

Relax, don't take All-Star Game seriously

In countless homes and pubs tonight, the scene will be the same as tens of millions of fans settle into their seats, maybe adjust the television set one final time and prepare for what Arch Ward called the "Midsummer Dream Game."

But what they'll be watching hardly will be an All-Star game — at least for the first three innings when all starters are on the field.

But an All-Star Game? Not unless you consider a mediocre fielding second baseman hitting around .240 an All-Star. Or one shortstop who couldn't catch a cold and one who couldn't hit a hot-air balloon. Or players who've used a glove in something like one-third of their games.

The best idea is to regard tonight's 51st All-Star Game in Los Angeles as a game of make-believe, a first-time participant is (a) a crutching box, (b) a burman's bolter, (c) a sorry excuse to suspend pennant races.

Trouble is, a lot of people — most of them out of baseball — consider the game important. They get all bent out of shape because the American League has won exactly once since John F. Kennedy was President.

That being the case, the time has come for some serious reform in how the starters are selected for Ward's dream-turned-nightmare. Again.

For probably the eighth or ninth time in the 11 years since they've been allowed to choose the All-Star starters, fans have botched it up.

Art Turgeon

Is Dent better than Burleson?

Now, 13 years after the fans were enfranchised again amid righteous claims of giving "the game" back to the fans, the fans have botched it up.

Well, that's not entirely true. Fans in Coventry or Cumberland and Des Moines probably deserve it. But they don't have it, really. They're getting railroaded just as much as deserving players by the glut of fans in New York and Los Angeles who dominate the voting.

This year, the Big Apple and the Big Smog, especially the Big Smog, have done it again. Is erratic Bill Russell the best N.L. shortstop? Is Davey

Lopes deserving of being the top vote-getter of an? Do Dodgers players deserve to be first on second in seven of eight positions — counting the outfield as three spots? Hardly. But L.A. fans think so.

In the American League, is Bucky Dent (251) the All-Star shortstop, better than Robin Yount (.325) Rick Burleson (.290) and Alan Trammell (.328)? And is No. 3 Fred Patek (224) the best pitcher?

Who finished an unbelievable seventh?

Rice outpelling Oglivie?

The Boston Red Sox don't think Burleson should take a back seat to Dent and Patek.

"It's brutal," said Carlton Fisk, the American's starting catcher.

"It's brutal," said Carlton Fisk, the American's starting catcher.

Burleson isn't the only one left out. For example, in the National League, the fans didn't get the fans' nod in the National, nine of the top 10 batters, three of the top five in homers and four of the top six in RBI didn't make it.

The A.L. situation is aggravated by the designated-hitter rule. Because of this, Rod Carew is the starting first baseman and Reggie Jackson a starting outfielder, even though both play about as much defense lately as Steve Grogan.

One key, obviously, at least in cases other than among fans who loved Oglivie. But the Yankee-platypus pajamas, or see only Angels' halo — is that voters always forget they're supposed to pick the 1980 All-Stars. Not the 1975 or 1976 versions.

That's why they had Jim Rice (.261) outpelling Ben Oglivie (home-run leader) Graig Nettles (.246) topping Buddy Bell (.300) Dave Concepcion (.239) outpunning

AND Steve Yeager (.200) over Ted Simmons (.277) and outfielders ahead of George Hendrick (.310) and Dale Murphy (.305) not even making the top 10 outfielders.

'Just a popularity contest'

Indeed, a New York Times poll differed with the fan managers, Earl Weaver of the American and Chuck Tanner of the National, have remedied some injustices in

But many others, including the Sox' manager Don Zimmer, want to see more. This year's vote is the only one

"I never thought it should be given to 'em," said Zimmer recently, "not if you want to have a true All-Star team. I've always thought it should be managers, players and coaches and a few media who travel with the club. Now it's just a popularity contest."

So relax, pour out a long, cool one and, by all means, enjoy the game. But don't take it too seriously. Even the players don't do that.

PURE POWER: Top-seeded John Sadri booms a serve under the watchful eye of a line judge yesterday during Miller Hall of Fame tournament at the Newport Casino. Story on Page B-2.

Surprising Dietz zips into Amateur lead

BY PAUL KENYON
Journal-Bulletin Sports Writer
EAST PROVIDENCE — Dave Dietz, one of the field's least heralded players, left the favorites in his wake yesterday when he fired an even-par 69 at the Wannamoisett Country Club and took the first-round lead in the annual R.I. Golf Association Amateur Championship.

Dietz, an 18-year-old East Providence resident who plays out of Wannamoisett, won several junior tournaments last summer, but, for the most part, is very new to top-flight competition. He graduated last month from La Salle Academy, but could not play high school golf this past season because of the league's five-year rule. He began his high school career at Providence Country Day and transferred to La Salle, thus making him ineligible this past season. But if a few people knew him before the day started, they learned about him before the day was finished. Dietz was the only player in the field able to match par on the beautiful but demanding 6,630-yard Wannamoisett layout, made even harder because of strong winds.

He had to play a safe shot. And each time he made bogey, his only bogey all day. He balanced those out with three birds, hitting a six-iron on the 183-yard eighth hole to 15 feet and making the putt dropping a wedge on the 335-yard 13th hole 10 feet from the cup and sinking that one, and chipping to within eight feet on the course's only par-five, the 345-yard 17th, and canning that putt. "I really played well. It wasn't a junk 69," Dietz said. The score matched his best ever in tournament competition. "It's the fourth 69 I've had," he said. Dietz, who is headed by Virginia Tech in September on a golf scholarship, finished on a tie for ninth in a national junior tournament in Ohio two weeks ago. His game has improved, he said, since he began working with Paul Butler, the pro at Agawam Hunt. "He has helped me with my swing," he says. "He says he's making me more of a swinger than a hitter." Whatever Butler has done, it didn't hurt Dietz yesterday.

IN SECOND PLACE at 71 entering today's second and last round of medal play was 18-year-old Andy Magiera, a public course player from the Washington Golf Course in Coventry. Magiera, whose brother, Dr. Dan Magiera, the runner-up to Paul Petrarca last year, was even par until bogeying two of the final three holes.

Until yesterday, the main claim to fame for Magiera, who works at General Dynamics at Quonset Point, was that he once won the club championships at three public courses — Washington, Coventry Pines and Cranston — in the same year.

Jerry Pascale of Quiddessett, who has just returned to the game after suffering severe injuries in a motorcycle accident last year, was at 72 along with John Riccio of Metacom.

The big names started popping up at 73, with five players at that score, including former champs Norm Lutz of Pawtucket and Kevin Clary of Potowomut and three-time junior champion Brad Faxon of Rhode Island Country Club.

THE CUT fell at 79 with 69 players qualifying. They will compete today for 31 spots and the right to join the defending champion, Petrarca, for match-play action, which begins tomorrow and continues through to Friday's 36-hole final.

Among the casualties were two-time champion Stan Abrams of Metacom (80), Dr. Magiera, last year's finalist who had an 81 in one of his first full rounds since undergoing an appendectomy about a month ago, new Public champion Gary Sykes of Triggs (82) and former champion Angie Santilli of Potowomut, who was involved in a minor car accident on his way to the course and did not make his starting time.

Artistry vs. power in All-Star tilt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It will be the controlled curvball artistry of Steve Stone for the American League against the sheer fastball power of J.R. Richard for the National League at the start of the 51st All-Star baseball game tonight at Dodger Stadium.

Stone, of the Baltimore Orioles, and Richard, of the Houston Astros, were named to open the game by managers Earl Weaver for the American League and Chuck Tanner for the National.

It will be the ultimate contrast of styles: Stone is a finesse pitcher, Richard relies on speed.

Tanner, always helpful to the opposition, offered some insight into Richard's style for Weaver. Planting his tongue firmly in his cheek, the manager of the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates began this way.

"Well, Earl, you have to watch for his screwball first," the Pirate manager began.

"And his palm ball, boy, he really gets good rotation and movement on that one. You know, he really spots the ball in and out."

WHAT TANNER neglected to mention, but what Weaver already knew about, is Richard's fastball, a burner that could be awesome in the twilight of Dodger Stadium.

Weaver inserted Willie Randolph and Graig Nettles of the New York Yankees and Milwaukee slugger Ben Oglivie in his starting lineup, replacing three injured players who had been elected in the fan balloting.

Randolph, playing second base in place of Milwaukee's Paul Molitor, will lead off. Nettles, replacing George Brett of Kansas City at third base, bats seventh. Oglivie, the major leagues' home run leader with 21, will bat fifth and play left field.

Tanner had one lineup change of his own, substituting Ken Reitz of St. Louis at third base for injured Mike Schmidt of Philadelphia. Reitz will bat seventh in the N.L. batting order.

Tanner said his selection of Richard for the starter's job did not involve the twilight starting time.

"I felt Steve Carlton and J.R. were 1-2 for the honor," he said. "Carlton pitched Sunday, so that left Richard."

