaped a three-game losing streak, was only Boston's 13th in 39 road games this season.

The Red Sox jumped on loser Rich Hand in the first inning with run-scoring singles by Rico Petrocelli and George Scott and Yastrzemski added his homer in the third.

Boston wrapped it up with four runs in the seventh against reliever Dennis Higgins with the aid of two errors, a walk and a bunt single by Peters. Dick Schofield drove in the first run with a sacrifice fly, Yastrzemski single in the second, the third scored on an error and Billy Conigliaro singled in the final tally.

Ray Fosse's single scored Cleveland's run in the fifth off Peters, 7-8.

Howard's Two-Run Homer Spoils Kline's Yankee Debut

Washington — (AP) — Frank Howard's 24th home run spoiled the major league pitching debut of Steve Kline last night as the Washington Senators edged the New York Yankees, 2-1, on Dick Bosman's four-hitter.

Howard powered a towering homer to deepest center following Ed Brinkman's bunt single in the third inning. The 22-year-old Kline joined the Yankees from Syracuse where he had an 8-2 record.

Bosman retired the first 10 batters before Jerry Kenney tripled to center in the fourth and scored on Bobby Murcer's sacrifice fly.

The only other Yankee hits were Danny Cater's leadoff single in the fifth, Gene Michael's single in the sixth and Horace Clarke's ninth-inning single. Bosman did not walk a batter as he won his ninth.

Kline was in an immediate jam when he walked Howard and Mike Epstein singled in the first inning but he retired Bernie Allen on an infield grounder. Aurelio Rodriguez doubled twice but was out at home the first time trying to score on an infield out and out at third the next time trying to stretch the hit.

Bucs Stop Cards And Gibson, 6-2

St. Louis — (AP) — Al Oliver's homer triggered a four-run ninth inning that ended Bob Gibson's 10-game winning streak and sent the Pittsburgh Pirates past the stumbling St. Louis Cardinals, 6-2 last night.

Oliver broke a 2-2 deadlock by opening the inning with his ninth homer into the right field bleachers against Gibson, now 12-4. Willie Stargell followed with a single and Manny Sanguillen bunted safely.

Gibson got Gene Alley to hit into a doubleplay and then walked Bill Mazeroski to get at reliever Dave Giusti, but Giusti, a former Cardinal, tripled into left center field for two runs. Matty Alou's safe bunt scored the fourth run, and the Cardinals had their fifth straight loss.

Rich Hebner had put the Pirates ahead 2-1 in the top of the eighth with his fifth homer, but St. Louis came back in its half of the inning with a run on Carl Taylor's double that kayoed rookie Jim Nelson and a single by Joe Torre off Giusti.

The teams traded runs in the sixth on Roberto Clemente's triple for Pittsburgh and Taylor's run-scoring single.

The victory moved the Pirates within a half game of first place New York in the National League's Eastern Division after the Mets lost to Montreal 9-7.

Clubmates Advance To Mass. Golf Final

Manchester, Mass. — (AP) — Tom Cavicchi, 20, and John Tosca Jr., 37, both members of Thorny Lea in Brockton, advanced to the final round yesterday in the 62nd Massachusetts Amateur Golf Championship at Essex Country Club.

Cavicchi, a senior at Rollins College, defeated defending champion Peter Drooker of Pine Brook, 2 up, while Tosca, the 1959 state amateur champ, ousted Marc Forbes of Norton 2 and 1 in semifinals.

Cavicchi and Tosca will meet in a 36-hole showdown for the title today.

PawSox Nip Reading, 3-2, on Torchia's Hit

Tony Torchia's long single with the bases loaded in the bottom of the ninth inning gave the Pawtucket Red Sox a 3-2 victory over the league-leading Reading Phillies last night at McCoy Stadium before 1,183 spectators.

With the score tied at 2-2, Chico Crespo opened the Pawtucket ninth with a long fly to left field which appeared to many in the park to have hit the scoreboard for a home run. The umpires ruled the ball had hit the fence instead and Crespo wound up on third with a triple. Jeff Grate drew a walk and stole second when pitcher Pat Bayliss took a full windup.

Bayliss struck out Kat Shitanishi and then issued an intentional pass to Ben Ogllvie, filling the bases. Torchia then came through with his second hit of the night for the clincher.

Rogelio Moret went the distance for the Sox and raised his record to 3-4. Moret gave up 10 hits to the Phillies, but was tough in the clutch and stranded 11 Reading runners on base. He walked three and struck out six.

Bayliss, who is now 7-6, deserved a better fate. He allowed the Sox only four hits and two of the Pawtucket runs were unearned.

Reading took a 1-0 lead in the third inning when, with two out, Ray Starnes hit a blooper to right, which fell for a single. Ron Cox and Greg Luzinski followed with almost identical bloop singles to right, scoring Starnes.

In the fifth, the Sox scored two runs with the help of two Reading errors. Crespo opened the inning with a walk and took second when a pickoff attempt went off the end of Luzinski's glove. Grate then bunted and Bayliss picked the ball up and threw wild to first. The Reading right fielder, Mike Rogodzinski, retrieved the ball and threw to the plate and Crespo appeared hung up between third and home. But the plate umpire, Tom Romenesko, ruled that the ball had gone out of play and Crespo was awarded home.

The Phillies finally pushed across the tying run in the eighth inning, Tom Silicato drew a walk and was sacrificed to second by Rogodzinski. Moret bore down and got Hilario Rojas on a fly to center, but Larry Cox singled to left, scoring Silicato. Craig Robinson then singled to right and Cox, attempting to score from second, was cut down at the plate on a fine throw from Oglivie to catcher Dick Jackson.

The teams resume their series tonight with a double-header scheduled for 6 o'clock. Cecil Robinson (9-3) and Jack Curtis (6-5) will pitch for the Sox. Bob Terlecki (6-2) and Smith Holland (3-2) will hurl for Reading.

Tigers Top O's, 4-2, As Pitcher Cain Stars

Detroit — (UPI) — Les Cain, the winning pitcher, singled in two runs in the fourth inning and combined with Tom Timmerman on a four-hitter last night as the Detroit Tigers gained a 4-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Timmerman protected Cain's eighth straight victory and recorded his 11th save of the season by coming on with two out and runners on at first and second in the seventh inning and inducing Paul Blair to ground out to second.

Cain had a one-hitter until the seventh but, with one out, yielded consecutive singles to Dave Johnson and Andy Etchebarren before walking pinch-hitter Bob Grich, loading the bases. Curt Motton batted for pitcher Jim Palmer and forced Grich, bringing in one run.

Don Buford singled home a second run before Timmerman came on and blanked Baltimore the rest of the way.

Don Wert slammed his second homer of the season in the second inning, opening the Tiger scoring. Norm Cash singled leading off the fourth and Don Wert followed with a one-out single. Both runners advanced on a ground-out, setting up Cain's looping two-run single up the middle.

Ken Szotkiewicz followed singles by Cash and Wert in the eighth inning with a base hit, driving in the final run of the game.

Frank McBride, Lutz Gain R.I. Golf Final

By ED DUCKWORTH

Frank McBride of Rhode Island Country Club, who won the title in 1963, and Norm Lutz of Pawtucket, a perennial contender for the crown, yesterday advanced to the final round of the State Amateur Golf Championship at Pawtucket Country Club.

Their 36-hole championship match will begin this morning at 10 o'clock. The afternoon round is scheduled to get under way about 2.

McBride reached the final for the third time (he lost to Al Faenza of Metacomet in 1954) with two giant-killing victories in yesterday's double round.

The 45-year-old real-estate-insuranceman ousted Ronnie Quinn of West Warwick, the four-time state titlist, in the quarterfinal round, 3 and 1.

Then, after a short pause for lunch, McBride toured the 6,207-yard, par-69 layout in near-par figures again and downed the tourney medalist, 22-year-old Rich Riemer of RICC, 2 and 1.

Lutz, who was the lowest-scoring Rhode Islander in the recent Northeast Amateur Championship, played four-under-par golf in routing Charlie Smith of Winnesuket, 6 and 5, in their quarterfinal match.