THE HOUSTON ace last pitched on Thursday, so he comes into the game

Majors' attendance ahead of record pace
NEW YORK (AP) — Attendance at major league baseball games this season is more than 115,000 fans ahead of last year's record pace, the commissioner's office announced yesterday.

Through July 6, a total of 20,880,628 fans have seen games, putting this season's pace 115,000 fans ahead of last year's at this time. A record total of 43,550,398 saw major league baseball in 1979.

The commissioner's office also announced that baseball had its greatest attendance week ever in the June 30-July 6 period, when 2,280,324 fans attended games. That broke the record for a one-week period last year, when 2,276,480 witnessed games in the July 2-8 period.

CONNECTICUT BILLIARDS
NEW LONDON, Conn. — The Connecticut State All-Around Billiard Championships will be held at the Holiday Inn off I-95 in New London Saturday (7 p.m.) and Sunday (1 p.m.). The winners will be crowned pool nine-ball and trick shots.

All-Star lineups

AMERICAN
Brewer, N.Y. 10
Caray, Cal. 10
Lynn, N.Y. 10
Garvey, N.Y. 10
Dwight, N.Y. 10
Fisk, Bos. 10
Nettel, N.Y. 10
Dent, N.Y. 10
Stone, Bal. 10
Yeager, N.Y. 10
Barnett, N.Y. 10
Garcia, Cal. 10

NATIONAL
Lopez, Cal. 10
Smith, Cal. 10
Parker, Cal. 10
Garvey, Cal. 10
Kingsman, Cal. 10
Baker, Cal. 10
Richard, Cal. 10
Barnett, Cal. 10
Garcia, Cal. 10

with a full four days of rest. He is 10-4 for the season with an earned run average of 1.56.

Stone was chosen by Weaver because the Baltimore manager thinks his veteran curvballer could have an advantage against a National League lineup which has seven right-handed hitters.

"He's 12-3, tied with Tommy John as the top winner in our league," said Weaver. "He's got three days rest."

Stone relies on breaking pitches. He is control specialist who blossomed this season when he got a chance to pitch regularly in Weaver's rotation.

"We signed him as a free agent last year, as pitching insurance, a spot starter," said Weaver. "That's a tough role for a pitcher. He sometimes has to pitch on eight or nine days rest and that doesn't make for good control."

It changed this year for Stone when Weaver started using him fulltime.

"I'VE PLAYED this game for 12 years and I've never received any honors," said Stone. "Now, in the last two weeks, I've been named American League player of the week and pitcher of the month and now I'm starting the All-Star Game. I know I didn't sell my soul to the devil, but I'm having a tough time convincing my parents."

Tanner's opening lineup against him has second baseman Davey Lopes of Los Angeles leading off, followed by Dodger right fielder Reggie Smith. Then it's Dave Parker of Pittsburgh in center field, first baseman Steve Garvey of L.A., Cincinnati catcher Johnny Bench, Chicago Cubs left fielder Dave Kingman, Reitz, Bill Russell of the Dodgers at shortstop and Richard.

The A.L. starting lineup has Randolph leading off, followed by California first baseman Rod Carew, center fielder Fred Lynn of Boston, Reggie Jackson of New York in right field, Oglivie, Carlton Fisk of Boston catching, Nettles, Bucky Dent of New York at shortstop, and Stone.

The game is a sellout and will be broadcast by CBS radio and ABC television. The 5:40 PDT starting time, designed to accommodate TV audiences in the East, will put the ball in Richard's hand as twilight creeps over the mountains of Chavez Ravine.

That is an awesome prospect, but Richard shrugs it off.

"Whenever I get ready to pitch," he said, "it doesn't make any difference whether it's twilight or midnight."

NEW ENGLAND MAINTENANCE
• COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL PAINTING
• SANDBLASTING
• HYDROBLASTING
• GPO PROOFING OF BUILDINGS
BONDED-INSURED
401-421-5812

EXCELLENT SELECTION NEW and USED
PICARD
OF WARWICK
1401 BALD HILL RD.
RTE. 1
828-7000

SELL IT!
IN THE YANKEE TRADER
Classified Ads

Carlton is lowest.
Carlton Box—lowest of all brands. Less than 0.01 mg. tar, 0.002 mg. nic.
Carlton 100's Box—lowest of all 100's. 1 mg. tar, 0.1 mg. nic.
Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking is Dangerous to Your Health.
Box Less than 0.01 mg. tar, 0.002 mg. nicotine.
100's Box Less than 0.01 mg. tar, 0.1 mg. nicotine per cigarette by FTC method.
Soft Pack Less than 0.01 mg. tar, 0.05 mg. nicotine per cigarette by FTC method.
0.5 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette, FTC Report Dec. '78.

'Too Tall' Jones agrees to play football again for Dallas Cowboys

Page B-3

Sports

The Providence Journal, Section B — Wednesday, July 9, 1980 E

Griffey sparks N.L. to 9th in row, 4-2

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ken Griffey's home run touched off a comeback that carried the National League to a 4-2 victory over the American League last night.

The N.L. losing streak in interleague play was snapped by Griffey's home run in the fifth inning.

Before Griffey struck, in the fifth inning, the N.L. had gone down in order against American League starter Steve Stone of the Baltimore Orioles.

more Orioles and reliever Tommy John of the New York Yankees. The Americans had seized the lead on a two-run homer by Steve Stone in the fourth.

Griffey's home run came with two out in the fifth. He came apart, suddenly and swiftly as it has so often in this series for the Americans, who once led the All-Star series, 12-4.

With two out in the fifth, Griffey, the Cincinnati outfielder, woke up the National League dugout.

John had a one-run homer when he struck out in the fourth. The ball sailed over the center-field fence and suddenly the Americans were in the lead.

An inning later, the lead was gone again.

With one out in the sixth, Ray Knight of the Reds came to bat for the first time. Knight had taken over for starter Ken Rietz and didn't take long for him to get involved in the game.

The Pirates single to left field — only the second hit for the Nationals.

Now it was Phil Garner of the Pittsburgh second base who was over in the field.

Griffey got the lead back in the sixth.

The Pirates infielder, who had 12 at-bats in the World Series last year, capped a single past second baseman Willie Randolph. Knight stopped at second.

That brought up George Heideck, another National League sub. The St. Louis slugger drilled Griffey's next pitch.

Griffey, tying the score at 2-2.

Ed Farmer of the Chicago White Sox pitched for the A.L. in the seventh.

Griffey misjudged the ball for his second error of the game, and Garner scored the go-ahead run.

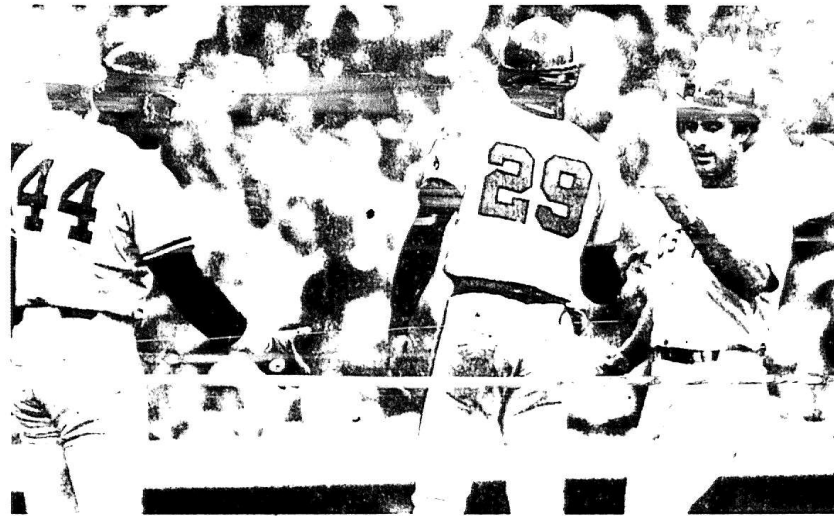

In the seventh inning, the Nationals came back for more, capitalizing on the wild play of young Toronto pitcher Dave facied in the first three innings striking out three. It marked the first perfect three innings for an All-Star since since Dennis McLain did it for the A.L. in 1966.

Griffey's day it will not make what I've done," said Stone, the journeyman pitcher.

For the Americans, the first three innings were a string of missed opportunities against starter J.R. Richard and reliever Bob Welch. The Americans stranded five runners over that stretch and the wasted chances.

Griffey's two hits earned the Reds' outfielder the game's Most Valuable Player Award. He received the presentation from commissioner Bowie Kuhn in front of the National League dugout. The commissioner never seems to get a chance to visit the American League dugout anymore.

GREETINGS: Fred Lynn (right) is greeted by Rod Carew (29) and Reggie Jackson after hitting home run in All-Star Game

Our league better, say N.L. players

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The National League All-Stars — nearly a man — usually believe their league has better players.

The N.L. won its ninth consecutive All-Star Game last night posting a 4-2 victory over the American League.

"It's easy now to draw lines between the leagues and say we're definitely better," said Pittsburgh pitcher Jim Bibby, who worked one inning and gave up a hit. "But we're both solid."