The 39-year-old Pawtucket businessman then edged out Joe Sprague of Wannamoisett, the East Providence High School golf and hockey coach, 2 and 1, in the semifinal round.

When Lutz faces McBride today, he will be making his third appearance in a State Amateur final since 1967.

"I'm tired, but I'm playing pretty well and I feel as if I can win," he admitted. "Fortunately, Frank and I are about the same age so neither of us should have an advantage in endurance."

McBride also is confident.

"Beating Ronnie (Quinn) this morning gave me a big lift," he said. "Let's face it — he's the No. 1 target for all of us."

McBride played one-over-par golf in downing Quinn, who consistently found trouble by hooking his second shots.

The 38-year-old West Warwick lawyer reduced his deficit to 2-down by driving the 308-yard 11th hole and two-putting for a birdie, but he never got closer.

"I hurt myself throughout the round with that hook," Quinn said. "And it seemed as if every time I'd win a hole, I'd do something wrong on the next hole and throw away the advantage."

McBride was one over par in downing Riemer, the Bucknell College alumnus who won the medal in Wednesday's qualifying round with an even-par 69.

The turning point of their match came at the 442-yard 16th hole when Riemer failed to reach the green with his second shot, then hit his third to the back edge of the putting surface and eventually settled for a bogey-five.

McBride also was short in two, but chipped to within four feet of the cup and sank the putt for a par for a 1-up lead.

Then on the 414-yard 17th, Riemer pushed his tee shot into the rough behind a tree, chipped out into the fairway and hit his

Sanders, Nicklaus Tie for British Title

U.S. Golfers Duel For Crown Today

St. Andrews, Scotland — (UPI) — Flamboyant Doug Sanders missed a two-foot putt on the last hole in the British Open Golf Tourney yesterday and, as a result, dropped into a tie for the title with Jack Nicklus, bringing about a playoff between the two Americans today.

Sanders, a 36-year-old veteran of the pro tour from Houston, Tex., and Nicklaus, winner of the British Open in 1966, finished with 283 apiece. Their playoff today will be over the 18-hole route.

Nickluas and Sanders both posted final-round one-over-par 73s over the windy 6,951-yard Old Course at St. Andrews, moving past Lee Trevino of El Paso, Tex., leader after the second and third rounds, who soared to a 77 on the final round.

Trevino wound up with a 285, tied for the runnerup spot with Harold Henning of South Africa, who had a final 73.

The defending champion, Tony Jacklin of England, this year's U.S. open titlist, finished with a 76, his worst round of the tournament, for a total of 286.

Next best finish by an American was a 290 by Arnold Palmer, who had a final round of 74.

Billy Casper of Bonita, Calif., had a closing-round 75 and wound up at 293, same as Roberto de Vicenzo of Argentina' 1967 British Open winner.

Sanders, who has never captured any of the four major titles in 14 years on the pro circuit, needed only a par four on the 18th to wrap up the title. But he missed the pressure putt from two feet out, setting up the playoff. The tie assures the U.S. of a winner for the first time since Nicklaus' 1966 crown.

Following Jacklin's 286 were Britishers Neil Coles and Peter Oosterhuis at 287, Hugh Jackson of England at 288 and Australian Peter Thomson, a five-time winner of the tournament, in a group at 289.

Nicklaus said "Thanks, buddy" to Sanders at the press conference afterwards. "I feel darned lucky to be sitting here," Jack added.

Sanders shrugged off suggestions that pressure caused him to miss that vital little putt on the 18th.

"It was just one of those

Indians Get Only 3 Hits But Down Red Sox, 3-1

Cleveland — (AP) — Buddy Bradford's two-run homer and a bases-empty shot by Graig Nettles carried Sam McDowell and the Cleveland Indians to a 3-1 victory over the Boston Redsox yesterday.

The Indians got only three hits, all off starter Ken Brett, 2-3.

McDowell gave up 10 hits, worked out of a bases-loaded jam in the eighth inning and struck out eight on the way to his 13th victory in 17 decisions.

Boston starter Ken Brett walked Chuck Hinton in the second inning before Bradford his fourth homer of the year, giving the Indians a 2-0 jump.