But to be honest, I think we've been a bit sharper. Maybe we just came up with better players."

Los Angeles outfielder Reggie Smith, who went hitless in two at-bats, echoed Bibby.

Griffey "piled" with his second hit of the game, a single to right. Steve Stone pitched for the A.L. in the seventh.

In the second, Stone pitched to the same A.L. walk to Ben Oglive and Bucky Dent's two-out hit-and-run single gave the American League runners at second and third. But Stone struck out, ending the inning.

In the third, Randolph opened with a single, but Welch picked him off first base. It was costly because Carew followed with a double to the left-field corner that almost certainly would have scored Randolph had he been on base.

Carew reached third on a wild pitch as Jackson walked with two out. But again, the rally fizzled as Oglive struck out.

The game was still scoreless in the fifth when the American League broke through with two out. Carew reached base for the third time, drilling a single to right. The count stretched to 3-and-2 on Lynn and then the Boston center fielder struck out.

Faxon mounts late charge, wins Amateur medal by one

By PAUL KENYON

It was the tournament favorite, Brad Faxon sure is now.

Faxon, the 18-year-old Barnington resident who plays out of the Rhode Island Country Club, fired a 72 yesterday at the Wannamoisett Country Club and won medalist honors in the annual R.I. Golf Association Amateur Championship.

The 72 gave the sophomore at Furman University in Greenville, S.C., a 145 total and the top score by one stroke over another college student, Rick Edwards of the host club.

While Edwards is one of a number of surprises among the 32 players who qualified for the match-play portion of the tournament that begins today, Faxon certainly is not a surprise.

Despite never having won a match in this tournament, Faxon was rated a slight favorite before the event began. A three-time state junior champion, Faxon had an excellent season at Furman this past year. Two weeks ago, on the same Wannamoisett course, Faxon was the low New Englander, and tied for sixth overall, in the Northeast Amateur.

In two previous tries in the State Amateur he had failed to make the cut (1978) and been beaten in the first round (last year). But Tom Weikal of Woonsocket, his first-round opponent this morning, appeared to be in for a major challenge if Faxon continues playing the way he did on the first two days.

The former Barnington High All-Stater won the medal with a late charge. He entered the second round in a tie for fifth

Summary on Page B-4

Faxon (who was 146 after the first two rounds) of the Northeast, left the course playing at least as tough as it had in the Northeast two weeks ago.

"THE WIND really picked up and we had some rain while we were on the sixth and seventh holes. It played just about as long, too. It was tough," he said.

All the players struggled to stay anywhere near Faxon's 145 total, which was one of the highest medalist scores in memory and, to make the cut, a player needed to shoot 155 — 17-over-par — for 36 holes. The 155 is one of the highest qualifying scores in years.

The only player able to stay with Faxon to the end was Edwards, who played in the group with Faxon and shot his second straight 73. A junior at the University of Illinois, Edwards could have tied for the medal but he not also bogeyed the final hole. It will be Edwards' first time in match play.

Amby Magura of the Washington Golf Course in Coventry also was in the chase for the medal but blasted out of a bunker on 16 over the fence. He finished with a nine on the par-four hole and ended at 150 in a tie for 11th.

Paul Quigley of RICC, who had yesterday's best round, an even-par 69, tied for third at 147. He was there with Matt Zito of the Connecticut College and Jerry Pascale of Quinnipiac College, whose career was ended at an end last August when he suffered serious leg and wrist injuries in a motorcycle accident, had 75 yesterday, Zito 74.

DAVE DIETZ, the first-day leader at 69, got to a rough start, going six-over in the first four holes, and settled for a 79 and 148 total. He was tied with veteran Norm Lutz of Pawtucket.

Among those failing to make match play was former champion Kevin Clary of Potowomut, who skied to an 85 and 158 total. Two former champions, Leo Marcotte of Triggs and Ron Quinn of West Warwick, both just got in under the wire at 154.

Two rounds are on tap today, two more tomorrow and the 36-hole final on Friday.

"I SAW the difference in 1971 when I came to the National League. Smith spent eight years in the American League and played on two All-Star teams and in seven years here, I've played in five. So I think I've seen enough to be able to say that."

"The National League has better individual players, more true superstars. And it's that talent that comes out in the end."

Fred Lynn of the Boston Red Sox gave the A.L. a 2-0 lead in the fifth inning, after the shadows in Dodger Stadium turned to darkness. Smith said Lynn's home run was the beginning of the end for the American League.

"THAT TWILIGHT makes it almost impossible to hit," Smith said. "When Lynn hit his homer, we all turned to see who else and said I guess we can see now."

Dodger teammate Davey Lopes, who also was hitless in two at-bats for the National League, said the A.L. may have better teams than the National League, but that means nothing during an All-Star Game.

"I really don't know the league so I don't want to knock them," Lopes said. "But I have to believe there's more overall talent in the National League."

AMERICAN LEAGUE	NATIONAL LEAGUE
Ranking	Ranking
1. Steve Carlton, 21	1. Tom Seaver, 21
2. N.L. All-Stars, 20	2. Steve Carlton, 20
3. Steve Carlton, 19	3. Steve Carlton, 19
4. Steve Carlton, 18	4. Steve Carlton, 18
5. Steve Carlton, 17	5. Steve Carlton, 17
6. Steve Carlton, 16	6. Steve Carlton, 16
7. Steve Carlton, 15	7. Steve Carlton, 15
8. Steve Carlton, 14	8. Steve Carlton, 14
9. Steve Carlton, 13	9. Steve Carlton, 13
10. Steve Carlton, 12	10. Steve Carlton, 12
11. Steve Carlton, 11	11. Steve Carlton, 11
12. Steve Carlton, 10	12. Steve Carlton, 10
13. Steve Carlton, 9	13. Steve Carlton, 9
14. Steve Carlton, 8	14. Steve Carlton, 8
15. Steve Carlton, 7	15. Steve Carlton, 7
16. Steve Carlton, 6	16. Steve Carlton, 6
17. Steve Carlton, 5	17. Steve Carlton, 5
18. Steve Carlton, 4	18. Steve Carlton, 4
19. Steve Carlton, 3	19. Steve Carlton, 3
20. Steve Carlton, 2	20. Steve Carlton, 2
21. Steve Carlton, 1	21. Steve Carlton, 1
22. Steve Carlton, 0	22. Steve Carlton, 0

Saviano ousts Lutz at Newport

By MIKE SZOSTAK

NEWPORT — Hank Pister was the prediction, and Nick Saviano made him a prophet.

Pister, the No. 5 seed in this week's $100,000 Miller Hall of Fame Tennis Championships, won his first-round match yesterday then forecast that only half of the eight seeded players would be around for the quarterfinals.

"This draw is the toughest ever at Newport. Any of these guys can beat you," Pister said after beating Terry Rocavert, 6-3, 7-5.

Enter Nick Saviano of Plantation, Fla., the 100th best player in the world. He rallied from a disheartening first-set loss and provided the first surprise of the tournament by upsetting seventh-seeded Bob Lutz, 6-7, 6-3, 7-6.

Six seeded players have advanced to the second round of play, which will begin today. Only Vijay Amritraj, the No. 4 seed, has yet to play his first-round match. Clouds that had threatened for much of the day to drench the crowd of 985 finally did after Colin Dibley had held his service against Amritraj in the first game of the first set of their match. They were scheduled to resume play today at noon. Three doubles matches were rescheduled for this afternoon.

SAVIANO ENJOYS twisting and turning to the nerve-numbing beat of disco, and he was on the verge of heading to the bar-laden Newport waterfront after 13 games and a tie-breaker against Lutz, No. 44 in the world.

Each recorded a service break in the first set, forcing the tie-breaker. Saviano won the first two points but then lost control of his volley, dropping three points, including the last, on poor volleys.

He served the first game of the second set and was cruising to a routine victory when disaster intervened. A double fault and a Lutz winner made it deuce. Saviano faced four break points and saved three, but he lost his serve when he netted a backhand volley.

Saviano did not fold, however, and broke back in the sixth game. That, he said, was the turning point of the match.

"I felt I had a chance to win the match after I broke him back in the second set. I felt pretty good. His second serve was shifting up a bit, and when I get a lot of chances like that, I feel pretty good," he said.

LUTZ WAS not serving well at all yesterday, and Saviano broke him again in the eighth game.

"Maybe Bob was tired. He and Stan Smith played in the Wimbledon doubles final and flew out the next day to come to Florida the next day, so I had a few days to rest," Saviano said.

In the third set each player managed to hold serve in the stiff breeze that blew the flags straight out all day. Lutz did have a break point in the eighth game, but he could not handle Saviano's left-handed slice serve. The game went to deuce twice before Saviano won when Lutz hit a return wide.

Saviano, who made the round of 16 at Wimbledon, dominated the deciding tie-breaker, winning six of the first seven points, including one on a lunging backhand cross-court volley for a winner. Lutz rallied for three points and stirred his fans, but he fell with a return that was wide.