The Red Sox, who have dropped four of their last five starts, scored in the fourth on Carl Yastrzemski's double and a bloop single by Rico Petrocelli.

Nettles gave McDowell an insurance run in the bottom of the inning with his 13th homer. The homers accounted for two of the Indians three hits off Brett, 2-3, and two Boston relievers.

A single by Dick Schofield, Yastrzemski's second double and a walk loaded the bases in the eighth. But McDowell got Petrocelli on a fly to centerfielder Bradford for the third out.

The Red Sox also threatened in the ninth, but McDowell bore down and preserved his third victory over Boston this season.

With one out in the ninth, Billy Conigliaro lined a single to left for his third hit. Jerry Moses followed with a single to left, sending Billy to second.

With the tying runs on base, pinch-hitter Mike Andrews, who had been benched because of a prolonged slump, flied out and

Crowley's Homer Wins for Orioles

Detroit — (AP) — Rookie Terry Crowley belted a tiebreaking two-run homer in the eighth inning sending the Baltimore Orioles to a 6-5 victory over the Detroit Tigers in a nationally-televised game yesterday.

Detroit starter Joe Niekro had walked Brooks Robinson opening the eighth and Crowley greeted reliever Daryl Patterson with his second homer of the season, a shot into the lower deck in left center, breaking a 4-4 deadlock.

The Tigers missed a chance to pull out the game in the eighth when Willie Horton opened with a single, knocking out winner Mike Cuellar, 11-5, and pinch hitter Gates Brown singled off reliever Ed Watt.

After a sacrifice, a ground out scored Horton, Pete Richert relieved and walked pinch hitter Jim Price but then got another

Intrepid Hands Valiant Her First Setback

By DAVE PHILIPS

Intrepid turned things topsy turvy in the America's Cup observation trials yesterday by handing Valiant a decisive defeat in the races off Newport.

Valiant fouled in the maneuvering for the start. Then the New York Yacht Club's race committee started the boats again and in the race that followed Intrepid beat her by two minutes and 14 seconds.

The victory left Intrepid as the only undefeated boat in the current trials, with a 3-0 record. Valiant is now 2-1.

In the other race Weatherly claimed her first victory, beating the Florida contender, Heritage, by two minutes and two seconds.

Both races started from torpedo range buoy H one mile southwest of the Brenton Reef Light Tower and both were sailed over a 24.3-mile course on a slopp sea and in wind varying from 5-12 knots.

They'll race again today, weather permitting, and the pairings will be the same as they were for the first race of the series: Valiant against Heritage first, then Intrepid against Weatherly. The series is to continue through July 18.

The foul came about four minutes before the starting gun was to have been fired and it occurred right under the noses of the race committee.

Valiant broke away from Intrepid after several tight turns, sailed down the starting line on starboard tack and then suddenly bore off and went over onto the port tack.

The two boats converged with Intrepid on starboard tack. Under the racing rules, Valiant was the burdened boat and obliged to keep clear but it was Intrepid that had to alter course to avoid the collision.

"It was all my fault," Valiant skipper Bob McCullough said later. "We caught a wave under the counter. I was having trouble with the trim tab and we flipped over onto the port tack."

McCullough acknowledged the foul even as the red protest flag went up onIntrepid. The foul would have cost Valiant the race if the America's Cup had been on the line but in the trials the skippers are instructed to continue racing when something like this occurs.

The race committee sounded a general recall and went through the starting procedure again.

This time Bill Ficker had Intrepid up to windward but McCullough had Valiant cut ahead so Ficker tacked 45 seconds after the start and headed for the Point Judith shore.

McCullough covered him and for a few minutes Valiant appeared to have the edge. But she gradually fell down onto Intrepid's quarter, affected by what McCullough said was a 10-degree header.

Ten minutes after the start Intrepid was shooting backwind into Valiant's sail and McCul-

Reading Tops PawSox, 4-2, 9-1

The Reading Phillies got two fine pitching performances last night and dropped the Pawtucket Red Sox to a double defeat before 1,284 fans at McCoy Stadium. Pawtucket had started the evening with a 3-game winning streak.