ROCAVERT EXTENDED John McEnroe to five sets at Wimbledon, but he must have left his serve at the All England Club, for he did not have a break point against Pister. He double-faulted 10 times in the match.

"He helped me a lot with those double faults, and I was happy to see them," said Pister, who also advanced to the round-of-16 at Wimbledon.

Griffey's home run touched off a comeback that carried the National League to a 4-2 victory over the American League last night.

The N.L. won its ninth consecutive All-Star Game last night posting a 4-2 victory over the American League.

"It's easy now to draw lines between the leagues and say we're definitely better," said Pittsburgh pitcher Jim Bibby, who worked one inning and gave up a hit. "But we're both solid."

But to be honest, I think we've been a bit sharper. Maybe we just came up with better players."

Los Angeles outfielder Reggie Smith, who went hitless in two at-bats, echoed Bibby.

Only Tareyton has the best filter!

For a taste too good to be 5.

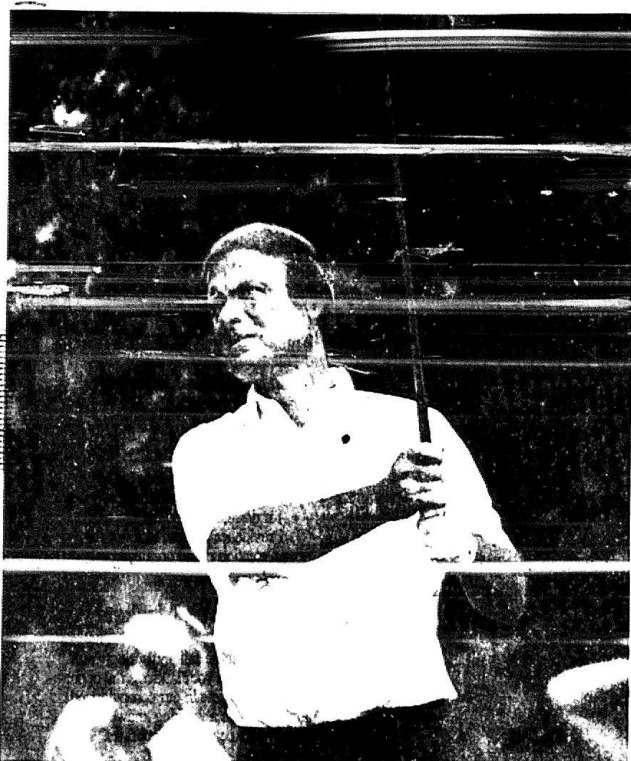

TAREYTON LIGHTS

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

5 mg "tar," 0.4 mg nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC method.

No evidence uncovered yet in alleged illegal sale of drugs to Phillies

Page B-9

CONCENTRATION Norm Lutz intently follows flight of ball after hitting tee shot on 15th hole in match against Amby Magiera yesterday in R.I. Amateur tournament at Wannamoisett

Steven Krasner

Big-league zanies abound in minors

On the long bus trips that minor-league baseball players take, the best way to pass the time is to swap stories about some of the crazy characters who have played the game.

Everybody has a favorite story. Dale Robertson's favorite is called The Human Sandwich.

When I was in Double A, we had two big guys named Frank Mannerino and Steve 'Bully' Eagan," said Robertson, the Pawtucket Red Sox trainer. "At the time, the trainers roomed with the players, and it was three to a room. I roomed with Frank and Bully. Well, we had two double beds and a cot, and we were supposed to take turns on the cot.

When it was Bully's turn for the cot, he refused. So Frank started getting on him. Bully was strong as an ox and as mean as a snake, and he just picked Frank up and body-slammed him onto the cot. Then he folded the cot up with Frank inside, just his head and his legs showing," Robertson said with a grin.

"Bully brought him out into the hallway, and all the guys had some fun with Frank. Then they put him in the elevator and sent him down to the lobby. Some kind person went him back up," said Robertson.

Mannerino and Eagan are not exactly household names. They never did make it up to the big leagues. They were major-league characters with minor-league baseball abilities.

Eagan, though, did have a legitimate shot at winning a spot with the Boston Red Sox as a bullpen coach. All he had to do during spring training in 1974 was make a favorable impression on Dick O'Connell, then Boston's general manager, and Eagan would be on his way to the majors.

'Wardrobe' flunks majors

The meeting was all arranged. O'Connell sat in his office, waiting to discuss the job with his new bullpen coach. That's when Eagan made his first mistake. He showed up.

"Bully was not what you'd call a good dresser," recalled Robertson. "He had two pairs of levis with holes in them and three gray T-shirts. The best part of his wardrobe was his uniform. It had a nice number on it."

"Well, he went into O'Connell's office. O'Connell took one look at Bully's wardrobe and said he couldn't take him to Boston because he'd be an embarrassment to the organization. That's how Bully lost his shot at the big time," added Robertson.

Some guys wind up more concerned with the prospects of doing hard time in a jail somewhere than making it to the big time.

Pawtucket first baseman John Doherty got involved in a barroom incident in Toledo that resulted in his arrest. He spent one night in the slammer before getting sprung, and he celebrated his freedom by belting two home runs in a game that day.

Tom Cason, a Double-A outfielder with a strong arm and a weak bat, had a scrape with the law in 1973. Actually, two scrapes on the same night.

"He got drunk one night and drove his car into the pillar that held up the canopy at a Howard Johnson's garage," said Pawtucket pitcher Jim Wright.

"Howard Johnson's wasn't going to press charges, but while they were getting things straightened out, the police came and saw this drunk guy (Cason) wandering around the parking lot, so they arrested him," said Robertson, picking up the story.

"They brought him down to the police station, and all of a sudden, Cason felt sick, so he went to the men's room and threw up. When he came back out, they arrested him again for escaping," added Robertson.

Eventually, Cason got bailed out, but the incident didn't go unnoticed in the Boston organization. "The next year was my first in spring training, and Sam Mele got us all together and told us he had something important to say," said Pawtucket outfielder Sam Bowen.

"He told us that we couldn't drive our cars while we were there, I thought that was strange," said Bowen. "Then I heard about the Cason story."

Not all the stories involve criminal charges. Some are just strange.

"Chris Coletta always had a bat in his hands," said Robertson. "Every night, he'd take that bat, stand in front of a mirror and swing the bat. One night we went up to Winnipeg, and they had those early Colonial beds, with posts. Coletta was lying in bed, grabbing the posts, and one came off."

When in slump, smash walls

So what did Coletta, an outstanding minor-league hitter, do then?

"He picked up the six-foot thing and started swinging it in front of a mirror," said Robertson. "But that was nothing compared to Eddie Ford's bat-swinging escapades. Whitey's kid, mired in a deep hitting slump when he was with Pawtucket in 1977, picked up a bat in his Bristol apartment and started banging it against the walls. It didn't help his batting average any, and it certainly didn't do much for the condition of the walls."

"Some people claim it's the pressures of the job that drive guys crazy enough to smash walls with baseball bats. A few 0-for-4 days and some guys go bananas. But baseball isn't totally to blame."

"Some of these guys," said Wright, "were nuts long before they got into baseball."

Sports

The Providence Journal, Thursday, July 10, 1980

Norm Lutz leads Amateur advance

By PAUL KENYON

EAST PROVIDENCE — It has happened before in the Rhode Island Golf Association Amateur Championship. Youngsters are dominating the tournament, but there is still one guy left holding up the honor of the old guard. The only "old" guy to reach the Club is a familiar one, too. Former champion Norm Lutz of Pawtucket, who says he is aged "49 and holding, just like I was 39 and holding for a long time, survived the first two rounds yesterday and moved into today's round of eight.

Also moving into the quarterfinals with him was 20-year-old Bill Reardon of Wannamoisett, who pulled off one of the day's major triumphs, staging a dramatic rally in the second round and eliminating the defending champion, Paul Petracca of West Warwick, 1 up. Another of the upset makers was Tom Weal of Woonsocket, 26, who ousted the medalist and tourney favorite, Brad Faxon, 3 and 2, in the first round, then survived a tough 19-hole battle with Peter Szok of Kirkbride in the second

THE OTHER survivors are Mark Battista of the host club, who at 30 is the second-oldest player left, Charlie Hayes of Woonsocket, Dave Dietz of Wannamoisett, John Rytacco of Metacomb and Jeff Herzog of Triggs.

Several of those still alive have been this far before. Battista, a salesman at the A.J. Oster/Fry Metals Co., has reached the quarterfinals a couple of times before. Hayes, the manager of a Newport lounge, was the runner-up to ago, and Rytacco, a lending specialist for Industrial National Bank, was in the finals at Pawtucket as a 16-year-old 10 years ago (where he lost to Lutz).

Still, the only real veteran around is Lutz. The smooth Pawtucket star is not about to concede the title to the kids, though.

"I'm in better shape than all those kids," Lutz joked after his day was finished. "I'm ready for them."