The Phillies won the first game, 4-2, and then capitalized on Smith Holland's pitching and two big innings for a 9-1 victory in the nightcap.

The Phillies started quickly in the nightcap and built up a 3-0 lead in the first inning off Pawtucket starter and loser Jack Curtis.

Curtis settled down after the first inning, but the Red Sox could do little with the pitching of Holland, who limited them to three hits over the first five innings.

In the fifth inning, the Phillies exploded for six runs on just two hits. A single, four walks, and a three-run homer by Larry Cox over the right field fence accounted for the Reading runs.

Holland began to tire in the late innings and the Sox loaded the bases in the sixth with two out. But Holland bore down and retired Carlton Fisk on a fly to right.

In the seventh, the Sox ruined Holland's shutout bid on singles by Chico Crespo, Rick Miller, Ben Oglivie and Tony Torchia. With the bases loaded and one out, Holland forced Steve Kolin-third shot about 30 feet from the cup.

McBride hit a solid drive, drilled a five-wood about 20 feet from the hole and two-putted for the par which earned him victory.

Lutz and Sprague also were even after the first nine in their semifinal match.

But Lutz went 1 up when he won the 400-yard 10th hole with a par, then parred the remaining six holes.

Sprague Tops Champion

Sprague, who had downed the defending champion, Pete McBride of Metacomet, 3 and 2, in the quarterfinal round, fought determinedly but was unable to close the gap.

The East Providence veteran, bothered throughout the week by bursitis in his upper back, actually prolonged the match with a brilliant par on the 156-yard 15th hole.

There, he trapped his tee shot, then exploded 30 feet short of the cup and rolled in the halving putt.

But Lutz apparently wasn't rattled by that turn of events and ended the match on the very next hole with a regulation par as Sprague chipped poorly and recorded a bogie-five.

The summary:

Swinging With the Indians: Tony Conigliaro of Red Sox, left, is restrained by Cleveland's Ray Fosse as unidentified Boston player holds off pitcher Fred Lasher in brawl yesterday after Tony had been hit by pitcher. Sox Beat Tribe Twice; Brawl Marks 2nd Tilt

Cleveland —(UPI) — Two-run homers by Tony Conigliaro and John Kennedy and solo shots by Rico Petrocelli, Billy Conigliaro and Tom Satriano yesterday powered the Boston Red Sox to 6-2 and 8-2 victories over the Cleveland Indians in a doubleheader marked by a free-for-all.

Tony Conigliaro, who smacked his 17th homer in the opener, was tossed out of the game in the first inning of the nightcap. After Carl Yastrzemski had singled with two out, the Cleveland starter, Fred Lasher, hit Conigliaro on the left arm with his next pitch.

The Boston outfielder charged out to the mound, kicked Lasher in the left thigh and left-hooked him on the nose. Both teams rushed out on the field and, after peace had been restored, Conigliaro made another charge. This time the plate umpire, Hank Soar, thumbed him out. Boston's Reggie Smith grabbed Conigliaro and pushed him into the dugout.

Yesterday's incident was not entirely unexpected. In a game at Boston July 4, a pitch by Lasher close to Conigliaro's head forced Tony to hit the dirt. Conigliaro then arose and hit one of Lasher's pitches for a homer. Previous to the Conigliaro knockdown, Steve Dunning, the Cleveland starter, and the Red Sox pitcher, Sonny Seibert, had been warned by the umpire for throwing too close.)

Conigliaro was nearly blinded and was sidelined for the entire 1968 season after being beaned by a pitch by Jack Hamilton of the California Angels on Aug. 18, 1967.

During the recent series in Boston Lasher was quoted as saying, "That Conigliaro better watch out the next time we meet."

"I was ready for anything," Conigliaro said after yesterday's dash. "When the ball hit me, I just raced out to the mound and kicked him. I really don't know why Lasher said he was out to get me."

After things settled down, Petrocelli singed home Yastrzemski and the Red Sox chased Lasher in the second with back-to-back homers by Conigliaro and Satriano and Mike Fiore's sacrifice fly.

Singles by Billy Conigliaro, Satriano, a force play and Kennedy's two-run homer gave the Red Sox three more runs in the third and Smith tripled and scored on a wild pitch in the eighth.

Ted Uhlaender's two-run homer put the Indians on the scoreboard in the third. Siebert went 6 2-3 innings in picking up his eighth victory against five losses in the finale.

The Red Sox gave Ray Culp his ninth victory of the season in the opener by taking a 2-0 lead in the first inning on a passed ball and a bases-loaded walk. Tony Conigliaro's two-run homer made it 4-0 in the fifth and Petrocelli smacked his 15th homer of the season in the eighth after Culp had squeezed in a run in the sixth.

Petrocelli's round-tripper gave the Red Sox their 100th homer of the year making it 25 straight years that Boston has hit 100 or more homers. Back-to-back homers by Duke Sims and Tony Horton gave the Indians their runs in the sixth.

Keino Wins Easily In Scottish 1,500

Grandemouth, Scotland —(AP) — Kip Keino, Kenyan track star, ran away with a 1,000-meter race in two minutes, 27.9 seconds yesterday and brightened up a cold and damp international track and field meet, staged as a warmup for the coming Commonwealth Games.

The 30-year-old Kenyan took the lead after 300 meters and never looked back. He finished 15 yards ahead of another Kenyan, David Mungali, who was second in 02:29.8. Chris Fisher of Australia was a poor third.

Keino, a 1,500-meter gold medalist at the Mexico Olympics in 1968, is expected to run in the 1,500 and 5,000 meters at the Commonwealth Games, which open in Edinburgh Thursday.

About 400 competitors from 40 countries had a sample of the might get at the games. Early events were held in a drizzle, and then a wind blew up and whistled across the stadium.

Before the steeplechase, officials had to fill up the water jump because the wind had blown all the water out of it.

Swimmer Gives up, For Good Reason

Berlin — (UPI) — Maidenly modesty prevailed over national prestige yesterday at the East German Swimming Championships in Brandenburg.

The East German news agency, ADN, said that 10 meters after she had splashed off in the 200-meter freestyle an "unusual mishap" befell the European record-holder, Gabriele Wetzko—her bathing suit began to come off.

"She had to give up," said ADN succintly.

Drug Tests Ordered In British Meet

Edinburgh, Scotland — (UPI) — Random drug tests will be carried out on competitors in the Commonwealth Games, officials announced yesterday.

Competitors will be automatically disqualified if the tests — for stimulants, tranquilizers, narcotics and amphetamines — prove positive.

For the first time, tests also will be made for anabolic steriods, hormone drugs which help athletes gain weight, they said.

Lutz Wins Amateur Golf

first hole in ... Lutz launched a bristling attack on Pawtucket's par and Frank McBride's lead, beat both of them, and became amateur golf champion of Rhode Island yesterday. His margin in a stirring duel was 2 and 1.

Lutz and McBride, a former champion from the Rhode Island Country Club, waged one of the better duels in recent RIGA history. They had long stretches of superb golf, rare erratic streaks.

Lutz' position was at best precarious after McBride had fired a 67, two under par, on the first 18 holes. Lutz' prospects became even more dubious when McBride went four up with a birdie three on the first hold in the afternoon.

But, with disaster threatening, Lutz recaptured his touch and began a rally that wiped out his deficit and put him in the van in a span of six holes. Norm knocked in a putt from off the green for a winning birdie at the second and cut his deficit to two with a par at the third where McBride chipped well past the hole.

They halved the third in par and also the fourth, but there each missed his birdie putt by approximately the thickness of a blade of grass. Then, with Lutz going under par at the seventh and eighth while McBride was enduring a wild streak, the match was squared.

At the seventh Frank faded his tee shot among the trees, where he had precious little swinging room. He barley got out of that difficulty and wound up in the rough, still considerably short of the green, Lutz ... ful ap... pin ... masterful ... ball stopping a couple of feet from the pin. McBride picked hip trap shot off cleanly, skied it over the green and wound up with a five.