Lutz had to work hard in making it through the first day. He came from behind in the morning and edged Tony Iasa of Woonsocket in 20 holes. Lutz was two down through 13, but pulled even by winning 14 and 16. He stayed alive with a sensational par on the final hole. After what he said was a "terrible tee shot," he hit a 3-wood to the green, then a 5-iron to the hole.

play a safe shot over some trees. He was still 80 yards away in two on the 425-yard, par-four hole but hit a sand wedge within six feet and canned the putt, matching Iasa's par.

Transatlantic sailor rescued after storm dismantles her sloop

Page B-8

LUTZ WON it with a par on the second extra hole.

Magiera, a worker at General Dynamics at Quonset, was within one hole of Lutz through 12 in the second round. But Lutz won 13 with a birdie and 14 with a par for a three-hole advantage and was on his way to the quarterfinals.

His opponent this morning is Herzog, a

Herzog, one of the top players on the Ram golf team, knocked out two Wannamoisett players, Tom Goryl, 2 and 1, in the morning, and Rick Edwards by the same score in the second round. Perhaps the best play of the day was turned in by Weal, a former State Junior champion who went on to All-American honors while playing at the University of Pennsylvania. Weal, who has played the tournament only once in the last four years because of work commitments, was even-par for the 16 holes in outting Faxon in the morning. He then blew a two-hole lead with two to go against Szok in the afternoon, but won it with a par on the first extra hole.

HAYES, HELPED by some sunsh-

Rooney Quinn of West Warwick, 3 and 2 in the morning, then disposed of Paul Quigley, 5 and 3.

Reardon and Battista both won their second matches with late surges. Each won two down with three to go but won the last three for 1-up victories. Reardon won five holes in a six-hole stretch late in his second-round match as he stopped the courageous effort of Jerry Pascale, who was returning to action after suffering severe leg and wrist injuries in a motorcycle accident last year. 5 and 4. Dietz, at 18 the youngest player left, looked like a veteran leading almost all the way in both his matches.

First Round
Tom Weal, Woonsocket, def. Brad Faxon, RICC, 1 and 2.
Paul Petracca, West Warwick, def. Jim Chander, 1 and 2.
Mark Battista, Wannamoisett, def. Tom Goryl, 2 and 1.
Rick Edwards, Wannamoisett, def. John O'Neil, 2 and 1.
Jeff Herzog, Triggs, def. Tom Goryl, Wannamoisett, 2 and 1.
Norm Lutz, Pawtucket, def. Tony Iasa, Woonsocket, 1 and 2.
Tom Weal, Woonsocket, def. Brad Faxon, RICC, 1 and 2.
Paul Petracca, West Warwick, def. Jim Chander, 1 and 2.
Mark Battista, Wannamoisett, def. Tom Goryl, 2 and 1.
Rick Edwards, Wannamoisett, def. John O'Neil, 2 and 1.
Jeff Herzog, Triggs, def. Tom Goryl, Wannamoisett, 2 and 1.
Norm Lutz, Pawtucket, def. Tony Iasa, Woonsocket, 1 and 2.

Second Round
Battista def. Goryl, 2 and 1.
Herzog def. Edwards, 1 and 1.
Reardon def. Magiera, 2 and 1.
Mention of Petracca, 1 up.
Dietz def. Szok, 1 and 2.
Faxon def. Quigley, 5 and 3.
Cason def. Doherty, 3 and 2.

Quarterfinals
Lutz def. Szok, 1 and 2.
Herzog vs. Lutz.
Reardon vs. Dietz.
Battista vs. Dietz.

Three seeds fall in 'Hall' tennis

By JIM DONALDSON

NEWPORT — There'll be a new champion in the Miller Hall of Fame Tennis Championships.

Billy Martin made sure of that yesterday by knocking off defending champion Brian Troglo, 4-6, 7-5, 6-4, before a crowd of 1,975 at the Newport Casino.

Teacher, the second-seed, was one of three seeded players who were beaten yesterday.

Tim Gulikson, who won at Newport in '77 and was the third seed this year, was defeated by Andrew Pattison, 2-6, 6-3, 7-5, and sixth-seeded Peter Rennett was routed by Bernie Milton, the '78 Hall of Fame champion, 6-2, 6-1.

In other singles matches yesterday, fourth-seeded Vijay Amritraj, the '76 titlist, came from behind and defeated Dennis Ralston, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4 in a first-round match, and Nick Saviano, who had beaten seventh-seeded Bob Lutz in the first round, breezed past Robert Troglo, 6-3, 6-1.

In other doubles matches, the number one team of Lutz and Francisco Gonzalez slipped past Joel Bailey and John Whittinger, 6-7 (7-2), 7-6 (7-2), 6-4, and second-seeded Butch Walts and Pattison topped Jerry Van Lange and Terry Roccovert, 6-4, 7-6 (6-3).

Also yesterday, Martin and Russell Simpson topped Amritraj and Sandy Mayer, 6-3, 7-6 (7-3), 6-4. Hank Pfister and Bill Maze topped Dennis and Brad Dretwet, 6-4, 6-3, and Sashi Menon and Troglo beat Ferdi Taygan and Teacher, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.

IT WASN'T Teacher's day. He had all sorts of trouble against Martin — trouble with his footing, trouble with the sun, trouble with line judges and, most of all, trouble with his serve.

Teacher lost the second set when he double-faulted on the final point, then double-faulted twice in the final game of the third set, including on match point.

"He gave the match away with those double faults," Martin said. "If a big server is serving well, he can be tough as nails. But, if he's not serving well, he can be at a big disadvantage."

Pattison says that the Casino courts don't give the server the advantage he usually has on grass.

"This grass isn't fast, it's slow," Pattison said. "The second serve has a tendency to sit up and other guys has a real good shot at it. If you can make a good service return, you're going to be breaking a lot."

Service breaks enabled both Pattison and Martin to pull off upsets.

After having lost the first set, 6-2, and falling behind in the second, 2-1, Martin broke Teacher's serve twice and opened up a 5-3 lead.

Teacher evened the match at 5-5 by holding serve and breaking back, but lost it when Martin held serve in the 11th game, then broke him again in the 12th, thanks to the double fault.

Teacher again double-faulted in a crucial situation.

Pattison remained loose, even after losing the first set to Gulikson, 2-6, and falling behind in the third, 2-4, following a service break.

Instead of getting rattled after having lost his serve, Pattison was determined to break back.

Pattison got the points he wanted and broke Gulikson, then tied the match at 4-4 by holding his serve. It went to 5-5, then Pattison again broke Gulikson and well ahead, 6-5, then served out the match.

RESULTS, YESTERDAY
Singles
(Seeded in parentheses)
Vijay Amritraj, 4, def. Dennis Ralston, 1, 6-3, 6-1.
Bernie Milton, 2, def. Tim Gulikson, 1, 6-2, 6-1.
Andrew Pattison, 3, def. Brian Troglo, 4, 4-6, 7-5, 6-4.
Nick Saviano, 5, def. Bob Lutz, 6, 6-3, 6-1.
Peter Rennett, 6, def. Francisco Gonzalez, 7, 6-3, 6-1.
Joel Bailey and John Whittinger, 8, def. Lutz and Francisco Gonzalez, 6-7 (7-2), 7-6 (7-2), 6-4.
Butch Walts and Andrew Pattison, 9, def. Jerry Van Lange and Terry Roccovert, 6-4, 7-6 (6-3).
Dennis Ralston and Robert Troglo, 10, def. Sashi Menon and Brad Dretwet, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4.
Hank Pfister and Bill Maze, 11, def. Ferdi Taygan and Teacher, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.

First Round
Bob Lutz, Pawtucket, def. Tony Iasa, Woonsocket, 1 and 2.
Tom Weal, Woonsocket, def. Brad Faxon, RICC, 1 and 2.
Paul Petracca, West Warwick, def. Jim Chander, 1 and 2.
Mark Battista, Wannamoisett, def. Tom Goryl, 2 and 1.
Rick Edwards, Wannamoisett, def. John O'Neil, 2 and 1.
Jeff Herzog, Triggs, def. Tom Goryl, Wannamoisett, 2 and 1.
Norm Lutz, Pawtucket, def. Tony Iasa, Woonsocket, 1 and 2.
Tom Weal, Woonsocket, def. Brad Faxon, RICC, 1 and 2.
Paul Petracca, West Warwick, def. Jim Chander, 1 and 2.
Mark Battista, Wannamoisett, def. Tom Goryl, 2 and 1.
Rick Edwards, Wannamoisett, def. John O'Neil, 2 and 1.
Jeff Herzog, Triggs, def. Tom Goryl, Wannamoisett, 2 and 1.
Norm Lutz, Pawtucket, def. Tony Iasa, Woonsocket, 1 and 2.

Second Round
Battista def. Goryl, 2 and 1.
Herzog def. Edwards, 1 and 1.
Reardon def. Magiera, 2 and 1.
Mention of Petracca, 1 up.
Dietz def. Szok, 1 and 2.
Faxon def. Quigley, 5 and 3.
Cason def. Doherty, 3 and 2.

Quarterfinals
Lutz def. Szok, 1 and 2.
Herzog vs. Lutz.
Reardon vs. Dietz.
Battista vs. Dietz.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE
Singles
11:00 a.m. — Martin vs. Herzog, 1; Lutz vs. Szok, 2; Reardon vs. Dietz, 3; Battista vs. Edwards, 4; Amritraj vs. Ralston, 5; Milton vs. Gulikson, 6; Troglo vs. Saviano, 7; Gonzalez vs. Lutz, 8; Renett vs. Walts, 9; Walts vs. Pattison, 10; Patterson vs. Gulikson, 11; Gulikson vs. Patterson, 12.
1:00 p.m. — Martin vs. Herzog, 1; Lutz vs. Szok, 2; Reardon vs. Dietz, 3; Battista vs. Edwards, 4; Amritraj vs. Ralston, 5; Milton vs. Gulikson, 6; Troglo vs. Saviano, 7; Gonzalez vs. Lutz, 8; Renett vs. Walts, 9; Walts vs. Patterson, 10; Patterson vs. Gulikson, 11; Gulikson vs. Patterson, 12.

Ivy League says no to Army and Navy

BALTIMORE (AP) —

Army and Navy have been rebuffed in their efforts to join the Ivy League, according to Capt. J.O. "Bo" Coppedge, the athletic director at Navy.

"I don't think the Ivy League athletic directors had enough time to think about our proposal to join," Coppedge said in a Baltimore Sun story published yesterday.

"I think the main reason we were turned down," Coppedge said, "was that some of the Ivy League athletic directors felt that all of their scholarships are given because of need and we don't have exactly the same scholarship requirements, although we are very much alike academically."

Coppedge said he didn't know if the rejection, was temporary or permanent, and added, "It still is interesting to joining the Ivy League and probably will apply again in the future, but I don't know right now when that will be."

At the game, time Coppedge said Navy would not be interested in joining a proposed football conference of major Eastern independents.

He has so many traditional games now — Army, Air Force, Notre Dame and several other several other schools he like to play — that joining a conference wouldn't be in Navy's best interests."

Carlton is lowest.

Carlton Box — lowest of all brands. Less than 0.01 mg. tar, 0.002 mg. nic.

Carlton 100's Box — lowest of all 100's. 1 mg. tar, 0.1 mg. nic.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

Low tar: less than 0.01 mg. tar, 0.002 mg. nicotine.
100's Box: 1 mg. tar, 0.1 mg. nicotine per cigarette by FTC method.
Soft Pack: 1 mg. tar, 0.1 mg. nicotine per cigarette by FTC method.
0.5 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette, FTC Report Dec. '78.

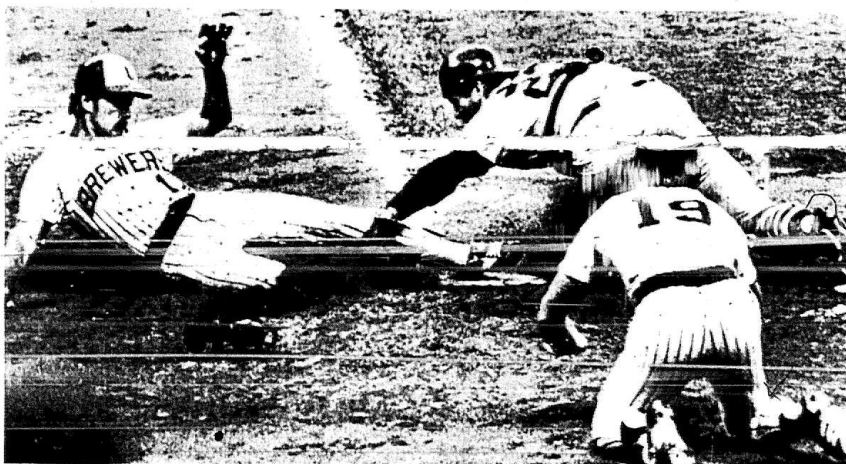

Ron Streck fires a 65, takes 1st-round lead in Milwaukee Open

Page B-3

Sports

The Providence Journal, Section B — Friday, July 11, 1980

Uihlein wins N.E. golf... B-3
Alcott, Moxness lead Women's Open... B-3
PawSox win, 4-0... B-5
Accent... B-6
TV listings... B-8
Financial... B-9

OUT AT THE PLATE: Milwaukee's Jim Gantner is tagged by Carlton Fisk of Boston in fifth inning of first game. —AP Photo

Battista, Hayes gain golf final

By PAUL KENYON
Journal-Bulletin Sports Writer

EAST PROVIDENCE — They have been among the top golfers in Rhode Island for nearly a decade, but neither Mark Battista nor Charlie Hayes ever has won a major statewide tournament.

Until today, that is. By Sunday, one of them will be the new R.I. Golf Association Amateur champion.

The two young veterans advanced to the 36-hole title match by posting two victories each yesterday at the Wannamoisett Country Club.

Neither had it easy. Battista, playing on his home course, had to sink two long, curling putts to stay alive against Tom Weal of Woonsocket in their quarterfinal match before finally stopping Weal on the 20th hole. In the afternoon, the 30-year-old Battista knocked out the last of the former champions, Norm Lutz of Pawtucket, 3 and 2.

Hayes, 28, a member at both Newport and Wannamoisett, came from behind in taking out 18-year-old Dave Dietz of Wannamoisett, 3 and 1, in the morning, then held off another player from the host club, Bill Reardon, 2 and 1 in the semis.

IT WILL BE the second trip to the finals for Hayes. He lost to Stan Abrams in the title match in 1975. He has been a challenger several other times, too, including four years ago when he lost to Marc St. Martin in a quarterfinal match when St. Martin was on his way to the championship.

That same year, St. Martin beat Battista in the semifinals. Like Hayes, Battista also has been among the contenders

Neither finalist lacks for confidence. "I don't know if I've been a threat in other people's minds, but I've always thought in my own mind I could win it," Hayes says.

"I've been close before, but I came in this year playing well. And with the tournament at my home course, where I know it so well, I really thought I had a shot this year," Battista says.

BOTH HAVE BEEN right so far. In fact, all eight players involved in the action yesterday staged what was the best golf in the tournament all week.

Hayes, 28, a member at both Newport and Wannamoisett, came from behind in taking out 18-year-old Dave Dietz of Wannamoisett, 3 and 1, in the morning, then held off another player from the host club, Bill Reardon, 2 and 1 in the semis.

That same year, St. Martin beat Battista in the semifinals. Like Hayes, Battista also has been among the contenders

Neither finalist lacks for confidence. "I don't know if I've been a threat in other people's minds, but I've always thought in my own mind I could win it," Hayes says.

Neither finalist lacks for confidence. "I don't know if I've been a threat in other people's minds, but I've always thought in my own mind I could win it," Hayes says.

Neither finalist lacks for confidence. "I don't know if I've been a threat in other people's minds, but I've always thought in my own mind I could win it," Hayes says.

Battista staged what might have been the best match of the tournament against Weal. Weal was one up through 16, before Battista tied the match on the next hole by canning a twisting, 25-foot putt for a birdie.

On the first extra hole, Battista dropped another twisting putt, this one from 10 feet, matching Weal's par and staying alive. Battista won it with a par on the 20th hole.

Lutz advanced opposite Battista by rallying from a two-hole deficit with three to play against Jeff Herzog of Triggs.

Against Battista, THOUGH, Lutz ran out of gas. He fell behind early by three holes, won three in a row and pulled even, including the 18-yard seventh hole when he came within a foot of a hole-in-one, but then had putting woes. Lutz, rated by many the top putter in the state, missed short putts on the ninth, 11th, 12th and 13th holes. He lost two of those holes and had to settle for halves on the other two.

Hayes, who works evenings managing a Newport lounge and has been playing with only several hours sleep in each of the last few evenings, had two strong rounds. He fell behind by two holes against Dietz in the quarterfinals, but then captured two holes in a row (seventh and eighth) with birdies, pulling even. He took the triumph with pars on the 11th, 12th and 13th holes. He lost two of those holes and had to settle for halves on the other two.

Against the long-hitting Reardon, Hayes canned a 30-foot birdie putt on the 33rd and 11th hole to go two-up, watched Reardon drop a 15-footer for a birdie, closing the gap to one again at the 14th, then won the 16th with a par to Reardon's bogey. Wannamoisett 17th is halved with bogeys, Hayes had the berth in the finals with Battista.

Mark Battista, Wannamoisett, of Tom Weal, Woonsocket, 3 and 2.
Norm Lutz, Pawtucket, of Jeff Herzog, Triggs, 1 and 1.
Bill Reardon, Wannamoisett, of John Riccio, Pawtucket, 3 and 1.
Charlie Hayes, Wannamoisett, of Dave Dietz, Wannamoisett, 3 and 1.

SEMI-FINALS
Battista of Reardon, 2 and 1.
Hayes of Dietz, 3 and 1.
Battista vs. Hayes, 8 a.m.