Lutz took the lead for the first time all day when he rolled in a healthy putt for a birdie at the eighth and now was really galloping.

Lutz, an excellent putter, startled everyone in the gallery ... about 1,500, as well as himself, when he missed a two-footer at the ninth and had to settle for a halve.

However, he solidified his position by winning the 10th with a par when McBride drove into the rough, left himself short with his approach and took a five. Frank made it a ball game again when he parred the 11th while Norm was three-putting, and it remained Lutz one up when they parred the 12th.

At 13, a 174-yarder, both missed the green but Lutz chipped with remarkable precision, sank a short putt and went two up. Once again McBride came back, knocking in a nine-footer for a winning birdie at the 14th, but that was to be it for him.

They halved the short 15th and Lutz took the 16th despite driving into the trees. He was short in two, but chipped to within 10 inches from the cup for an easy four. McBride's woes there included a trapped tee shot and a chip that didn't come off well, and he went two down with two to play.

They halved the 17th and it was congratulations time, both of them meriting applause for their stirring play.

During the morning round both had stretches of excellent scoring. McBride was one under for the front nine and three up, having sunk birdie putts of three and 15 feet at the fourth and fifth. Frank went five up by taking the 11th with a birdie and the 12th with a par but that menacing situation only served to get Lutz going full blast. From that point through the 18th Norm had four pars and two birdies, that at the 13th resulting from a 30-foot putt. At 18, it was a 20-footer that did the trick.

Each played the back nine in the morning in 33, one under.

In the afternoon it was Lutz who did the fancy scoring, one under for the front nine, one over for the eight holes played in the back nine.

It was Norm's third final in four years and his first state amateur championship after ever so many tries. Victory was particularly gratifying to him because he charged from the depths to the title in a matter of 16 holes.

Another winner in this particularly well conducted tournament was the Burke Scholarship Fund for caddies. Women members of the Pawtucket club sold tickets for a dollar to all interested in contributing each of the five days. They collected $1,818!

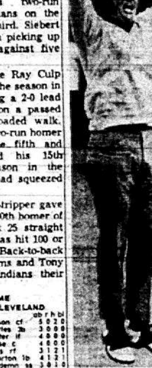
Nicklaus Takes British Open



Jumping for Joy: Jack Nicklaus when his winning putt dropped in British Open. —Associated Press Wirephoto

St. Andrews, Scotland —(AP) —Jack Nicklaus, although pressured by surging Doug Sanders and the thought of his first major golf title in three years, cooly sank a seven-foot birdie putt on the final playoff hole and won the British Open yesterday.

With some 20,000 spectators looking on in one of the most thrilling finishes on the ancient St. Andrews Old Course, Nicklaus dramatically succeeded where Sanders had failed Saturday with a similar putt that would have given him the title in regulation play.

Entering the final hole with only one stroke left of a fourstroke lead he had after 13 holes, Nicklaus put himself in trouble on the gentle rough at the back of the green with his drive on the par-4, 358-yard hole.

Sanders was just short of the green and chipped to within four feet, and asudden death playoff appeared likely. But Nicklaus came up with two tremendous pressure shots—a sand wedge to within seven feet and then the climactic putt.

Sanders also sank his now meaningless putt for a birdie as he settled for a 73 and the $9,000 second prize while Nicklaus took the $12,600 top prize with his par 72.

The money, however, was incidental to the prestige and accompanying fringe benefits that go with this major title. Texan Lee Trevino, who led by two strokes after two rounds, described it as "worth a million bucks if I can land it."

This was the first major title for Nicklaus since he won the U.S. Open in 1967, and he is the first American to win here since he also beat out Sanders in 1966. Nicklaus has finished second here three times.

For Sanders, it was a bitter disappointment after finishing second in the 1959 PGA event, runnerup in the U.S. Open in 1961 and again second to Nicklaus four years ago. The colorful native of Georgia had all but disappeared from the golfing scene without a tournamant victory in three years and had to qualify for this tournament. Sanders could have won it Saturday on the 72nd hole of regulation play, but missed a three-foot putt to drop into a tie at 283 with Nicklaus and force the 18-hole playoff. He entered yesterdays pressure-packed playoff the decided underdog, and Nicklaus looked an easy winner as he steadily pulled into a foar-stroke lead with par golf for the first 13 holes.