QUARTER-FINALS
Mark Battista, Wannamoisett, of Tom Weal, Woonsocket, 3 and 2.
Norm Lutz, Pawtucket, of Jeff Herzog, Triggs, 1 and 1.
Bill Reardon, Wannamoisett, of John Riccio, Pawtucket, 3 and 1.
Charlie Hayes, Wannamoisett, of Dave Dietz, Wannamoisett, 3 and 1.

SEMI-FINALS
Battista of Reardon, 2 and 1.
Hayes of Dietz, 3 and 1.
Battista vs. Hayes, 8 a.m.

QUARTER-FINALS
Mark Battista, Wannamoisett, of Tom Weal, Woonsocket, 3 and 2.
Norm Lutz, Pawtucket, of Jeff Herzog, Triggs, 1 and 1.
Bill Reardon, Wannamoisett, of John Riccio, Pawtucket, 3 and 1.
Charlie Hayes, Wannamoisett, of Dave Dietz, Wannamoisett, 3 and 1.

SEMI-FINALS
Battista of Reardon, 2 and 1.
Hayes of Dietz, 3 and 1.
Battista vs. Hayes, 8 a.m.

QUARTER-FINALS
Mark Battista, Wannamoisett, of Tom Weal, Woonsocket, 3 and 2.
Norm Lutz, Pawtucket, of Jeff Herzog, Triggs, 1 and 1.
Bill Reardon, Wannamoisett, of John Riccio, Pawtucket, 3 and 1.
Charlie Hayes, Wannamoisett, of Dave Dietz, Wannamoisett, 3 and 1.

SEMI-FINALS
Battista of Reardon, 2 and 1.
Hayes of Dietz, 3 and 1.
Battista vs. Hayes, 8 a.m.

QUARTER-FINALS
Mark Battista, Wannamoisett, of Tom Weal, Woonsocket, 3 and 2.
Norm Lutz, Pawtucket, of Jeff Herzog, Triggs, 1 and 1.
Bill Reardon, Wannamoisett, of John Riccio, Pawtucket, 3 and 1.
Charlie Hayes, Wannamoisett, of Dave Dietz, Wannamoisett, 3 and 1.

SEMI-FINALS
Battista of Reardon, 2 and 1.
Hayes of Dietz, 3 and 1.
Battista vs. Hayes, 8 a.m.

staying alive. Battista won it with a par on the 20th hole.

Lutz advanced opposite Battista by rallying from a two-hole deficit with three to play against Jeff Herzog of Triggs.

Against Battista, THOUGH, Lutz ran out of gas. He fell behind early by three holes, won three in a row and pulled even, including the 18-yard seventh hole when he came within a foot of a hole-in-one, but then had putting woes. Lutz, rated by many the top putter in the state, missed short putts on the ninth, 11th, 12th and 13th holes. He lost two of those holes and had to settle for halves on the other two.

Hayes, who works evenings managing a Newport lounge and has been playing with only several hours sleep in each of the last few evenings, had two strong rounds. He fell behind by two holes against Dietz in the quarterfinals, but then captured two holes in a row (seventh and eighth) with birdies, pulling even. He took the triumph with pars on the 11th, 12th and 13th holes. He lost two of those holes and had to settle for halves on the other two.

Against the long-hitting Reardon, Hayes canned a 30-foot birdie putt on the 33rd and 11th hole to go two-up, watched Reardon drop a 15-footer for a birdie, closing the gap to one again at the 14th, then won the 16th with a par to Reardon's bogey. Wannamoisett 17th is halved with bogeys, Hayes had the berth in the finals with Battista.

Mark Battista, Wannamoisett, of Tom Weal, Woonsocket, 3 and 2.
Norm Lutz, Pawtucket, of Jeff Herzog, Triggs, 1 and 1.
Bill Reardon, Wannamoisett, of John Riccio, Pawtucket, 3 and 1.
Charlie Hayes, Wannamoisett, of Dave Dietz, Wannamoisett, 3 and 1.

SEMI-FINALS
Battista of Reardon, 2 and 1.
Hayes of Dietz, 3 and 1.
Battista vs. Hayes, 8 a.m.

QUARTER-FINALS
Mark Battista, Wannamoisett, of Tom Weal, Woonsocket, 3 and 2.
Norm Lutz, Pawtucket, of Jeff Herzog, Triggs, 1 and 1.
Bill Reardon, Wannamoisett, of John Riccio, Pawtucket, 3 and 1.
Charlie Hayes, Wannamoisett, of Dave Dietz, Wannamoisett, 3 and 1.

SEMI-FINALS
Battista of Reardon, 2 and 1.
Hayes of Dietz, 3 and 1.
Battista vs. Hayes, 8 a.m.

QUARTER-FINALS
Mark Battista, Wannamoisett, of Tom Weal, Woonsocket, 3 and 2.
Norm Lutz, Pawtucket, of Jeff Herzog, Triggs, 1 and 1.
Bill Reardon, Wannamoisett, of John Riccio, Pawtucket, 3 and 1.
Charlie Hayes, Wannamoisett, of Dave Dietz, Wannamoisett, 3 and 1.

SEMI-FINALS
Battista of Reardon, 2 and 1.
Hayes of Dietz, 3 and 1.
Battista vs. Hayes, 8 a.m.

QUARTER-FINALS
Mark Battista, Wannamoisett, of Tom Weal, Woonsocket, 3 and 2.
Norm Lutz, Pawtucket, of Jeff Herzog, Triggs, 1 and 1.
Bill Reardon, Wannamoisett, of John Riccio, Pawtucket, 3 and 1.
Charlie Hayes, Wannamoisett, of Dave Dietz, Wannamoisett, 3 and 1.

SEMI-FINALS
Battista of Reardon, 2 and 1.
Hayes of Dietz, 3 and 1.
Battista vs. Hayes, 8 a.m.

QUARTER-FINALS
Mark Battista, Wannamoisett, of Tom Weal, Woonsocket, 3 and 2.
Norm Lutz, Pawtucket, of Jeff Herzog, Triggs, 1 and 1.
Bill Reardon, Wannamoisett, of John Riccio, Pawtucket, 3 and 1.
Charlie Hayes, Wannamoisett, of Dave Dietz, Wannamoisett, 3 and 1.

SEMI-FINALS
Battista of Reardon, 2 and 1.
Hayes of Dietz, 3 and 1.
Battista vs. Hayes, 8 a.m.

QUARTER-FINALS
Mark Battista, Wannamoisett, of Tom Weal, Woonsocket, 3 and 2.
Norm Lutz, Pawtucket, of Jeff Herzog, Triggs, 1 and 1.
Bill Reardon, Wannamoisett, of John Riccio, Pawtucket, 3 and 1.
Charlie Hayes, Wannamoisett, of Dave Dietz, Wannamoisett, 3 and 1.

SEMI-FINALS
Battista of Reardon, 2 and 1.
Hayes of Dietz, 3 and 1.
Battista vs. Hayes, 8 a.m.

Red Sox split with Brewers

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Fred Lynn drove in four runs with two home runs and a sacrifice fly and Steve Renko and Bob Stanley combined on a five-hit effort, giving the Boston Red Sox a 7-0 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers in the second game last night for a split of their twilight doubleheader.

In the opener, Gorman Thomas' run-scoring single in the eighth inning broke a 1-1 tie and gave the Brewers a 2-1 victory behind the four-hit pitching of Reggie Cleveland.

Renko, now 5-2, worked the first eight innings and allowed only four singles and one walk. Stanley finished up, allowing one hit, Larry Sorensen, 7-5, lasted just 2 1/2 innings and took the loss.

In the first inning, Dave Stapleton doubled and Lynn hit a two-run homer, making the score 2-0. The Sox' center fielder, playing in his first league game since last Wednesday, drove in Rick Burleson with a sacrifice fly in the sixth inning, then hit his 10th homer of the season, a solo shot, in the ninth.

Boston scored its other runs on a run-scoring double by Dwight Evans in the second, an RBI single by Carlton Fisk (who played left field in the nightcap) in the third and a run-scoring single by Burleson in the fourth.

IN THE FIRST game, Thomas' single drove in pinch-runner Ed Romero with the winning run. Romero, running for Don Money, who had walked, moved to second on a single by Cecil Cooper.

Cleveland, now 7-4, won his fourth game in five starts since moving into the starting rotation June 16. He allowed four hits and two walks in beating Mike Torrez, 4-9, who allowed seven hits.

Boston scored in the second when Fisk singled, stole second base and hit. Milwaukee was striking out, and scored on Stapleton's two-out double to left. Milwaukee tied it in the fifth when Jim Gantner singled home Dick Davis from second.

The undermanned Sox suffered another blow during the opener when Jerry Remy was injured and had to leave the game. Remy suffered a knee injury while sliding into second base and had to be helped off the field. It could not be determined immediately if he had re-injured the knee he hurt last year in New York, an injury that forced him to miss the second half of the 1979 season.

THERE WAS no word on the injury, but Remy was seen sitting in uniform on the bench during the second game, although he did not play.

With the injury to Remy, manager Don Zimmer had only 21 players available for duty in the second game. Boston has only 24 players on its active roster since pitcher Chuck Rainey was placed on the 21-day disabled list Wednesday because of a torn flexor muscle in his right elbow. Also, pitcher Skip Lockwood (hairline rib fracture) and Carl Yastrzemski (back spasms) are in Boston for medical treatments.

10-run rally lifts Yanks

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — The New York Yankees scored 10 runs in the first inning, the largest rally this season, en route to a 13-5 thrashing of the Texas Rangers last night.

Reggie Jackson doubled home two of the runs in the first inning, and also hit a two-run homer run later in the game. Graig Nettles hit a two-run homer in the first and tied Brooks Robinson for most career home runs (256) by an American League third baseman.

Ron Guidry, 4-0, allowed 10 hits in six innings in posting the victory. Ferguson Jenkins, 7-7, faced nine batters in the game and retired only one.

Willie Randolph and Bobby Murcer opened the first with singles and Nettles walked, leading the bases. Jackson then doubled off the wall, scoring two runs, and Oscar Gamble singled in a run before Jim Spencer made the first out of the inning.

Ruppert Jones, making his first start since May 20, was intentionally walked, leading the bases. Randolph and Cerone walked, driving in the fourth run.

Bucky Dent singled in two runs, making the score 6-0 and leading Jenkins out of the game. Randolph made it 7-0 with a sacrifice fly and Murcer singled, driving in another run. Nettles drove in the final two runs with his homer.

Jackson's homer, his 21st, came in the first inning. Randolph singled. Spencer added a solo home run in the sixth.

Richie Zisk hit his 13th homer for Texas.

Final Game

	BOSTON	MILWAUKEE
Batter	1. Lynn	1. Torrez
Pitcher	2. Renko	2. Cleveland
Fielder	3. Stanley	3. Davis
Outfielder	4. Fisk	4. Gantner
Center	5. Evans	5. Fisk
First	6. Sorensen	6. Burleson
Second	7. Burleson	7. Burleson
Third	8. Burleson	8. Burleson
Fourth	9. Burleson	9. Burleson
Fifth	10. Burleson	10. Burleson
Sixth	11. Burleson	11. Burleson
Seventh	12. Burleson	12. Burleson
Eighth	13. Burleson	13. Burleson
Ninth	14. Burleson	14. Burleson
Ten	15. Burleson	15. Burleson
Eleven	16. Burleson	16. Burleson
Twelve	17. Burleson	17. Burleson
Thirteen	18. Burleson	18. Burleson
Fourteen	19. Burleson	19. Burleson
Fifteen	20. Burleson	20. Burleson
Sixteen	21. Burleson	21. Burleson
Seventeen	22. Burleson	22. Burleson
Eighteen	23. Burleson	23. Burleson
Nineteen	24. Burleson	24. Burleson
Twenty	25. Burleson	25. Burleson
Twenty-one	26. Burleson	26. Burleson
Twenty-two	27. Burleson	27. Burleson
Twenty-three	28. Burleson	28. Burleson
Twenty-four	29. Burleson	29. Burleson
Twenty-five	30. Burleson	30. Burleson

Second Game

	BOSTON	MILWAUKEE
Batter	1. Lynn	1. Torrez
Pitcher	2. Renko	2. Cleveland
Fielder	3. Stanley	3. Davis
Outfielder	4. Fisk	4. Gantner
Center	5. Evans	5. Fisk
First	6. Sorensen	6. Burleson
Second	7. Burleson	7. Burleson
Third	8. Burleson	8. Burleson
Fourth	9. Burleson	9. Burleson
Fifth	10. Burleson	10. Burleson
Sixth	11. Burleson	11. Burleson
Seventh	12. Burleson	12. Burleson
Eighth	13. Burleson	13. Burleson
Ninth	14. Burleson	14. Burleson
Ten	15. Burleson	15. Burleson
Eleven	16. Burleson	16. Burleson
Twelve	17. Burleson	17. Burleson
Thirteen	18. Burleson	18. Burleson
Fourteen	19. Burleson	19. Burleson
Fifteen	20. Burleson	20. Burleson
Sixteen	21. Burleson	21. Burleson
Seventeen	22. Burleson	22. Burleson
Eighteen	23. Burleson	23. Burleson
Nineteen	24. Burleson	24. Burleson
Twenty	25. Burleson	25. Burleson
Twenty-one	26. Burleson	26. Burleson
Twenty-two	27. Burleson	27. Burleson
Twenty-three	28. Burleson	28. Burleson
Twenty-four	29. Burleson	29. Burleson
Twenty-five	30. Burleson	30. Burleson

Final Game

	BOSTON	MILWAUKEE
Batter	1. Lynn	1. Torrez
Pitcher	2. Renko	2. Cleveland
Fielder	3. Stanley	3. Davis
Outfielder	4. Fisk	4. Gantner
Center	5. Evans	5. Fisk
First	6. Sorensen	6. Burleson
Second	7. Burleson	7. Burleson
Third	8. Burleson	8. Burleson
Fourth	9. Burleson	9. Burleson
Fifth	10. Burleson	10. Burleson
Sixth	11. Burleson	11. Burleson
Seventh	12. Burleson	12. Burleson
Eighth	13. Burleson	13. Burleson
Ninth	14. Burleson	14. Burleson
Ten	15. Burleson	15. Burleson
Eleven	16. Burleson	16. Burleson
Twelve	17. Burleson	17. Burleson
Thirteen	18. Burleson	18. Burleson
Fourteen	19. Burleson	19. Burleson
Fifteen	20. Burleson	20. Burleson
Sixteen	21. Burleson	21. Burleson
Seventeen	22. Burleson	22. Burleson
Eighteen	23. Burleson	23. Burleson
Nineteen	24. Burleson	24. Burleson
Twenty	25. Burleson	25. Burleson
Twenty-one	26. Burleson	26. Burleson
Twenty-two	27. Burleson	27. Burleson
Twenty-three	28. Burleson	28. Burleson
Twenty-four	29. Burleson	29. Burleson
Twenty-five	30. Burleson	30. Burleson

Second Game

	BOSTON	MILWAUKEE
Batter	1. Lynn	1. Torrez
Pitcher	2. Renko	2. Cleveland
Fielder	3. Stanley	3. Davis
Outfielder	4. Fisk	4. Gantner
Center	5. Evans	5. Fisk
First	6. Sorensen	6. Burleson
Second	7. Burleson	7. Burleson
Third	8. Burleson	8. Burleson
Fourth	9. Burleson	9. Burleson
Fifth	10. Burleson	10. Burleson
Sixth	11. Burleson	11. Burleson
Seventh	12. Burleson	12. Burleson
Eighth	13. Burleson	13. Burleson
Ninth	14. Burleson	14. Burleson
Ten	15. Burleson	15. Burleson
Eleven	16. Burleson	16. Burleson
Twelve	17. Burleson	17. Burleson
Thirteen	18. Burleson	18. Burleson
Fourteen	19. Burleson	19. Burleson
Fifteen	20. Burleson	20. Burleson
Sixteen	21. Burleson	21. Burleson
Seventeen	22. Burleson	22. Burleson
Eighteen	23. Burleson	23. Burleson
Nineteen	24. Burleson	24. Burleson
Twenty	25. Burleson	25. Burleson
Twenty-one	26. Burleson	26. Burleson
Twenty-two	27. Burleson	27. Burleson
Twenty-three	28. Burleson	28. Burleson
Twenty-four	29. Burleson	29. Burleson
Twenty-five	30. Burleson	30. Burleson

Final Game

	BOSTON	MILWAUKEE
Batter	1. Lynn	1. Torrez
Pitcher	2. Renko	2. Cleveland
Fielder	3. Stanley	3. Davis
Outfielder	4. Fisk	4. Gantner
Center	5. Evans	5. Fisk
First	6. Sorensen	6. Burleson
Second	7. Burleson	7. Burleson
Third	8. Burleson	8. Burleson
Fourth	9. Burleson	9. Burleson
Fifth	10. Burleson	10. Burleson
Sixth	11. Burleson	11. Burleson
Seventh	12. Burleson	12. Burleson
Eighth	13. Burleson	13. Burleson
Ninth	14. Burleson	14. Burleson
Ten	15. Burleson	15. Burleson
Eleven	16. Burleson	16. Burleson
Twelve	17. Burleson	17. Burleson
Thirteen	18. Burleson	18. Burleson
Fourteen	19. Burleson	19. Burleson
Fifteen	20. Burleson	20. Burleson
Sixteen	21. Burleson	21. Burleson
Seventeen	22. Burleson	22. Burleson
Eighteen	23. Burleson	23. Burleson
Nineteen	24. Burleson	24. Burleson
Twenty	25. Burleson	25. Burleson
Twenty-one	26. Burleson	26. Burleson
Twenty-two	27. Burleson	27. Burleson
Twenty-three	28. Burleson	28. Burleson
Twenty-four	29. Burleson	29. Burleson
Twenty-five	30. Burleson	30. Burleson

Second Game

West.