Sanders bogeyed the No. 3, 4, 11 and 13 holes on the blustery—the wind gusted to 38 miles per hour—6,951-yard course by the North Sea.

Refusing to be discouraged, Sanders picked up a stroke on each of the next three holes. Sanders chipped to within six feet on the 560-yard 14th and sank a birdie putt, grabbed another bird at the 413-yard 15th with a 12-footer and then parred No. 16 while Nicklaus had his first bogey. Both parred the 17th to set up the final drama.

Harold Henning of South Africa and Trevino tied for third at 285 after four rounds and defending champions Tony Jacklin, who recently won the U.S. Open, was next at 286. Neil Coles and Peter Oosterhuis of England were at 287.

Tommy Horton of England and Peter Thomson of Australia finished at 289 and Arnold Palmer at 290.

Nicklaus, Sanders To Play in Philly

Philadelphia — (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, winner of the British Open Golf Championship yesterday and runnerup Doug Sanders, who lost by one stroke, will meet again this week at the eighth annual Whitemarsh Country Club Classic here.

Other pro-circuit winners expected at Whitemarsh are Billy Casper, defending-champion Dave Hill, Frank Bears, Lee Trevino and Homero Blancas.

The tournament, to run through July 19, will be sponsored for the second year in a row by the Industrial Valley Bank. It will feature a $150,000 purse, with a $30,000 prize for first place. A spokesman for the event said all proceeds will go to the St. Christopher's Hospital for Children in Philadelphia.

Other stars appearing will be Gene Littler, Julias Buros, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Dan Sikes and Don January.

Orioles Get Split, Chase McLain

Detroit —(AP) —Baltimore nailed Denny McLain and two relief pitchers for seven runs in the sixth inning yesterday and Boog Powell knocked in four runs as the Orioles clobbered the Tigers, 13-3, and split a double-header.

Cesar Gutierrez drove in three runs and the Tigers tagged Dave McNally for seven runs in three innings in winning the opener, 7-3. The standoff left the Tigers six games behind Baltimore in the American League's Eastern Division.

McLain made his fourth start in the second game and was tagged for six runs and eight hits in five and a third innings. Powell hit a two-run homer off him in the first inning and Elrod Hendricks had a two-run blast in the fourth.

The Tigers jumped McNally in the opener and went on and won in a protested game.

Manager Earl Weaver of Baltimore protested the game because of a play in the hectic second inning. Mickey Lolich, the Tigers' pitcher, was safe on an error on his bunt. Weaver claimed Lolich had interfered with catcher Andy Etchebarren, who had thrown the ball past first. Detroit scored three times in the inning.

Mickey Stanley, Bill Freehan and Al Kaline homered for Detroit and Gutierrez knocked in one run with a squeeze bunt and two more with a single.

Senators Beat Yanks, 7-3

Washington ... — The Washington ... greeted All-Star pitcher Mel Stottlemyre with a four-run first inning yesterday, knocked him out in the second and breezed to a 7-3 victory over the New York Yankees behind Jim Hannan.

Del Unser singled home a pair of runs in the first inning after Frank Howard and Bernie Allen singled in one apiece. Paul Casanova added a fifth-inning homer off Ron Klinkowski and Ed Brinkman had four hits.

It was the sixth victory for the Senators in eight games with the slumping Yankees over the last two weekends.

The Yanks opened the game by scoring a quick run off Hannan on Horace Clarke's leadoff double and Bobby Murcer's single and had base runners in every inning. Hannan was tagged for a two-run pinch homer by Ron Hansen in the ninth and Darold Knowles mopped up.

Brinkman led off with a double for the Senators in the first and scored on Howard's one-out single. Rick Reichardt was hit by a pitch and Allen singled, scoring Howard. After an intentional walk to Aurelio Rodriguez and a pop-up, Unser singled home two runs.

Singles by Brinkman and Reichardt around a walk finished Stottlemyre, 8-8, in the second.
